BLACK PROGRAM

Afro-American Studies Working

By BRUCE COLEMAN
(First of three articles)

"What did you hear?" the soft-spoken black professor asked.

"Do you think man should have a belief in something that doesn't work for him?" the professor asked another student.

"No," a student answered.

"What did you hear?" the teacher asked again.

"I felt about my life," a Caucasion girl said haltingly, "what they have and what I have. It's sort of the naked truth. I had guilt feelings."

"What did you hear?"

This time a black student replied: "I heard the humiliation that black people have been subjected to. We're second class citizens. White people say 'they' referring to black people. Up until about a year ago I believed all the —. the racist propaganda. I'm still conditioned with a lot of it."

"If you force someone to be like a dog, you turn into a dog," commented another black student.

It is part of the Afro-American studies program, started last September, which includes six courses, all taught by Negroes. The classes are in art, English, music, sociology, history and American studies.

He arrived late to class, apologized, saying he had to come from across the bay and began running a tape. The tape, "The Diary of a Harlem Family," was by writer-photographer Gordon Parks.

In sensitive prose, Parks tells how the family gives up going to church, how it feels when life goes nowhere and, in describing the tenement, says:

"Now and then a good starched dress hangs above the head like a flower above a weed patch."

While running the tape, Butler printed a quote from Parks on the blackboard in neat capital letters:

WHAT HE WANTS
WHAT HE IS
WHAT YOU FORCE HIM TO BE
IS WHAT YOU ARE

Butler made no comment on the statement.

"Why has it taken so long for blacks to rebel?" a white student asked. "There is a history of black protest," replied Butler.

Commented Butler: "Equality, balance. White man says he's superior. Black man says he's inferior. The system feeds off that concept. If a white man says 'I'm not superior,' this is to destroy the balance. With imbalance you get rebellion."

"What did you hear?" the teacher continued.

"I haven't gone hungry but I have lived in Harlem and I was taken back by hearing the tape," said a black woman.

"The rebellion is already here. It's outside," said a white student, a moment later. "College of Marin is mellow compared to a four-year college or university."

"Are the same forces at San Francisco State the same forces as here?" Butler inquired.

"Yes," said a white student. "When demands were made (here), the demands were met."

The students spoke of change

Nixon And Trudeau Discuss ABM Issue

Canadian Leader Raises Questions In State Visit

U.S. plans to construct its first two major missile sites near the Canadian border has raised strong questions and parliamentary debate in Canada.

Aides said Trudeau got from Nixon the fill-in that he had wanted. However, there were no details given on the discussions, which ranged over a wide field from Vietnam to oil and wheat trade.

After the private talks, in Nixon's office, the two men joined their top officials in the Cabinet room for acother 45 minutes of discussions.

Nixon had stressed the common ties of friendship binding the two countries as he welcomed his first official visitor.

Rain forced the welcoming ceremonies indoors. But there were trumpet flourishes and a military honor guard lining the driveway as the 49-year-old bachelor prime minister arrived at the White House to begin talks with Nixon and a round of social activities.

Nixon said the friendship of many years between Canada and the United States does not stem from a totality of agreements, but "lively diversity" is the hallmark of that friendship.

Nixon said there might be some differences but, as friends, the two countries can discuss them "and find in most instances a common ground," that may provide an even better solution.

Trudeau, making his first official visit here, expressed thanks for "the very cordial welcome" and said he appreciates Nixon according him this honor.

He, too, stressed the "very many ties that link us."

Trudeau said he is looking forward to a discussion with Nixon of matters of mutual interest and getting Nixon's views on world problems.

In addition to the ABM discussions, the two days of talks are expected to involve Canada's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other matters of continental defense.

Sirhan Jury May Hear Trance Tape

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A tape recording of Sirhan B. Sirhan reenacting under hypnosis the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—down to the squeezing of an imaginary trigger—may be introduced at his trial this week.

The defense would like to offer the recording into evidence to bolster its contention Sirhan was mentally ill when he shot Kennedy and therefore should not be sent to the gas chamber.

PROSECUTION'S GOAL

The prosecution, in its quest for the death penalty, is attempting to prove Sirhan was capable of premeditating the shooting of Kennedy. It therefore would strenuously oppose introduction of the tape.

Dr. Bernard Diamond, the psychiatrist who hypnotized Sirhan in his jail cell, was to continue testimony today for the defense. Using the technique of age regression, Diamond led the 25-year-old Arab immigrant through the events of the assassintion.

Sirhan has contended on the witness stand he cannot remember shooting Kennedy. The first thing he recalled after blacking out was being choked. The tape of the hypnotic sessions ends with Sirhan reliving the actual shooting. There is a pause, then Sirhan gasps in pain, as if somebody had his hands around his neck.

Chief Defense Attorney Grant B. Cooper would like to have Diamond hypnotize Sirhan again in court and reenact the assassination before the jury, but it was unlikely Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker would agree.

TRANCE CLAIM

Diamond, a professor in law, criminology and psychiatry at the University of California at Berkeley, said Friday Sirhan went into a trance at the Ambassador Hotel shortly before the slaying June 5, 1968.

Sirhan, gazing into the lights of a chandelier in the floor to ceiling mirrors of the Ambassador's Versailles Room, in effect hypnotized himself and went into a "disassociated state" where the bad side of his "Jekyll and Hyde personality" took over, Diamond said.

Diamond believes the trance was similar to ones Sirhan induced in the bedroom of his Pasadena home when he sat in front of a mirror with a candle before his face.

Ex-College Science Leader Wilson Dies

PAUL T. WILSON
Teacher of thousands

Wilson, 71, retired as head of the College of Marin's life sciences department in 1963 after teaching there since 1932. He first taught at the college when it was only nine years old and during his 31 years as one of the college's most popular professors, he taught classes in human physiology, anatomy, geology, physical geography, helath education and photography. He was named head of the life sciences department in 1946.

A devotee of nature and nature education, Wilson was active in the Marin Conservation League, the Marin Nature Group, the Sierra Club, Western Botanists and the Audubon Society.

A strong backer of creation of the Point Reyes National Seashore, he served as a director of the Point Reyes Seashore Foundation. He also served as a ranger naturalist for several summers in such national parks as Yosemite, Sequoia and Olympia and worked one summer at the Rocky Mountain Biology station near Gunnison, Colo.

Born in 1898, Wilson was reared in the Yakima Valley of Washington where his father had homesteaded. He served in the Army's veterinary corps in World War I and served nine months in France, although he never got in the fighting.

After the war, Wilson earned his bachelor's degree from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash. He then attended summer school at Friday Harbor in the San Juan Islands of Puget Sound and studied under renowned ecologist Victor Shelford. It was during this time that Wilson published his first of dozens of scientific papers which ranged from the distribution of clams — the subject of that first paper — to the health characteristics of twins.

Later, Wilson received his master and Ph.D. degrees in zoology from the University of California at Berkeley where he also taught for two years while working for his doctoral degree.

Widespread Shooting On Suez Canal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian and Israeli artillery and tanks battled along a 72-mile stretch of the Suez Canal today. Israeli military sources said Arab oil refineries were set ablaze and Egyptian artillery emplacements knocked out.

New fighting also broke out along the Israeli-Jordanian frontier and the two sides fought a 70-minute machinegun battle near the Sea of Galilee. No Jordanian casualties were reported but a spokesman in Amman said the Israelis were seen removing three casualties.

EGYPT BLAMED

It was the first major fight across the Suez Canal in six days and an Israeli military spokesman said the Egyptians started the shooting, taking advantage of the first clear weather in several days to open up on the heavily sandbagged Israeli bunkers constructed along the east bank of the canal on the fringes of the Sinai Desert.

An Israeli spokesman said "numerous" Egyptian oil refineries and artillery positions were battered, but he declined to say exactly which refineries were hit. Most of them are at the Suez end of the canal and they were set on fire in a battle a few weeks ago.

While fighting raged across the 103-mile long waterway, major political upheavals were taking place in Jordan and in Syria.

CABINET SHUFFLE

King Hussein reshuffled his cabinet so he could install a Jordanian premier more agreeable to a political settlement of the Middle East crisis.

Premier Bahjwt Talhouni resigned and Foreign Minister Abdel Moneim Rifai began choosing a new cabinet. Hussein was believed amenable to some kind of negotiations with Israel but many elements in his country favored a more warlike approach.

Beirut dispatches said the power struggle within the Syrian ruling Baath party entered a crucial stage today at the party congress in Damascus.

Statewide Property Tax To Aid Schools?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An unusual plan for a statewide property tax for schools — directly aiding private as well as public school children — was introduced today by Republican Assemblyman William Campbell of Hacienda Heights (Los Angeles County.)

His legislation would tax business property more heavily than homeowners. And the businesses would include publicly owned utilities such as the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

"I speculate we would see a general reduction in the cost of education today and an improvement in the quality of education," Campbell told a news conference. He said his proposed constitutional amendment and accompanying bill would force public schools to compete with private education in new, improved programs.

Campbell said his plan probably would need to raise "in excess of $3.3 billion." The legislature would set the tax rates, but local school districts could still submit special tax rate increases to voters.

He said residences might be taxed at one-third the rate for businesses.

His plan calls for the state to give vouchers to some five million children from kindergarten through the twelfth grade. The amount of the voucher would be the average cost of education per child in each grade.

The children then would turn the vouchers in to either public or private schools. The schools would send the vouchers into the state and recive their state aid.

Campbell was asked if state aid to private or church-sponsored schools would be unconstitutional.

He said his plan would not subsidize schools directly but would aid children. He noted that the federal G.I. Bill gives aid directly to veterans to attend private as well as public colleges and universities.

Highest Court Orders Eavesdropping Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that James R. Hoffa, imprisoned Teamsters union chief, and former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay are entitled to lower court review of their claims that they were victims of illegal federal eavesdropping.

On the basis of its recent wiretapping decision, the Court also ordered similar rehearings in about 13 other federal cases. Despite the rehearing order, there was no indication that Hoffa, now serving an eight-year penitentiary sentence, would be allowed his freedom while the lower court proceedings are conducted.

Clay, convicted of refusing to report for draft induction, is free on bail pending outcome of his appeal.

Today's rulings stemmed from the Court's controversial March 10 decision that government evidence based on illegal eavesdropping must be turned over to defense attorneys in its entirety if the direct conversation of the defendant was overheard or his own premises were bugged.

In ordering the lower court action, the Court also rejected out of hand a government

Weekend Of Wonderful Sunshine

Spring, which appeared on the calendar Thursday, has arrived with an intensity that made up for its tardiness.

Temperatures zoomed to as high as 80 degrees during the weekend and Marinites headed for their favorite pleasure spots to enjoy the first warm weekend. (See photo, page 6.)

Highways were clogged with pleasure seekers and the sidewalk on the Golden Gate Bridge was thronged with sightseers, watching the bay full of boats and the sky full of kites.

In San Francisco, 5,000 people gathered in Golden Gate Park to celebrate the first Sunday of spring, complete with three rock bands, members of the Hells Angels motorcycle club and topless dancing by both men and women.

Highs yesterday around Marin and Southern Sonoma were: Sausalito, 80 degrees; Petaluma and San Rafael, 78; Hamilton Air Force Bawe, 76; Novato, 75, Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley, 72, and Bolinas, 66.

San Rafael had 70 degrees at noon today.

Ike Reported Getting Weaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has grown progressively weaker over the weekend from heart disturbances suffered a week ago, Walter Reed Army Hospital reported today.

The hospital had reported Friday the 78-year-old five-star general suffered congestive heart trouble the preceding weekend and was recuperating.

"The manifestations of the previously reported congestive heart failure have increased despite vigorous thereapy," the hospital reported today.

"He is requiring continuous oxygen and other supportive measures," the terse announcement said.

Nine Awaiting Protest Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine antiwar protesters charged with breaking into the Washington office of Dow Chemical Co. and destroying records were in jail awaiting arraignment today.

Nine persons broke into the downtown office Saturday, poured what they said was human blood on the furniture, and hurled files from a shattered fourth-story window to the street below.

In Detroit, Dow president Herbert B. Doan said the incident "went far beyond the bounds of reasonable protest."

Treasury Chief Asks Debt Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the government will be unable to pay its bills within a few weeks if Congress does not increase the national debt limit.

Kennedy urged the Senate Finance Committee to approve a House-passed bill to increase the ceiling by $12 billion—from $365 billion to $377 billion—for one year.

State Campus Protesters Begin Sessions In Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The courts are beginning to deal with some of the 450 persons arrested Jan. 23 before a violent student strike fizzled out at San Francisco State College.

Meanwhile, the college's acting president, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, reiterated his determination that students arrested also will face disciplinary action by the college, which could result in expulsions.

Trials were arranged today for 50 of those cited in the mass arrests. Municipal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy, the presiding judge, was to select other judges to help him.

Hayakawa, on his second trip to the White House in two weeks to dine tonight with President Nixon and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, has refused to sign a strike settlement worked out by administrators, faculty members and representatives of the Black Students Union and Third World Liberation Front.

He agreed to all other points, but balked at recommendations for amnesty for the arrested students, saying he wanted to wait until April 11 to review findings of campus disciplinary boards and observe whether or not the strike leaders keep the peace.

"But I'm not sure" tha campus strife is solved, Hayakawa said in a news conference Saturday. "I'm not sure I can believe people when they say they are going to lay off on the rough stuff.

"I'm going to apply campus discipline right down the line. No one's done that before."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Third Relic Stolen

ROME (AP) — For the third time in a week a thief has filched some saintly remains from a Rome church. This time it was the skull of St. Grisogono, a Greek who lived in the 4th Century. Police discovered the loss yesterday.

Newspapers call the thief "the maniac of the relics." Last week he stole the skull of St. Sylvester and the gold-decorated foot of St. Teresa Avilla.

On Friday the thief repented and returned the skull of St. Sylvester in a confessional booth. But under the secrecy of confession, his identity was not disclosed to police.

Gore Raps ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Albert Gore says President Nixon's decision to deploy a limited antiballistic missile — ABM — system is wrong "militarily, morally, economically and politically."

The Tennessee Democrat charged yesterday that domestic political considerations were "the most pressing motivation, the primary factor" in Nixon's decision.

Gore was on the CBS program "Face the Nation," while Laird appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Surplus Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy says reductions being made in a number of programs should set the stage for a 1970 fiscal year budget surplus surpassing the $3.5 billion forecast by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy would not estimate how much the surplus might be, nor did he detail where the budget cuts ordered by President Nixon will be made.

He appeared yesterday on the ABC program "Issues and Answers."

'Pueblo' For NATO?

WARSAW (AP) West German spy ships and navy planes operate off the Polish coast and try to interfere with Polish vessels, a naval officer charged today.

Writing in the armed forces newspaper Zolnierz Wolnosici (Soldier of Freedom), Cmdr. Stanislaw Wolinski said that West Germany is preparing "plans of attack on Poland and the Socialist seaboard of the Baltic."

He added that the West German ships are gathering information not only for their government but also for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Their activities are almost a blanket copy of the Pueblo operations," he said referring to the U.S. intelligence ship captured by North Korea.

Turkish Tremor

ISTANBUL (AP) — A strong earth tremor hit western Turkey early today. The semiofficial Anatolia news agency reported nearly 500 homes collapsed.

There were no casualties, but damage was widespread, Anatolia said.

Sporadic quakes had been rocking the area since Saturday.

Worst hit was the town of Demirci and the surrounding area.

Protests Continue

ANGUILLA (AP) About 400 Anguillans held a "funeral" yesterday for their Caribbean island, now firmly under the British thumb after 13 months of unrecognized independence.

About 400 demonstrators, mostly women, marched under a broiling sun behind a black coffin that bore the legend: "If Lee don't do, Anguilla is dead." Anthony Lee is the British commissioner appointed to rule Anguilla until the island's fate is decided.

Officials made no effort to interfere with the procession, and there was no violence. was the third demonstration in three days protesting British occupation of the island.

Aide Denies U.C. 'Brain Drain'

BERKELEY (AP) — William J. Bouwsma, vice chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, labels as exaggerabrain drain on campus.

Bouwsma, who is leaving for Harvard this fall, took issue with a New York Times story that cited him as an example of brain drain.

He claimed he was quoted out of context and is not, as the Times said, leaving because of campus turmoil at Berkeley.

Along with ouwsma, historian Carl Schorske and political scientist David Apter were listed among the elite scholars departing. The three signed a letter that tagged the "alleged flight" of brains "statistically untrue."

Nixon's War Review Still Under Wraps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says no significant announcements should be expected following the weekend talks held by President Nixon and four top advisers on the course of the Vietnam war.

Nixon spent much of yesterday discussing the war and prospects at the Paris peace talks with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger; the U.S. ambassdor to Saigon, Ellsworth Bunker, and Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, deputy American commander in the war zone.

Nothing was said following the talks about details or any decisions that might have been reached. But White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler had indicated earlier there would be no announcements on the talks.

With Bunker and Goodpaster staying on in Washington for the time being, Nixon is expected to talk with them again soon.

U.S. Reveals Efforts To Blunt Red Buildup

SAIGON (AP) — More than 3,000 U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese infantrymen backed by an American armored column are pushing another major counter offensive south of the demilitarized zone.

Operation Maine Crag is aimed at a growing North Vietnamese threat to allied bases along the northern frontier. Marine officers at Da Nang said in the past month patrols have sighted as many as 50 enemy tracked vehicles and trucks carrying war materials toward allied bases. Some were believed to be big artillery guns.

It was the second big American drive announced in the past two days and the third within a week, as the Viet Cong's spring offensive rolled into its fifth week.

Maine Crag was launched March 6 but has been slowed down frequently by bad weather. The U.S. Command did not announce it until today for security reasons.

The Marines said the allied force had killed 43 enemy troops so far and captured two prisoners and 129 rifles. Ten Americans were reported killed and 64 wounded. But the allies' main purpose is to cut North Vietnamese supply lines from Laos into South Vietnam.

U.S. headquarters also indicated a North Vietnamese buildup in the extreme northwest corner of South Vietnam, two and one-half to three miles south of the DMZ and within three miles of the Laotian border. It said U.S. B52s dropped nearly 400 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese troop concentrations, base camps and bunkers in that area.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a ground fight below the eastern end of the DMZ yesterday and said 43 North Vietnames were killed. Seven South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

In the third big American operation which has been announced, in the area of the Michelin rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. spokesmen said 400 enemy troops had been killed during the past week. Only scattered fighting was reported over the weekend.

U.S. Expects No Vietnam Pullout Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key U.S. military leaders say it may take a year before substantial numbers of American troops can be withdrawn from Vietnam.

But they stress their judgment is based on military factors and acknowledge agreement at the Paris peace talks or a Nixon Administration decision could start a pullout earlier.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said yesterday, "I do not believe that now is the time" to discuss U.S. troop withdrawals.

Laird said this is because the enemy is continuing a "very affirmative and strong offensive" and because mutual troop pullback is a major negotiating issue in Paris.

However, the new Pentagon chief spoke of moving toward "Vietnamesing" the war by modernizing the South Vietnamese forces—ARVN—on "a realistic basis"—meaning at a faster rate than the Johnson Administration's program.

"We'll know this fall," said one top military leader. "We should have a handle by then on how the ARVN's improvement is going."

Expert Sees Bustling War Surplus Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The large influx of American, Russian and Chinese weapons in to Southeast Asia because of the Vietnam war is leading to a vast pool of second-hand but highly usable arms for international trade, according to a prominent defense analyst.

Louis A. Frank, a member of the Stanford Research Institute, says the war will leave in its wake "hundreds of thousands of weapons, ranging from small arms through antiaircraft guns, tanks, mortars, mines and aircraft" that will be sold as surplus.

Frank, who released his study in a newly published book, "The Arms Trade in International Relations," also said a re-equiping of NATO forces expected in the early 1970s will add even more weapons to the surplus available for purchase.

The only restraints on the sale of these used weapons come from the nations which owned them originally. Such are far from effective, he indicated.

The armaments are put on the market, Frank said, because it is usually "too costly to repatriate the weapons."

He said the weapons sent to Southeast Asia will find willing buyers not only in South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand, but also in neighboring areas such as Singapore and Indonesia.

The author, an economist who specializes in defense analysis with the Strategic Studies Center of the Stanford Research Institute in Washington, gave the following breakdown on some of the largest arms suppliers:

The United States, the world's largest arms production base with 20,000 companies, sold $11.1 billion worth of new and used military aircraft, missiles and missile systems, ships, armored vehicles, weapons and ammunition from 1962 to 1966. Aircraft sales accounted for 37 per cent of the total. Included were 6,071 Nike Hercules SAMs and 3,323 Sidewinder air-to-air missiles mostly supplied to the forces of NATO, Japan and Nationalist China.

—Soviet Union, the second largest armaments industry in the world, exported between 1949 and 1968 more than 5,000 jet combat aircraft.

Babe Ruth, with all of his records, never realized one ambition, and that was to manage a major league team.

Republicans Elect Richards

Other officers elected by the council's board of directors, reported publicity chairman James L. Placak, were Aubrey C. Mendle of San Rafael, membership vice president; John W. Rakow of Ross, special events vice president; Donald L. Blinco of Sausalito, treasurer, and Sterling L. Hilen of Novato, secretary.

Richards was finance chairman of the Reagan for Governor campaign in Marin in 1966, and a member of the Rafferty campaign committee in Marin last year.

Thec ouncil, formed in 1960, has about 200 members.

The council also announced that a dinner honoring Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael, former appointments secretary to Governor Reagan, will be April 1 at Peacock Gap Country Club. Haerle, a past president of the council, resigned his Sacramento post last month after two years on Reagan's staff. He has returned to practice law in San Francisco.

A no host cocktail party will start at 7 p.m., and dinner is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are being handled by Richards.

Mutiny Trial Delayed A Day

FORT LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — Whether five young soldiers intended to mutiny when they took part in a sitdown demonstration last October is a key issue in their courts martial, which will resume tomorrow.

Today's resumation of the trials was postponed when one of the defendants became ill and was placed in a hospital for observation.

Defense attorneys for the five contend they did not mean to mutiny during the demonstration at the Presidio in San Francisco Oct. 14. During last Friday's testimony one defense attorney, Capt. Brendan Sullivan, described the men's actions as a "plea for help."

The Army contends the men acted "with intent to override lawful military authority" when they refused to return to a work detail. All five were stockade prisoners at the time.

Studies Are Working In Afro-American

and demands and a white girl asked, "Why does there have to be a change?"

"You might not notice it because your eyes are closed," a black student told the white girl. "Look at Marin City and then look at Sausalito."

"Revolution is in progress," said another black.

"There are no out-and-out conflicts here at the moment. What are the demands? Why does there have to be a conflict?" a white student asked. "There will be conflicts," said a black student.

"You set this whole thing up (Afro-American studies) and you didn't ask us," said a black student.

Butler's class, which deals with contemporary black literature, has an enrollment of 27, of which at least five are blacks.

Butler uses films as well as tapes and says he uses books in that he mentions passages from them.

His class has an air of complete informality. While waiting for the teacher to arrive students ate snacks and one black student, Del-Mar Jackson, brought in a tall drum and proceded to pound out rhythms intermittently.

On another day a dog visited class and slept through the session at the feet of a student. That day Butler played an Eldridge Cleaver tape and stopped the tape when Cleaver said "—— ——."

Butler wrote the two words on the board and questioned: "What does this mean to you?"

"I think it's beautiful," said one coed.

"It offends me," said another girl.

"This is the language of the streets," said a black student, "and this is the language you're going to have to learn to deal in."

Driver Hurt As Auto Overturns

John W. Leonard, 23, of 513 Robin Drive was taken to Marin General Hospital. Police said that Leonard was apparently driving too fast.

Two Hurt As Car Stops For Light

Two San Franciscans were injured yesterday after the car in which they were passengers stopped suddenly at a stop light and threw them forward, San Anselmo police reported today.

Betty L. Ryberg, 45, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised left arm and Constance Gomez, 45, for scalp cuts and a neck sprain at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Police said the driver, Ferdinand Gomez, 40, husband of Mrs. Gomez, stopped his car suddenly at 6:30 p.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Broadmoor Avenue when the car ahead of him stopped for a red light.

San Rafael Bar License Suspended

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The on-sale liquor license of the Pago-Pago bar at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was suspended today for 25 days by the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. Ten days of the suspension was stayed for a year's good behavior, the department said.

The department said the suspension resulted from charges that the bartender was intoxicated on the premises and used profane and indecent language. It also charged that the bar, owned by Geraldine and Lino Nardi, had bottles of distilled spirits which had been adulterated. The charges were filed against the bar last month.

Different Girl

The Tiburon girl who received multiple scratches after her car reportedly went out of control on rain slick Highway 101 Thursday was Kathleen Wachsmuth, 17, of 18 Janet Way, not Cathy Wachsmuth, 18, as reported Friday in the Independent-Journal.

Council To Hear Bahia Changes

The Novato City Council has scheduled 11 public hearings on zoning matters at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the community house.

These items include adoption of changes in the Bahia master plan for 900 acres at the end of Bugeia Lane; a rezoning from agricultural to planned community for approximately three acres at the end of Hill Road for Paul Pickart; rezoning from commercial to multiple residential of the land south of Warner Creek and east of Diablo Avenue for William Guinnane and J. C. Youngberg and adoption of the master plan for a 117-unit apartment complex at Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda del Prado for Walter Keickhefer.

Other items to come before the council include a request for limousine service to the San Francisco airport; reclassification of positions with the city, and a closed meeting to make appointments to the downtown study, beautification and ambulance service study committees.

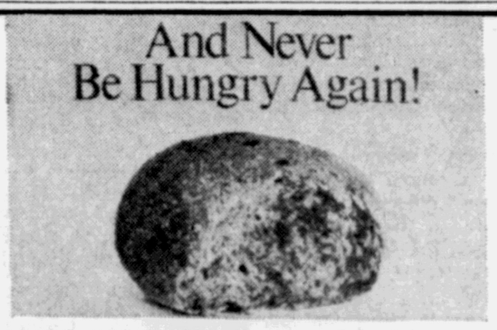
And Never Be Hungry Again!



You say you've never missed more than one meal at a time — or at the most two? That you don't classify yourself with that large segment of the world's population called "the starving."

Perhaps you are hungrier than you think — a hunger that goes deeper than the tightening of the stomach or the pangs of the throat — a hunger for companionship with God.

Rich and poor alike share this hunger for God's eternal presence in their lives. There is only one way it can be satisfied.

"'I am the bread of life,' Jesus told them. 'He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never be thirsty.

"'Now, I told you that you had seen me but would not believe. Every one whom my Father gives me will come to me. I will never turn away anyone who comes to me, for I have come down from heaven to do the will of Him Who sent me, not my own will. This is what He Who sent me wants me to do: that I should not lose any of all those He has given me, but that I should raise them all to life on the last day.

"For this is what my Father wants: that all who see the Son and believe in him should have eternal life; and I will raise them to life on the last day.'"*

"All men have sinned and are far away from God's saving presence . . . For sin pays its wage — death; but God's free gift is eternal life in union with Christ Jesus our Lord."

Two Guilty Pleas In Dope Case

Eloise Erlin — in whose former Fairfax home the police said they found 300 pounds of marijuana — pleaded guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing the weed.

Gilbert John Dart of San Diego, who police said was in the house when they entered on March 23, 1968, pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing marijuana for sale.

Judge Harold J. Haley set sentencing for Mrs. Erlin, now of Albany, for April 21 and of Dart for June 30.

Mrs. Erlin says she is estranged from her husband, Darrow, now of Hawaii, who has been convicted of federal charges of selling LSD and been sentenced to state prison. He is now out on bail pending an appeal and his case in Marin Superior Court was continued today until next Monday.

Dart, who has been sentenced to state prison on a Los Angeles narcotics charge, today saw charges of possession of marijuana and conspiracy to possess marijuana dismissed against him. Charges of possession of heroin and possession of marijuana for sale against Mrs. Erlin also were dismissed.

The Erlins face a $500,000 marijuana tax lien filed by the federal government as a result of their arrest.

Army Employee Is Found Dead

Roy T. Hill, 54, a data systems technician at Oakland Army Air Base, was found dead in his apartment at 55 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, Saturday afternoon, apparently of a self-inflicted pistol shot, Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan said.

Hill's body was discovered at 3:15 p.m. by his former wife, Esther Hill, and department manager Jack Hicks, Madigan said.

Hill had been dead for several days, Madigan said, and it was difficult to tell where the wound was inflicted. An autopsy was pending at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

He is survived by a son, Richard Talbot of San Rafael; his mother, Elsie Johanson of Santa Barbara, and a brother, John Sharp of Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Novato Firm Gets Contract

A federal contract for almost $6 million has been awarded to a Novato construction firm, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, announced today.

The U.S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, has awarded the contract to C. R. Fedrick Inc. of 320 Deer Island Lane, Novato, for pipeline construction and related earth work in near Huron in King and Fresno coumties, Clausen said.

The work is for a water district in the two counties. Total amount of the contract is $5,919,000, Clausen said.

Shoplifting Is Charged

A 19-year-old San Rafael man was booked into the Marin County Jail Saturday afternoon on suspicion of shoplifting a 39-cent package of ham from the Bret Harte Super Market, 93 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

The suspect, David C. McReynolds of 1135 Fourth Street, was arrested at 4:30 p.m. after the three-ounce package of sliced, smoked ham fell out of his pants as he walked to the rear of the store.

He was released on $315 bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Tapes, Purse Taken, Purse Later Found

Gary R. Bailey of San Rafael reported to San Anselmo police Saturday that someone pried open the wing window of his car while it was parked in the 100 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and removed his $69 stereo tape player, 13 tapes and his girl friend's purse, police said today.

The purse, with contents intact, was later reported found on a fire trail near Oak Springs Drive, police reported. Bailey lives at 107 Ash Way.

That students charged only with acts of "nonviolence shall receive a written reprimand," that students charged with "violent acts .... receive not more than suspension" through the end of next fall's semester, and that students charged with disrupting instruction receive no more than suspension for the rest of the spring semester.

In response to a question, Hayakawa said he and Nixon had not discussed the possibility Hayakawa would join Nixon's administration.

Asked whether he would enjoy plunging back into relative academic obscurity after the San Francisco State uproar transformed the English professor into a national figure, Hayakawa said:

"I would love to go back to academic obscurity. It's a nice peaceful life, and the hours are better than for a college president ..."

Winds Cause Blackouts

Freak winds felled power lines in Bolinas early today, blacking out the area twice in less than four hours.

The high winds, blowing seaward, a reversal of the usual pattern, blew over four power poles on the Bolinas Lagoon sandspit at 4:53 a.m., according to Leonard O. Robinson of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Power was restored to 150 homes in Bolinas by 6:15 p.m., Robinson said.

At 8:35 a.m. winds blew down wires on Bolinas Road, blacking out more than 500 homes in the Bolinas area. Power was restored by 11 a.m., according to Robinson.

An Unexpected Overnight Stay

A Greenbrae couple and their 4-year-old son spent last night in a borrowed sleeping bag in a ravine in Mount Tamalpais State Park and hiked out today while searchers looked for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charbonneau of 119 Bretano Way said they and their son John had not suffered during their night out on the mountain.

Charbonneau told sheriff's officers that they had left their car on Bolinas Ridge yesterday and hiked down into a canyon near Kent Lake. As dusk approached they met another hiking couple who left their sleeping bag with them.

The other couple hiked out last night, but the Carbonneaus said they decided to wait for morning.

GOP Committee To Met Tonight

The regular March meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee will be held tonight instead of tomorrow because of the special state senatorial election tomorrow in Contra Costa County, chairman Charles Michals announced.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Room 311 of the Civic Center.

About 100 Marin Republicans will be working to get out their party's vote tomorrow, Michals said. Democrat George Miller III and Republican Dist. Atty. John A. Nejedly are seeking the seat held by Miller's late father.

Woman Motorcycle Passenger Injured

Vivian L. Bollier, 21, of San Francisco, was treated for cuts and scrapes on the right knee yesterday at Marin General Hospital after she was thrown from a motorcycle in a collision on the Bolinas-Fairfax Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

She was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Peter A. Bollier, 27, of San Francisco. The highway patrol said a microbus driven by David B. Durr, 15, of 470 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, turned in front of them at noon.

Petaluma Board Due Preliminary Budget

The Petaluma Board of Education will receive a preliminary budget for the 1969-70 year from business manager George W. Castleberry at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Supt. Lesly H. Meyer will also reported on developments in salary negotiations with the Association of Petaluma Area Teachers negotiating panel.

Board members will also hear a report on new methods of teaching mathematics at Rencho Cotate High School.

Hayakawa Censured Over Gater

S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, was censured by members of the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges at the organization's weekend conference at Disneyland, Rick Beban, editor of the College of Marin Times, said today.

Censure was for Hayakawa closing down the Daily Gater, school newspaper at San Francisco State, in reported violation of the First and 14th Amendments, Beban said. The vote was 23 to 2 with some of the 53 representatives not in attedance and several abstaining.

Hayakawa recently ordered the Gater silenced, saying the college publication review board had not been doing its job to review the newspaper.

Receiving awards at the conference were Peter Schwab, Times news editor, who took second place for a mail-in news story on tax override; Kimo Campbell and Beban, honorable mention for the San Francisco State College strike story of last November; Campbell, second place for writing an on-the-spot feature.

The representatives rewrote the constitution preamble and Campbell was named as one of a three-member steering committee to coordinate a news bureau to be formed.

Novato Church Chooses Pastor

Rev. Donald M. Rayment, who has been pastor of the Mount Eden Presbyterian Church in Hayward since 1961, yesterday was named pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Novato, according to church publicity chairman Dorothy Ballard.

Reverend Rayment preached the 9:30 a.m. sermon. After the sermon, the congregation almost unanimously elected him pastor, Mrs. Ballard said. He previously had the unanimous endorsement of the pastor-seeking committee, headed by William J. J. Smith.

Reverend Rayment will assume his duties about May 1, according to Mrs. Ballard. The selection must first be confirmed, however, by the Presbytery of the Redwoods which meets on April 30, she said.

The Novato church has been without a permanent pastor since Rev. C. M. Croughan resigned last Aug. 1.

Check Charge Brings Arrest

Foster Lee (Jack) London, 46, formerly of 295 Country Club Drive, Novato, has been arrested in Los Angeles on a Marin County warrant for suspicion of passing a forged check June 1 at a Novato Safeway store.

London was returned to Marin County early Saturday by Detective Sgt. Perry J. Haley of the Novato Police Department, according to Novato police reports.

Bail was set at $625 and London was scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Two Northgate Thefts Reported

Two burglaries along Northgate Drive, one at a beauty shop and the other at an apartment building, have been reported to San Rafael police.

Officers said $143 in cash was taken from a desk drawer at Princess hair Styling at 248 Northgate Drive between 10 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Drapes valued at $160 and a metal ash tray valued at $25 were taken from an apartment building at 108 Professional Center Parkway sometime between 11 a.m. and midnight Thursday, police reported.

Water District Due Talk On Fire Plans

Marin Municipal Water District's part of proposed improvements in the Tamalapis Fire Protection District will be reviewed at a meeting of the district board at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

The fire district board has proposed an $800,000 improvement bond issue for the district. The water district's part of the work may total $100,000 over a 10-year-period, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

appeal for reconsideration of the March 10 decision on grounds it would hamstring government national security surveillance activities.

The Court commented in the rehearing ruling for Hoffa and Clay that "of course, a finding by the district court that the surveillance was lawful would make disclosure and further proceedings unnecessary."

In other actions, the Court:

Rejected a Chicago appeal which challenged the customary practice of states to apportion their school expenditures on the basis of local property taxes.

Let stand a government order that Chas. Pfizer and Co. must license its drug tetracycline to other pharmaceutical firms.

Refused to interfere with a lower court ruling in an Oregon case holding that state libel laws do not apply to radio-television broadcasts on matters of public interest unless the material was aired with malicious intent.

The court also refused today to review the obscenity conviction of a San Jose bookseller who claims the books he sold were not obscene and in any event he was unacquainted with their contents.

The brief order leaves standing as final a state court decision upholding the conviction.

Daly argued that the books are protected by the free speech guarantee in the 1st Amendment to the Constitution.

Collision Hurts Man, Woman

Two persons were treated for minor injuries yesterday after a two-car collision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near College of Marin, the California Highway Patrol said.

Rosa L. Redding, 25, of 58 Wellington Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for abdominal bruises, and George L. Miller, 64, of 1821 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma, was treated at Ross General Hospital for bruises on the head and chest.

The accident occurred, the highway patrol said, at 3:45 p.m. when the brakes failed on Mrs. Redding's car and it hit the rear of Miller's pickup truck at the traffic light at College Avenue.

Five Arrested Over Marijuana

Phillip David Harrison, 18, of 1147 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, and four Fairfax juveniles were arrested on suspicion of marijuana possession Saturday afternoon, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Harrision posted $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today and the four boys, ages 16 and 17, were cited to the Marin County Juvenile Bureau.

Deputies said they stopped Harrison's panel truck at 12:30 p.m. on Tiburon Boulevard near Beach Road for a mechanical violation and while checking the truck, officers noticed one of the youths trying to hide something in his pants. A search uncovered marijuana, deputies said.

San Rafael Span Traffic Increases

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A total of 5,686,777 vehicles crossed the Richmond - San Rafael Bridge during 1968, up 477,358 over 1967, the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings reported today.

Revenues totaled $4,815,020, up $390,433 over 1967.

The traffic included 4,977,905 passenger vehicles, 702,813 trucks and 6,059 buses.

Three Permits Asked For Deck Enclosures

The Corte Madera Board of Design will hear requests from three applicants to enclose deck areas of their homes to create bedroom units at a 7:30 p.m. meeting today in Town Hall.

Applicants are Mrs. N. G. Hartman of 143 Mariner Green Court; Lynn S. Carman, 48 Mariner Green Drive, and Y. Frey, 45 Mariner Green Drive.

Yippie Claims Frame On Guns After Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) A Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman says he was framed on a charge of having three loaded guns in his office.

Hoffman surrendered to police yesterday after five men were arrested in a raid on his East Village office, a few doors from the police station.

Detectives said they got a telephone tip at 2:30 a.m. about the guns and went to the office, where three men were sitting. The officers said they found a blackjack, syringes, a small quantity of heroin, antiwar literature and buttons, and three guns. Two other men were seized in an apartment upstairs.

He was freed Saturday in $10,000 bail on federal riot charges stemming from disorders at the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Hoffman, 32, said he gave the office key to one young man. He charged that someone planted the guns and heroin and then called police.

Hoffman was freed on $100 bail on the gun charges for a hearing next month.

Youngster Killed In School Prank

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 15-year-old high school boy died yesterday of injuries reecived when he fell 40 feet from the top of an electrically controlled fire screen in the Mission High School auditorium.

The victim, Myron Johnson, was riding up and down the screen with six other boys when the auditorium was closed.

Police said Johnson became entangled in the ropes and one of the boys, attempting to free him, pushed the "up" button instead of the "down" button. Johnson was catapulted to the top of the screen and pitched headfirst to the floor.

Decision Due On School Site

The San Rafael Board of Education will decide at its 7:30 p.m. meeting at the school district office tomorrow whether to approve the $190,001 purchase of an elementary school site at Riviera and Biscayne streets in Peacock Gap.

The purchase has been recommended by Supt. John F. Plank.

The board also will consider Plank's contract at the meeting and will discuss the district's financial situation for 1969-70.

Elbow Room

HONOLULU (UPI) — The average beachgoer at Waikiki has around 44 square feet of sand to himself compared with an average of 57 square feet at Coney Island, according to Hawaii planner Walter Collins, planned at a later date at one of the parks in which Wilson was interested.

And Never Be Hungry Again!

James Westmoreland tells of an old man who a few weeks ago arrived in Gatooma, Rhodesia, searching for an American. He had walked many miles from Gokwe Reserve, carefully carrying some strange looking papers with English words on them.

He had been told that someone in Gatooma could tell him just how valuable the papers were. Since the words on them said "dollars"—American dollars—he thought he had a real fortune.

It was hard to make him understand that his money was not real. It was play money, such as used in certain American parlor games. He could scarcely comprehend such a thought. But finally, slowly—and sadly—he began his long walk back home.

Many a sophisticated American has taken a long walk through life, grasping for what seems to be very valuable, only to discover that what at first looked like real happiness, real wealth, and real living was only counterfeit.

Homicide police found a note in the pocket of a young man whose body lay sprawled at the base of a twelve-story building. And it told of a hunger that could never be satisfied.

"I have tried everything the world has to offer," the man had written, "but nothing was enough to fill the emptiness of life."

But there is a happiness that lasts beyond the moment. And there is a bread that fills man's deepest hunger.

"'I am the bread of life,' Jesus told them. 'He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never be thirsty.'"*

Why continue to be hungry?

DIFFERENCES SEEN

A Ray Of Hope In Drug Scene

By MARY LEYDECKER

Drugs, drugs, drugs.

The widespread abuse of both natural and manufactured drugs continues unabated in Marin County despite efforts by law enforcement officers, educators, parents and doctors, but some glimmers of hope have finally begun to appear.

"In the last two years not only the kids but adults have come to make distinctions between drugs," said a Kentfield psychiatrist who treats many young drug abusers. His views, he said, are shared by many other such specialists in the county having wide experience with the problem.

"You no longer hear the saying, 'drugs are good for you' or 'adults have their drugs and we have ours'," Dr. William J. Dickerson said.

Furthermore, the youngsters have come to recognize a vast difference between marijuana and such drugs as methamphetamine, or "speed," he added.

"Most of the kids have seen someone they know became a 'speed freak' and they know what this does to people," he continued.

Another new development on the drug scene, according to the doctor, is the growing realization by doctors and young people that the continued heavy use of marijuana does adversely affect people.

"Pot heads," as the kids call the heavy users, become lethargic, disinterested and unable to carry out simple plans.

"What do you do? Do you work or go to school?" Dr. Dickerson asked a young man who lives with several friends, all heavy marijuana users.

The youth replied that he did not go to school nor work.

"What do you do all day?"

"Well, we watch a little television."

What else?"

The youth replied that he and his friends used to go for walks.

"Why don't you go for walks now?"

"Well, we just never can seem to get together and go at the same time," he replied.

"The amazing thing," the psychiatrist added, "is that these people (who can't even organize a stroll) have nothing else on their minds."

The young marijuana user who can't face the events of life without marijuana disturbs the doctor, also. "Marijuana is no better a way to avoid life than alcohol," he added.

Although Dr. Dickerson said it's hard for doctors to determine whether users of drugs are using them because they're poorly adjusted to begin with or whether they get that way after the drug use. There seems to be no question that some produce paranoid effects.

LSD is the worst, Dr. Dickerson said, because of its unpredictability. "A person might have many 'good trips' and then have a horrifying experience."

The paranoia caused by "speed," which makes the body race at high speed, has been seen by many young people and adults.

A youth who appeared in a Marin court claiming to be Jesus Christ told the judge the next day that "my mind is clear now" and soberly gave his real name. The following day, however, after another dose of speed upon being released, he again thought he was the "savior of the world."

Not all speed users react in quite such a harmless fashion, however, and violence sometimes accompanies the "highs" of speed users.

"Some people should never use any kind of drug," Dr. Dickerson said. "Marijuana gets schizophrenics, for example, into real trouble."

Another factor "which interests and distresses me," he said, is having a youngster who has had a frightening bad trip say he would take the same drug again.

"Of course, some of them say they wouldn't, but I don't know the answer as to why someone would want to repeat an excruiating experience," he said.

"Although we're all getting smarter about drugs, it's horrifying what kids will put into their mouths and beings," he added.

What's making the situation even worst, according to the psychiatrist, is that as the formulas for methamphetamines, for example, become more widely known, there's a great deal of "botching up."

"With all the cook books around, there are still a lot of bad cooks. When you have a seventh grade dropout makup a chemical formula, it's not surprising that the results are often horrible," Dr. Dickerson explained.

The folklore accompanying drug abuse also alarms him. "For example, the kids say that if you have someone with you the first time you take LSD that has already taken it, you'll have a good trip," he said.

"Of course, that's pure nonsense."

Dr. Dickerson does not think it's possible for adults to isolate their children from drugs, particularly in Marin County, but he feels that drug abuse will only abate as "we all become smarter" about drugs.

$175,000 Offer For Ray Story Filming

NEW YORK (AP) — Percy Foreman, the lawyer who advised James Earl Ray to plead guilty to the Martin Luther King Jr., assassination, said today an offer of $175,000 has been made for the movie rights to the story.

Foreman said the offer was made by Carlo Ponti, film producer and husband of Italian actress Sophia Loren, to William Bradford Huie, Ray's official biographer.

"And I'll get 60 per cent of it," Foreman said in an interview in his New York hotel.

In addition to the flat fee, Ponti would pay 12 per cent of the gross receipts of the movie.

Foreman, of Houston, Tex., said Look magazine had guaranteed another $85,000 for Huie's series of articles on Ray's life, and that he was entitled to 60 per cent of that also.

The Houston lawyer, who successfully defended Candy Mossler and her nephew Melvin Powers in 1966 against a charge of murdering her husband, said Ray himself had fixed the attorney fee at $150,000.

Foreman said he understood that Arthur J. Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., who was Ray's original lawyer in the King case, had been paid $35,000.

"It all comes through Huie," Foreman said.

The attorney said that his 60 per cent share of the movie, book and magazine rights might total $400,000 or so, but that he would take only the $150,000 agreed upon with Ray.

"I didn't fix the fee, he fixed it," Foreman said.

He said he advised Ray to plead guilty "because I believed he would be electrocuted if he didn't."

Ray was given a sentence of 99 years in the Tennessee state penitentiary. He has since signified his intention of asking a rehearing at which he could withdraw his guilty plea and elect to stand trial by jury.

Ray's brother, Jerry, was quoted by the Nashville Tennessean Sunday as saying that the accused slayer was placed under financial pressure by Foreman to plead guilty and take a prison sentence.

"Foreman said he would take $150,000 if my brother pleaded guilty, but he wanted everything he would over earn if he didn't," the Tennesseean quoted Jerry Ray as saying."

Foreman described this as "a bunch of ———."

In Savannah, Ga., Ray's latest lawyer, J. H. Stoner, said his Ku Klux Klan connections would help Ray's case.

"They show I'm a loyal white man and the white people of Shelby County are for white supremacy," Stoner said. Memphis, where the murder occurred, is in Shelby County.

Stoner asserted that King "brought about his own death with his activities across the country" and added:

"He was a troublemaker."

Commented Robert B. James, chairman of the Memphis City Council: "He's just making a lot of trouble that we don't need. He's certainly not welcome around here when he talks like that."

SPRING'S LATE START

It has been this kind of weather in Marin, with the sun beckoning the winter-weary to boats, the bay and pools. Sharon Buchanan of San Rafael yielded to the glorious days, soaking up the sun which pushed temperatures to the high 70s throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma. Warm weather continued today and the weatherman predicted it would also be fair tomorrow. For weather story see page 1.

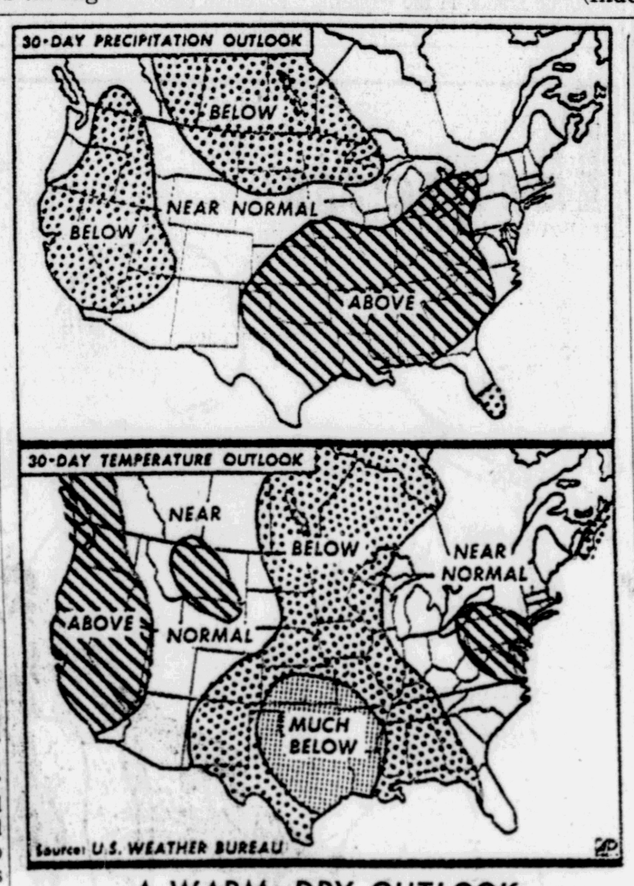
Trumans, Kin Visit Florida, Shun Newsmen

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Former President Harry S Truman doesn't think playing with his grandchildren and strolling on the beaches is news.

John Spottswood, a former Monroe County legislator and an old friend of Truman's, said the ex-chief executive has no immediate plans for a news conference.

Truman and his wife arrived in this island city Saturday aboard an Air Force jet provided by the White House. They were joined by their daughter Margaret and their son-in-law, New York Times editor Clifton Daniel and their children.

Skipping church yesterday, Truman played with his four grandchildren in a garden patio of his vacation villa and took a long walk along the 15-acre beach fronting the Casa Marina Hotel where he is staying.



A WARM, DRY OUTLOOK

The next 30 days, ending April 15, are expected to be warm and dry in Marin. According to information supplied by the U.S. Weather Bureau, rain will be below normal and temperatures will be above average. Last year during the same period San Rafael recorded only .01 inch of rain. Highest daytime reading was an 84 recorded on April 10.

Driver Treated

Walter B. Price Jr., 36, of 210 Mission Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut lip after his car hit a center divider on Highway 101 at Alto at 2:15 a.m. today, the California Highway Patrol said.

U.S. Readies Antitrust Court Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department will file an antitrust suit against one of the nation's supergiant corporations in an effort to curb what an official terms the dangerous "merger-mania" of conglomerates.

The department yesterday announced court action will be sought to force Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., the nation's 14th largest corporation, to "divest itself of all of its interests in the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp."

The Justice Department suit will set the stage for a test of whether current federal antitrust legislation is effective in controlling acquisition-minded conglomerates — corporations which hold power over several usually unrelated businesses.

LTV RESPONDS

LTV responded to the government announcement by saying it will vigorously defend its takeover of Jones & Laughlin, the sixth biggest steel producer in the country.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard W. McLaren said the suit, under the Celler-Kefauver Amendment to the Clayton Antitrust Act, is being filed now because the situation is too urgent to wait for new legislation.

If unchecked, McLaren said, such mergers as between LTV and Jones & Laughlin will result in ever-growing concentrations of economic power by fewer and fewer persons relatively uncontrolled by government or competition.

LTV said it was confident the acquisition of J&L did not violate "existing antitrust legislation" and that "the courts will vindicate LTV's action."

Before initiating the takeover last year, the firm said, an opinion was obtained from "one of the nation's leading antitrust law firms" that the acquisition, if challenged, "could be successfully defended in court."

LTV's position is that its holdings are so diversified that they do not decrease competition in any field.

NO COMMENT

Moreover, it described the entry into the steel industry as "the most competitive development in that industry since the government itself supported the formation of Kaiser Steel and Lone Star Steel."

Jones & Laughlin had no comment on the matter.

McLaren, to back up his warnings of dangerous economic concentrations, cites figures showing that the 200 largest corporations controlled 58.7 per cent of the nation's manufacturing assets in 1967, compared to 48 per cent held by the top 200 in 1948.

The merger pace continued to accelerate last year with 4,462 acquisitions, a record high that almost doubled the 2,975 of 1967.

Rural Area Thieves Take TV, Stereo

Burglars zeroed in on television sets and stereophonic equipment last week, according to reports received by the Marin County sheriff's office.

Allen Young of 27 Roberts Drive, Inverness, reported Friday that someone took a television set valued at $400, and an FM tuner, valued at $800, from his home between Sunday and Friday.

Vivian Jones of 715 Viewpoint Road, Tamalpais Valley, reported that a portable television set, valued at $169; a camera, valued at $80, and two stereo speakers, value not listed, were taken from her home between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Roger S. Sheridan of 120 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands, reported that sometime between 10:50 a.m. and 3 p.m. Wednesday someone took a portable television valued at $100, two stereo speakers, valued at $55, and 60 record albums.

Douglas S. Scherf of 755 Bay Road, Tamalpais Valley, reported that from $50 to $100 in cash was taken from his home between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Wednesday.

State GOP Assembly Raps Nixon Aides

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The Nixon administration drew criticism today from the newly-elected president of the conservative California Republican Assembly (CRA) for picking a civil rights leader and a Harvard profesor to top posts.

James Kraemer, 50, a Piedmont realtor and insurance broker, told newsmen he objected to the appointments of James Farmer, a former national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Dr. Henry Kissinger, Harvard professor.

Farmer, a Negro and a 1968 Republican congressional candidate, was selected as assistant secretary of health education and welfare by HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch. Kissinger is Nixon's special adviser for security.

The CRA ended its annual state convention yesterday by adopting a resolution calling on Nixon to pick only persons "identified with Republican principles" for top federal positions.

The resolution—although modified to refer to appointments from both "minority and majority" groups—clearly was designed to express opposition to Farmer's selection.

Kraemer, who told newsmen his brother was a member of the John Birch Society but he wasn't, defeated William Ebert of San Francisco in the presidential balloting. The vote was 232-171.

Carl Hepp, 155 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, assembly resolutions committee member, reported he drafted both resolutions.

The othere came on a watered - down resolution putting the CRA on record approving "the concept of morally-oriented sex education with character building" in the state schools.

Fairfax Motorist Suffers Face Injury

A Fairfax woman was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for a cut lip and broken teeth suffered when her car hit a parked car on Bolinas road, Fairfax.

Betty Haere, 44, of 95 Porteous Avenue, told police she was leaning over to turn off her radio when the accident occurred at 1:50 a.m., officers reported.

Supervisors To Weigh Offer For Courthouse

The City of San Rafael's offer to buy the courthouse square from the county for a minimum of $500,000 will be discussed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning.

The item is expected to come up late in the morning because a workshop session with the Marin County Planning Commission is set for 9 a.m., to be followed by a closed meeting with the county team that is negotiating with employees on wages and fringe benefits.

A novel method of improving emergency ambulance service in West Marin will also be proposed to the supervisors.

Thomas Larke Jr., chairman of the Marin Emergency Medical Care Committee, said he got the idea from Kenneth Hale, operator of Doctors Ambulance Service.

Whenever the county fire department ambulance at Point Reyes Station picks up a patient in West Marin, an ambulance from San Rafael would head west, meeting the fire department ambulance half way. The victim would be transferred to the San Rafael ambulance, permitting the fire department department ambulance at Point Reyes Station to be ready for the next emergency.

This would cut down on the time that Point Reyes Station would be without an ambulance.

Larke said this proposal should be studied and put into operation during the coming summer season if feasible.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales will ask for more staff members to meet the jump in workload.

A major item in the afternoon is a hearing on a new ordinance to regulate floating home marinas.

The First Congregational Church will ask for apartment zoning for its 4.5-acre lot at the corner of Merrydale and North San Pedro roads.

Coins Stolen

Novato Trustees Will Discuss Course Changes

Proposed curricula for the junior and senior high schools will be gone over at 8 p.m. today by the Novato Unified School District board meeting at the administration building.

At its meeting last week, the board was presented an outline of studies for both three-year junior high schools and the three-year high schools. It has been studying these for the past week.

Since the district changed from a two-year junior high and four-year high school system to a three-year junior and three-year senior high school program, the curriculum has not been changed. A committee composed of administrators, counselors and faculty members have been working for more than a year on the program.

The board has also scheduled a close meeting to instruct its representatives in salary negotiations with the teachers.

Tiburon Trail Plan On Council's Agenda

The proposed Tiburon trails plan and preliminary plan for Angel Island State Park will be discussed by the Tiburon City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council also is scheduled to discuss a proposed animal control ordinance, a master plan for 1-11 Main Street, establishment of a Tiburon miniboard of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, construction of a sidewalk on Paradise Drive and Bay Area regional government.

Reed Club Sets Candidates' Night

The Reed School District Parent-Teacher Club will hold a candidates night at 7:45 p.m. April 9 in the auditorium of the Del Mar school for those running for the district board.

The club will also hold a "pro and con panel" on the proposed 50-cent tax increase on which Reed residents will vote April 15. K. L. Rice and Leo Souza will speak for the tax hike, but no one has been found to oppose it yet, sponsors said. Anyone wishing to speak in opposition to it should call Mrs. Edward Ward, the club's president.

Drug Abuse Policy

The Larkspur School District board will discuss a drug abuse policy when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday in the district office, 20 Magnolia Avenue.

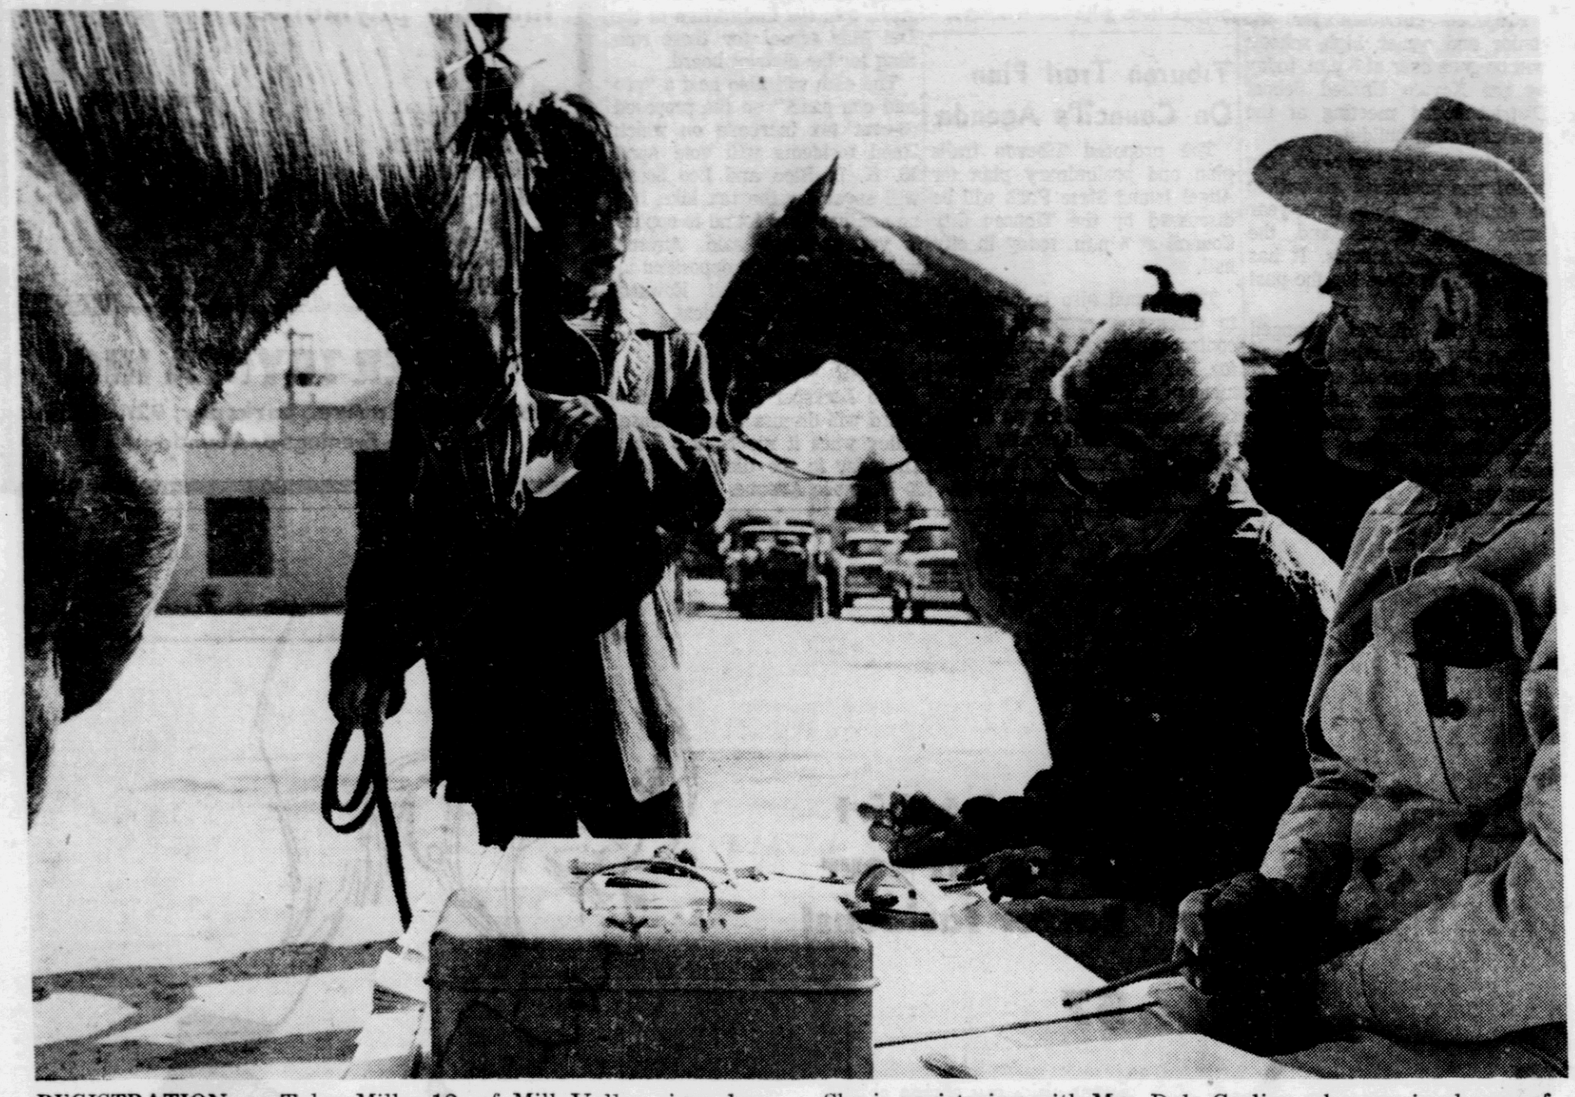
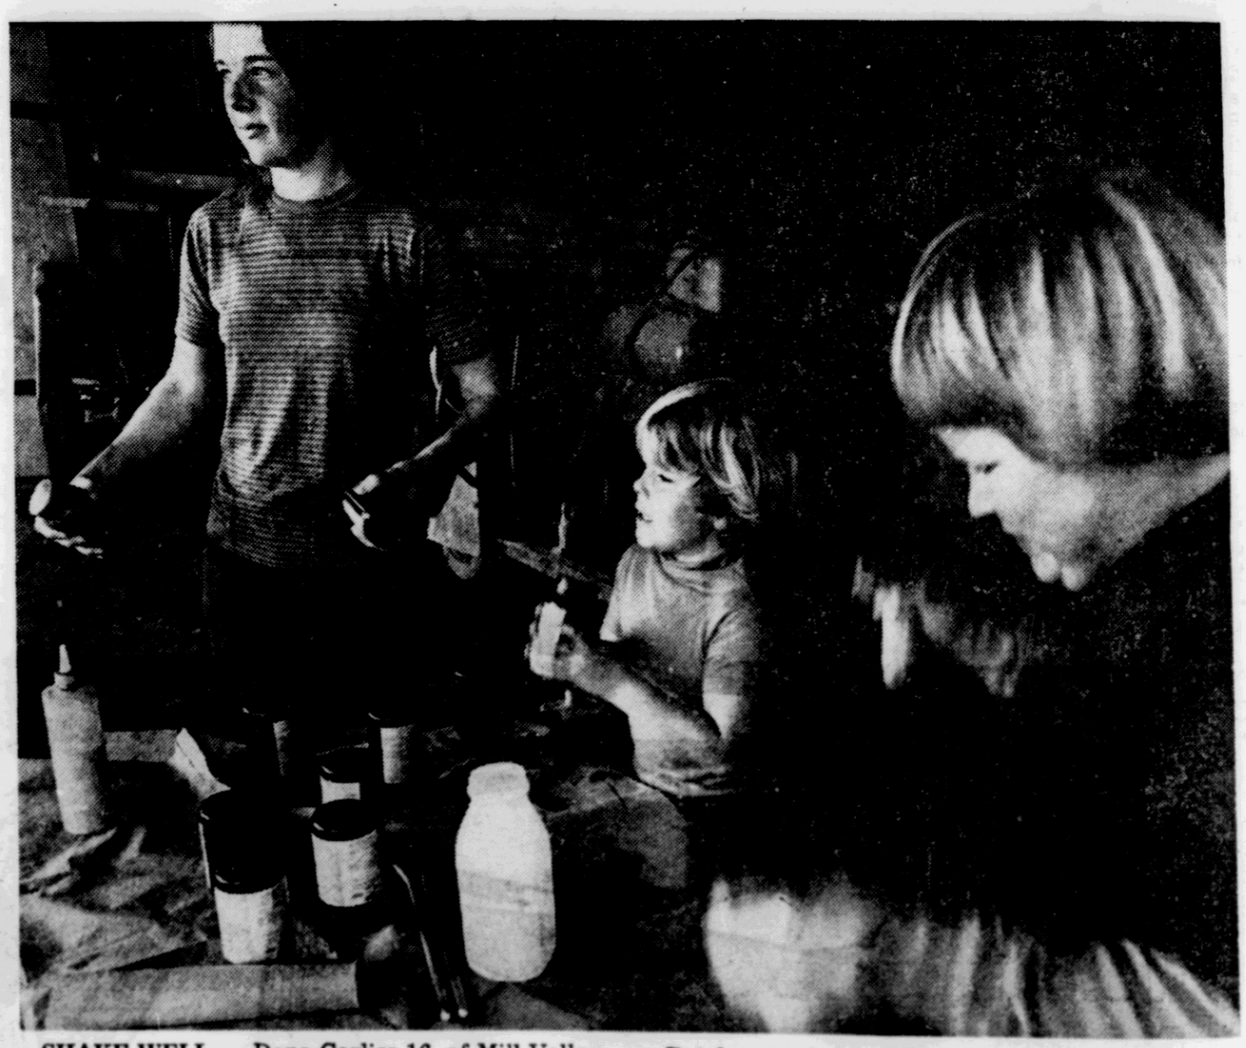
Shots, Shoes And Sympathy At Horse Health Clinic



REGISTRATION — Tyler Mills, 12, of Mill Valley signs her horse up for the worming, vaccinations and hoof examinations at the recent Marin Horse Health Clinic in Mill Valley under the sponsorship of the Southern Marin Horsemen's Association. She is registering with Mrs. Dale Corliss, who was in charge of the event, and Robert Jenkins, both of Mill Valley. More than 50 horses were treated at the clinic and a second clinic is set for April 12 when booster shots will be given, any necessary dental work performed.

FLU SHOT — Dr. James H. Steere of Petaluma injects a horse with influenza syrum at the clinic. (Independent-Journal photos)

IT WON'T HURT A BIT — This horse rebels when Dr. Steere and Orville Peterson of Novato shove a tube down his nose as part of the worm treatment. Once the tube was down, the two veterinarians pumped worm medicine through the tube into the horse's stomach.



SHAKE WELL — Dana Corliss 16, of Mill Valley, Robert Steere, 6, and Thomas Steere, 9, both of Petaluma, shake worm preventative before it is used.

LUCKY SHOE — Folklore of horses and horse shoes is passed on to a younger generation when Thomas Steere, 9, tells younger brother, Robert, 6, what it's all about.

New Sign Regulation Question Unanswered

Should signs that do not conform to new regulations be torn down in one, three or 10 years?

This question remained unresolved today as the Marin County Planning Commission wound up its preliminary review of the new county sign ordinance.

The amortization period that should be allowed nonconforming signs is one of the issues to be resolved. Another is the maximum height of free-standing signs.

Richard Nave, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, declared that businessmen who have had their signs approved should not be forced to remove them just because the rules were changed subsequently.

Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Walter F. Freitas said the three-year amortization is unfair on signs that cost $7,000 or $8,000. "It seems to be it should be more like 10 years," said Freitas.

A free-standing sign exceeding 90 square feet or a group of signs exceeding a total of 250 square feet; any roof sign; any sign projecting at an angle from a wall; and any free-standing sign higher than 30 feet.

Businessmen have objected to the maximum height limit on free-standing signs, which would be 25 feet for any new signs and 30 feet on any existing signs.

Two Escape $30,000 Fire In Mill Valley

A Mill Valley woman and her 12-year-old daughter escaped unharmed Saturday night from a fire which destroyed more than half of their two-story hillside home.

The blaze, which could be seen throughout Mill Valley, burned three bedrooms and a bathroom on the second floor of the house at 136 Marguerite Avenue. Also damaged were a portion of the living room, the exterior walls of the house as well as the attic and roof. Damage was estimated at more than $30,000 by Asst. Fire Chief Joseph Regalia.

The occupants, Mrs. George Hebert and an unidentified daughter, were routed.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started outside the house under one of the bedrooms. It burned through the outer shingles and then traveled inside the walls up to the attic where it broke through the roof.

Firemen took more than a half hour to control the fire and then maintained an all night watch to make sure it didn't break out again.

"It was one of the most difficult fires we've ever had," Capt. Henry J. Pierroz said. "We'd just get it out on one spot then it would break through the wall in an entirely new place," he said.

The fire also charred trees next to the house and at times threatened a neighboring house at 128 Ralston Avenue.

Only Hebert's wife, Margaret, and daughter were home when the fire broke out at 10:30 p.m. However, by the time Mrs. Hebert noticed the fire it was burning so intensely that the telephone wires melted while she was reporting the fire.

Car Collision Brings Arrest

Air Force S/Sgt. Ricardo Argueta, 40, of Rancho Rafael, Ignacio, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of drunken driving yesterday after a collision on Highway 101 at the Pacheco Creek overcrossing, the California Highway Patrol said.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 8:25 p.m. when Argueta drove onto the freeway into the path of a car driven by John L. Rogers Jr., 33, of 354 West Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur. Robers's car overturned after the collision and he received minor injuries for which he was to see his doctor.

Argueta was treated for bruises at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital before being booked. He posted $1,200 bail to appear Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Trailer Home Stolen In San Rafael

Theft of a trailer home, water dept finder, automobile stereophonic unit, purse and cash were reported today by San Rafael police.

The trailer home, a 1967 white Scotsman, license FH 9770, was stolen during the past 10 days while parked at 34 De Luca Place, reported its owner, Norman D. Bird of 34 Via Chepparro, Greenbrae.

The depth finder, worth $150, was stolen Friday night from a boat owned by Seaway Marine, 145 Third Street. Two other boats were broken into, but it was unknown today whether anything had been taken from them, police said.

The stereophonic radio-tape unit and several cartridges, worth $185, were taken early today from a car owned by Richard A. Morrison while parked, unlocked, at his apartment, 1564 Lincoln Avenue.

The cash, totaling $66, was taken from a locked bathroom cabinet at the home of Irene S. Croft, 466 Bret Harte Road, police reported. The cabinet had been forced open, police said.

Florence R. Nichols of 455 Canal Street, San Rafael, reported her purse was stolen from the front seat of her car while parked for about five minutes at the Bermuda Palms Motel. It contained about $30 in cash and credit cards, she reported.

Shell Oil Faces New Walkouts

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Oil workers at three Shell Oil Co. plants in Contra Costa County may resume a 10-week strike after a brief return to work at higher wages.

The 500 workers Saturday gave their union negotiators overwhelming approval to renew the strike because of an impasse over what disciplinary action should be taken against 21 strikers accused of violence on picket lines.

Virgil Coragliotti, Secretary Treasurer of Local 1-5 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said the strike could begin early this week, though no official date has been set.

Teen-Agers Injured In Motorcycle Crash

Two Teen-agers received minor injuries yesterday when their motorcycle ran off Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach, the California Highway Patrol said.

Robert B. Mendoca, 17, of Box 262, Stinson Beach, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes and bruises and his passenger, Roxanne Wright, 17, of 58 Manderly Road, San Rafael, was treated there for scrapes on both legs.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

SPRINGTIME EXUBERANCE PROVES TRAP

It was a warm spring day yesterday in Novato, the kind when young men's fancies turn to higher things — like climbing the metal guard around the transformer at San Ramon Elementary School.

One of the boys got a knee caught and couldn't get loose. So his two companions went to the nearby fire station for help. The firemen freed the boy with a crowbar.

It was Scott McAskill, 5, son of Mayor and Mrs. Harley McAskill of 291 San Felipe Way.

"I was scared for awhile," Scott told his parents. The boy was not hurt.

Woman Booked In Car Theft

A 22-year-old Terra Linda woman was booked into Marin County jail early Sunday by San Rafael police of suspicion of stealing a car she said she had permission to borrow.

The suspect, Patricia Ann Miller of 542 Wake Robin Lane, said she had borrowed the car from its owner, Grover N. Cantwell of Chico, Butte County, but a check of Chico police found the car reported as stolen, police said.

A routine check of the car while parked at the Bermuda Palms Motel disclosed it was stolen, police reported. The suspect was arrested when she returned to the car at 2 a.m.

She was released on her own recognizance by Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith, and is to appear in court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Driver Hospitalized After Two Mishaps

Leroy R. Willey, 37, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut forehead after his car was involved in two accidents yesterday in Samuel P. Taylor State Park, the California Highway Patrol said.

The patrol said the first accident was at 3:15 p.m. when Willey's car sideswiped one driven by Paul G. Moreci, 58, of Daly City, on a campground road. Willey drove off, the patrol said, and five minutes late his car ran off a curve on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and hit a culvert.

Two Booked Over Drugs, Car Theft

Two persons were booked into Marin County Jail Saturday after their car, reportedly stolen, was stopped on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol officers who said they found drugs and narcotics paraphernalia in it.

Alexander Hamberis, 24, of San Francisco, was booked on suspicion of car theft and possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia while Christine R. Daves, 21, also of San Francisco, was booked for car theft. The driver of the car was released without charge.

Both suspects posted $1,000 bail and were to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Officers said they stopped the car on the highway in Sausalito for a routine equipment violation but a check revealed that the car had been reported stolen in San Francisco in November. Officers said a jacket, apparently belonging to Hamberis and containing a plastic bag with a syringe and several pills and capsules, was found in the rear seat of the car.

Larkspur Crash Injures Two

A San Rafael man and a sailor were treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday after the car in which they were riding hit a tree at Alexander and Monte Vista avenues in Larkspur, police said today.

John Armanini, 25, of 1 Dolores Street, San Rafael, was treated for a scraped forehead while James W. Mistron, 22, stationed with the Navy in Long Beach, was treated for facial cuts. Another passenger, Michael Stahl, 22, also in the Navy, was uninjured.

Officers reported that Armanini was driving the car when the accident occurred at 10:55 p.m., Friday.

Two Facing Charges In Marijuana Haul

Two San Franciscans were booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after Larkspur police reportedly found 16 pounds of marijuana and a large amount of marijuana seeds, stems and leaves in the couple's panel truck.

Frederick Christian Neubert Jr., 23, was placed on hold for the parole officer at Corona Rehabilitation Center, Riverside, with his bail set at $6,250. Gail Lynn Scofield, 18, made $6,250 bail. Both were arrested on suspicion of marijuana possession.

Police said the marijuana is valued at about $1,000 on the wholesale underground market but, broken down, would be valued at "many thousands of dollars."

Officers Philip Groat and Gary Orr said the truck failed to heed a stop sign at Madrone and Magnolia avenues at about 3:30 p.m., and stopped the car, driven by Miss Scofield, in Corte Madera at Corte Madera and Redwood avenues.

Police said they found a hand-rolled cigarette, believed to be marijuana filled, in Miss Scofield's purse. On arrest, they found the four four-pound marijuana bricks wrapped in a brown plastic bag in the truck plus what the chief described as "a lot of marijuana residue" and several partly burned hand-rolled cigarettes, believed to contain marijuana.

Burglars Take $5,000 In Loot

Burglars ransacked the Greenbrae home of Harold Farb during the weekend and took $5,000 in loot, including $3,175 in jewelry, Larkspur police said today.

Method of entry was unkown but investigation is continuing, Police Chief Howard H. Clark said. Farb, who lives at 319 Eliseo Drive, reported his loss at 6:30 p.m. yesterday.

Among the missing items, police said, were a charm bracelet valued at $1,100; two solid gold wedding rings, $800; a diamond ring, $650; men's clothing, $300; three television sets, cameras, liquor and a full set of serving silver.

CONCERT REVIEW

Baroque Consort's Debut Auspicious

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A new chamber music ensemble, the Baroque Consort — working in a different setting for me, the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood — presented a recital yesterday afternoon marked by extraordinarily well balanced voices of the four instruments.

Not new among the musicians, however, was director Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, who provided the very solid and rhythmic harpsichod continuo, and the gifted violinist Michael Gerling. But I had never heard flutist Douglas Delaney and cellist Patricia Symonds, and they proved they possess comparable talent.

Neither had I heard guest soprano Jeanne Kostelic, though she has performed in Marin recitals for some time, and it is a pleasure to add her name to those of other accomplished singers in Marin.

Works performed by the consort with fine balance and precision were the Sonata in F Minor by Telemann, a Quartet in G by Tomaso Giordani and the Sonata in G Minor by Vivaldi.

Other numbers featured the players in solos and various combinations.

In singing the Bach arias "I Do Rejoice in all My Sorrow" with violin obbligato and "Sighing, Weeping, Sorrow, Need" with flute obbligato, Miss Kostelic revealed a well trained and evenly developed voice through a good range and one of lovely lyric quality. It made a beautiful combination with the flute.

She seldom, however, looked up from the music and should learn to do this as much as possible in order to maintain better rapport with the audience.

Delaney was remarkable for his smooth control and therefore fluent ease in his flute playing. His tone was very clear and silvery and his technique agile. All of this was heard in the Bach Sonata in E Flat for Flute and the trio Sonata in C Minor for Flute and Cello by Quantz.

While Miss Symonds' cello was always well handled in the other numbers, she had her special chance to show her skill in the Vivaldi Cello Sonata No. 6. Her tone was warm and resonant and her technical command was particularly evident in the final corrente.

Gerling's unaccompanied Bach Praeludium was something of a tour de force, sounding at times almost like two violins with one carrying the strong melody and the other accompanying. Only toward the end was there some slight evidence of tiring.

Humphrey Urges Dixie Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, whose liberal civil rights record helped lead to a Southern rejection of his presidential drive, says the national Democratic party in the south must be rebuilt on a racially integrated basis.

The former vice president said in an interview he is going to Mississippi next month to help further this goal and restore Democratic strength in the deep south where he carried only one state last year.

"We Democrats have no intention of sacrificing the South to the Republicans or to a third party," he said. But "our party rules require an integrated party and that is what we are going to build in the South as well as elsewhere."

Russ Musician May Be Defector

NEW YORK (AP) — A cellist with the touring Moscow State Symphony Orchestra has vanished and police believe he may have defected.

Vslevolod Lezhnev, 37, was reported missing Saturday, police said, by the first secretary of the Soviet mission to the United Nations, Evgeny N. Alechin.

Lezhnev was last seen Friday night when he checked out of the Wellington Hotel near Carnegie Hall carrying his luggage and cello. He missed a Saturday night concert in Baltimore and a concert yesterday in Washington.

The orchestra is scheduled to return to Moscow tomorrow.

Ring, Cash Stolen From Hospital Locker

A diamond ring and $25 in cash were taken from a wallet in an overcoat in Marin General Hospital's nurses' locker room Wednesday morning, sheriff's deputies said Saturday.

The ring and money belonged to Ruth M. Hutchinson, of 12 Dusel Drive, Novato, they said.

Candlelight Series Books Woodwinds

The Danzi Woodwind Quintet will present the fifth concert of the Candlelight Chamber Music series Friday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Organized in 1958 in Holland, the quintet has performed to critical acclaim in many countries, including the United States.

The quintet is composed of Frans Vester, flutist and founder of the group; Brian Pollard, bassoon; Koen van Slogteren, oboe; Piet Honingh, clarinet; and Adrian van Wodenberg, horn. All are first chairmen of the Concertgebouw Orchestra and the Netherlands Opera orchestra.

They specialize in the most avant-garde music, and many contemporary composers write especially for them.

Other works to be performed are the Quintet in A Minor, Opus 9, No. 2 by Reicha; "Serpentinata" by Becker; "Summermusic," Opus 31 by Barber; and "Musica da Camera" by Malipiero.

Cranston Urges U.S. School Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The federal government should provide financial aid to education but should allow school administrators to deal with student disrupters, according to Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Speaking on television, Cranston said yesterday the most important thing the federal government can do for education is provide financial aid "to relieve the burdens of the hard-pressed property taxpayer."

"The last thing we want is the federal government stepping in and beginning to run our state and local educational institutions," the California Democrat said.

If there are students who are not interested in an education, who are disrupting the education of others, they should be expelled, Cranston said.

Marin Ballet Chosen For Staging At Fete

The Marin Civic Ballet Company's newest ballet, "The Gap," has been chosen for performance at the Pacific Western Regional Ballet Festival by festival adjudicator Martha Hill, director of the Julliard School's Dance department, ballet director Leona Norman has announced.

The Marin Ballet has been selected to perform every year since the festival's inception four years ago. This year the festivel wil' be held in San Diego in April.

"The Gap" was choreographed for the company this past winter by Denis Carey, then dance master of the San Francisco Ballet. It deals with youth's reaction to the adult world, and attempts to grow up.

Bruce Bain, a lead dancer from the San Francisco Ballet, will dance the role of the grown-up world's representative. Other dancers in the ballet include Laurie Berryman of Mill Valley, Rocky White of Corte Madera, Charles Perrier of Fairfax, Cathy Prescott of Kentfield, and Cindy Lucas, Becky Jones and Jane Thelen, all of San Rafael.

College Opens Non-Credit List

Registration began today for the College of Marin's community education program of 102 non-credit classes for the spring quarter, including a new course called "Of Black America."

The college is also offering classes on group leadership, dietetics and physical fitness for men and lecture-seminars on how to prevent theft in one's business, social developments here and abroad, transplantations and frontiers of science.

Office-Warehouse On Plans Agenda

Construction of a glass company warehouse and office at 76 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in city hall. Ray D. Dotto, owner of the land, seeks architectural approval of the structure.

The commission will also consider plans for a nine-unit apartment building at 18 Valencia Avenue, as requested by Jay Thomas, representative for Royce Properties which owns the site.

All-Berlioz Concert Set For Finale

The all-Berlioz program scheduled by the Marin Symphony Orchestra directed by Sandor Salgo at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the gymnasium at the College of Marin will feature Lucien Mitchell as soloist in "Harold in Italy."

Mitchell will play the noted viola obbligato first commissioned by Paganini. The program also includes the "Benvenuto Cellini" overture and the song cycle "Les Nuits De'Ete" with soprano Carole Bogard as soloist.

Mitchell is principal violist with the Marin Symphony Orchestra and is a member of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. He is a member of the International String Quintette and plays with several chamber music ensembles.

The program will close the 17th season of the Marin Symphony under the auspices of the Marin Symphony Guild.

Corte Madera Police Suspect Car Arson

Corte Madera police and firemen are investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which yesterday destroyed the 1959 Cadillac of Sharon Buckley while parked in her garage at 623 Robin Drive.

Miss Buckley reported the fire in the open garage of her apartment at 3:05 p.m. Asst. Fire Chief Lee Larson said he believes the fire was deliberately set.

Girl, 9, Cuts Foot In Swimming Pool

Denise Slade, 9, of 668 Hancock Street, Novato, cut her right foot yesterday when she steeped on a piece of glass in the wading pool at Marinwood Recreation Center, firemen said.

Fireman James Jackson applied first aid. The mishap occurred about 4:40 p.m.

27 Students Are On Ballot For Marin College Election

Twenty-seven students will be on the ballot in the College of Marin's student body election Wednesday and Thursday, all having been successfully screened Friday by the multi-factioned Interim Committee.

Candidates are: Mike Conroy, Conrad Harris II and Charles Maltzahn, president; Harry Gilbert and Del Mar, vice president; Peggy Guthrie and Kim McDowell, secretary; James T. Lee and Gerald Battle, treasurer.

Mike Kelly and Gerald Shimada, rallies and assemblies commissioner; Val Sabaco and Edward Schimberg, spirit and athletics commissioner; Michael E. Dalton, college center commissioner; Donald Ray Bilby and O'Herrow Marshall, public relations commissioner.

Oceanographic Proposal Dropped, Bolinas Reports

A proposal to establish an oceanographic study center in the Bolinas area has been withdrawn, Bolinas Harbor District Board president Thomas J. Barfield said Saturday.

The district received word last month from a Santa Barbara law firm that the CIREOS Institute (Centers for Interpretation and Research in the Earth and Ocean Sciences) was considering a center at Bolinas to serve the San Francisco Bay area.

Barfield said he was told of the withdrawal by the law firm, which said it was probably because of the March 11 vote to dissolve the harbor district.

After the proposal was made, Marin conservationist Harold Gregg reported he was unable to find any listing in Santa Barbara or elsewhere in California for CIREOS.

Barfield said Saturday the law firm handling the negotiations did not say who was backing CIREOS, but that it was an East Coast organization.

The CIREOS proposal included laboratories, experimental farms for agronomy and mariculture, and a tree farm, and promised a return of $85,000 a year to the district.

Dog Control Proposal On Hub Agenda

A proposed countywide ordinance aimed at dog owners who let their animals run loose will be discussed by the San Anselmo city council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The council, which at its last meeting voiced unanimous support of tough new animal control regulations, will meet with county officials concerned with the problem.

The council will also consider a proposal by Councilman Robert M. Scott which would limit the number of people who could live in the same dwelline to five unrelated adults. The proposal is aimed at breaking up hippie communes which abound in the city.

In other action, the council will consider approval of Transter of Clearview Cable Systems' city franchise to Columbia Broadcasting System and discuss policy statements on transportation in San Anselmo and the widening of Sir Francis Drake and Center Boulevards, a request to bridge a creek at 12 Allyn Avenue and police recommendations on parking matters.

Utilities Proposal

An underground utilities ordinance will be considered when the Larkspur Planning Commission meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall. The commission also will discuss updating the city general plan.

Street Cost Talk

Street lighting cost estimates for Miller Avenue and 701 planning proposals for Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio and Miller Avenue will be discussed by the Mill Valley planning commission and architectural advisory committee meeting jointly at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

New Firms Ask Novato For Permits

Use permits for two new businesses will come before the Novato Palnning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Cloudburst Car Wash Inc. is asking for a permit for an automatic car wash with gasoline sales on the lot east of Seventh Street and south of Lee Brothers Market.

Donald B. Krosch is asking for a use permit for the construction and operation of a "Jack-in-the-Box" restaurant at the southeast corner of Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard. He also is asking for five signs for the restaurant.

Other items to come before the commission include: An eight-lot subdivision on 2.75 acres on the east side of Euclyptus Avenue south of Center Road for Lloyd and Jocelyn Benson; a variance to allow the manufacture and sale of archery supplies in an accessory building at his home, requested by Earl C. Lewis at 1630 Hill Road; a request to remove a 30-inch thick ash tree which shades the rear of his property by J. D. Pearce at 786 Clausing Avenue and a review of fiscal 1969-70 budget requests.

Auto Vandalism In Los Ranchitos

Sheriff's deputies reported Saturday that vandals broke both headlights, cracked the windshield and slashed the convertible top and rear window of a car belonging to Ginny A. Walker, of 49 North Knoll Road, Los Ranchitos, Thursday.

Walker reported his car was vandalized as it was parked in front of his home.

Meeting Delayed

The adjourned meeting of the Fairfax City Council, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed to 8 p.m. next Monday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

In this age of planned obsolescence, is there a place for a car so unconventional that it may well last for decades?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

Mercedes-Benz lavishes such attention on engineering that some people say Mercedes-Benz motor cars are too sophisticated.

And, by conventional standards, they are.

But Mercedes-Benz engineers step to the music of a different drummer. They insist on building margins of performance and safety into their machines to meet the unexpected, as well as the expected. And they stubbornly refuse to design anything just good enough to "get by" for a time—and no better.

That, in essence, is what distinguishes a Mercedes-Benz, what sets it apart from the crowd of conventional cars, bred of conventional standards.

At $4,780, the 220 Diesel may be the world's greatest economy car. Read why.*

An amazing maverick

It is the legendary Diesel.

This maverick is so defiantly unconventional that it can probably cut your fuel bills in half, eliminate many of your usual repair bills—and is likely to be serving you faithfully when most of today's sleek new dreamboats have been chopped up for scrap.

Not for everyone

To appreciate the Diesel, you first have to understand the idea behind it—and be able to adjust to its three foibles. It is not for every man.

The Diesel is built for people who want an economy car, but who decline to venture onto the highways in a featherweight, cramped machine. If you are willing to pay for the safety and comfort of a big, 3,000-pound sedan, the Diesel will reward you with fuel costs that match the flimsiest little half-pint on the road.

The three Diesel foibles:

First, you cannot hop into this car and roar off in a cloud of dust. The Diesel starts like any other car when its motor is warm. But, in the morning, you must be patient for about 30 seconds while the motor preheats for firing. (A minor nuisance which turns to advantage in winter, enabling you to get underway while others may still be cursing and shivering.)

Second, you must abandon any thought of fireball acceleration. The Diesel will cruise indefinitely at any posted speed limit in America. (Once, it even won the 8,728-mile African Rally!) But, as a dragster, it's a bust.

Third, though the Diesel sounds exactly like an ordinary car when it's moving, you'll detect a vestigial "pocketa" at idle—a slightly bizarre note in a car otherwise so grand.

If you can learn to shrug off an occasional jest about one of these eccentricities, you'll have the last laugh on everybody at the end of each month—year after year.

Cuts fuel bills in half

To begin with, of course, it uses lowly diesel fuel. (In a pinch, it will run on soya-bean oil.) The price of diesel fuel varies from state to state. In almost all states, it is lower than regular gasoline. In some states it costs only half as much.

The Diesel also sips its fuel at a miserly rate. In fact, the engine burns every drop so efficiently that exhaust is virtually smoke-free. A surprise to many.

Now—if you've been resigned to getting 12, 15, 18 miles a gallon from standard sedans, brace yourself.

The new Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel easily delivers over twenty-five miles to the gallon—and on trips, when you get full benefit of diesel fuel's price advantage over gasoline, you can average 30, 40, even 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular!

Many repair costs vanish

More good news. The diesel engine is such a gem of simplicity that it merely dispenses with many parts that normally end up costing you money. It has no spark plugs. No points. No condensers. Not even a carburetor to repair or replace.

It goes and goes and goes

Best of all, this 4-cylinder diesel injection engine is designed to give you uncommonly reliable service—for years.

Not only are there relatively few parts to go amiss, but the parts that are present have been engineered to have characteristic Mercedes-Benz stamina. There's a rugged overhead camshaft and a five-bearing crankshaft. Twelve of the 16 piston rings are coated with expensive molybdenum—an exotic "space age" metal that won't melt below 4,712 degrees.

The ingenious engineers, seeing that valves wore unevenly, designed them to rotate slightly with each stroke, vastly prolonging their life.

Mercedes-Benz does not warrant the Diesel to last for 10 or 20 years. Any car's life depends on how hard it is driven and how carefully it is maintained. But a lifetime measured in decades is no pipe dream, either.

Of the 700,000 Diesels it has built since 1936, Mercedes-Benz estimates that fully 80 percent are still humming along!

First, a Mercedes-Benz

The engine makes this Mercedes-Benz an economy car. But the real value of the Diesel lies not so much in the things that make it different from every other Mercedes-Benz as in the things that make it the same.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is welded into being, not bolted. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

The body is dunked in primer, baked, spray-painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Even the insides of the hubcaps are coated. Total paint and primer rust protection: 44 pounds.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that are simply unavailable on domestic sedans. All-independent suspension. Taut, recirculating-ball-type steering that gives you the "feel" of the road. Massive, racing-type disc brakes on all four wheels.

It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners.

Other models to mull over:

300SEL—an understated limousine, $9,849*.

Talent To Fill County Posts Not Lacking Here

What loomed as a difficult and perhaps divisive task has turned out very smoothly in the selection of a successor to Walter H. Busher as chief probation officer of Marin County.

The Juvenile Justice Commission, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and the board of supervisors were fortunate in finding a man of long experience, John W. Brewer of Kentfield, available and desirous of the job just as Busher announced he would leave for a new state position the end of this month.

If the transition of duties goes as smoothly as the appointment, they will be doubly fortunate. Such transition is not always easy when a department has been under one head for so many years as has the county probation department. However, Brewer's experience on the California Youth Authority particularly fits him for understanding the department's workings, so this too may be accomplished with minimum of friction.

One thing to be watched is whether the new probation chief will take prompt action to try out the proposed volunteer probation aide program. This system, proposed also in municipal court, might prove the answer to some problems that have long plagued juvenile departments in Marin and elsewhere.

FINDING A QUALIFIED Marin resident to fill the spot so promptly was especially fortuitous — with an unintentional assist due Gov. Ronald Reagan for not reappointing Brewer to the Youth Authority.

This residence problem threatened to be sticky. At least, some county officials thought it would be.

When Busher submitted his resignation, County Administrator Alan Bruce announced plans for statewide or nationwide recruiting, with screening to be done by the county personnel office and appointment by the board of supervisors.

He quietly abandoned this plan after it was pointed out that state law gives the screening power to the juvenile justice commission, the appointing power to the judge, and provides the probation officer must be a county resident. As things turned out, no conflict developed over contradictory provisions of a county ordinance saying the supervisors appoint and of the state law saying the judge appoints. Judge and supervisors met together and agreed on Brewer.

And the matter of residence just never came up. It didn't need to.

WE CANNOT ALWAYS be so fortunate as to have a man fitted for a job available just at the right time because some other appointment runs out, as in Brewer's case. But we suspect that many jobs for which nationwide recruiting has been conducted could be filled as well or better with Marinites. There is plenty of talent here. The county has largely failed to seek it.

Interestingly enough, there is a court case of record holding that assistant probation officers also must be county residents under terms of state law. It was handed down 'way back in 1912 in the case of Reed vs. Hammond.

Many of Marin's probation officers reside outside the county even long after their appointment. We suspect that here, too, finding county residents would pose no great problem if the law, as interpreted in this old court case, were observed to the letter.

Dunlap Amendments Would Curb Mis-Use Of Initiative

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—New proposals to revise initiative procedures in California are now before the Legislature, authorized by Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo.

The proposals in no manner seek to curtail use of the initiative by the people, Dunlap emphasizes, but rather to restore this process to the public rather than keep it as the virtually exclusive prerogative of public relations firms and signature canvassing organizations.

"I AM CONVINCED," the assemblyman says, "that recently the so-called people's right of initiative has become the 'darling' of public relations agencies.

"A good example of this is the financially irresponsible Proposition 9 on the 1968 ballot, which would have bankrupted local government or forced the Legislature to double the sales tax or triple the income tax.

"Proposition 9 was allowed to qualify under the present law without any of us knowing who paid to get it on the ballot. Under my amendment proponents would be required to reveal special interest support and the money spent in obtaining signatures.

"During the campaign on Proposition 9, there was rampant speculation as to who was really behind it, but no one was in a position to demonstrate the facts, or reveal the sources of the large amount required to get the measure before the people."

THE FIRST Dunlap amendment would require full disclosure by proponents of an initiative proposition of expenditures involved, and who puts up the money.

The second would require that petitions be signed only in public places, such as courthouses, schools, etc.

Said Dunlap, "The people will flock to the nearest public building and sign on the dotted line, if the measure is really of the people."

His amendments would reduce speculation as to facts and unveil the secrecy of behind-the-scenes manipulation of the initiative propositions, as the public would be advised of the real proponents before they signed petitions.

That the initiative has gotten out of hand is virtually uncontroverted.

SECURING signatures in sufficient number to qualify a proposal is considered almost an impossibility without the services of professional signature gathering firms, and the costs run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It would appear that Dunlap's amendments would decrease the chance of qualifying a measure even more, for without prodding, it would be difficult to convince people they should take time out to travel to a school or public building. But even if the measures do nothing else, they will start thinking to make the initiative more accessible to the people.

U.S. Must Help People Of Biafra

I wish to express my view of the Biafran situation:

I feel that the U. S. government is not doing enough to help the Biafrans. Whether or not the cause is justified, that does not matter. What does matter is that they are being slaughtered by the federal Nigerian forces. Thousands are being killed off by starvation each day. If the U. S. government does not do anything, this will be a black period in American history — humanitarianism would have gone down the drain. The U. S. government should not let this happen. It should help the Biafrans.

The Red Cross, Caritas, and other organizations need moral and financial help. If the people of the Bay Area are really concerned, then they can help by contacting the Red Cross in San Francisco or San Rafael or by getting information from:

Save the Biafran Children, P. O. Box 5, Sausalito, Calif., 94965, or Nigerian-Biafran Emergency, CARE, 444 Market Street, San Francisco, Calif, 94111.

Don't just stand there — help the Biafrans!

Publishing Names Injures Youngsters

In regard to the most excellent letter from Judge Samuel Gardiner re the publishing of names of juvenile offenders:

This subject, I am sure, has been given much thought and research by those who specialize in the field of juvenile behavior.

I do not think the editor of a newspaper is, therefore, the one to decide on so grave an issue. Publishing the names of young people in trouble can only serve to further ostracize an already unhappy, insecure youngster.

How many thousands of people, who have erred in their youth, have gone on to completely successful adult life?

Could they have done it without the help from people who really cared?

Bagley Spending Bills Berated

In a few instances, during the past two years our old friend, Bill Bagley acted almost like a Republican, but he seems to be reverting to his true character.

He is still trying to win the championship for introducing the most legislation costing the taxpayers more of his hard-earned dollars.

According to the Mar. 13 I-J, good old Bill introduced legislation to appropriate two million thorn in Gov. Reagan's side, more dollars of the taxpayers' money to help school districts eliminate racial segregation. I presume that would include "busing" and "junkets" to far-flung places. Doesn't he as yet realize that the more spent on integration, the more trouble it causes? They have been trying that for two decades, and all it has accomplished is more racial conflict.

It is also evident that Bill doesn't want the lowly taxpayer to realize how much the state government is costing him. He is in favor of withholding state income tax. If we didn't have federal withholding, the citizens would realize how much it is costing them, and demand a reduction in the squandering of our money. . . .

According to a Sacramento report, Bagley is the biggest since the departure of John Veneman. Isn't that some way for a "so-called Republican" to treat the greatest governor in the memory of living Californians?

Why doesn't Bagley do the honorable thing, and get off the back of the Republican Party. and ride the "bandwagon" of the party he truly represents?

Gun Registration Not Closed Issue

In answer to Mr. (Eric W.) Lane's letter, may I say that although the Marin County gun registration proposal was defeated, I am grateful that Rep. (William S.) Mailliard still wishes to know how individuals here feel about this crucial matter. I am sure Mr. Lane remembers that at the board of supervisors meetings, many people said they would vote for gun registration at the state or federal level, but not at the county level. Rep. Mailliard's poll gives these people a chance to express their views, and I'm delighted that our representative does not take it for granted that gun registration is a closed issue with all Marin County residents.

Should Have Place To Dance

Why is it that there isn't a nice place for people to dance, who love to dance? Without having to drink and eat the night away too. Of all the nice restaurants in Marin County only one or two have a decent dance floor — what they call one at least (10-by-10). What about using some of the wasted space in the Marin County Civic Center or the other buildings being built so huge and space consuming?

The Larkspur Bowl was beautiful, and enjoyed by hundreds, young and old.

In San Francisco, all the hippy trash has taken over the once called El Patio or Carousel at Van Ness and Market streets. Also the Avalon Ballroom at Sutter and Van Ness . . .

We love to dance, and hundreds of others enjoy the relaxing effect it has. Wonderful exercise too.

'Brezhnev Doctrine' Proves Failure In Its Initial Test

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON— An Eastern European Communist raised a most revealing question in conversation the other day:

"The Soviets claim the right and duty to invade a Socialist country to keep it in line with their version of communism. Why don't they invade China?

"If Dubcek was taking Czechoslovakia down the wrong path, Mao has taken China 10 times further."

THIS COMMUNIST leader with whom we were talking knew the answer. He put the question not to seriously suggest that the Soviet Union should invade China but to point up that Moscow's use of its military might to keep a Socialist regime in line rests not on principle but on what they can get away with.

Nothing has put the Soviet Union into so much trouble in the Communist world as its attempt to justify the Czech occupation by proclaiming the "Brezhnev Doctrine." It asserts that the sovereignty of Socialist nations shall be limited to doing whatever the Soviet Union wants them to do and that Russian sovereignty shall extend to compelling them, by force if necessary, to obey Russian orders.

BUT THE KREMLIN misjudged how far it could go without running into far more resistance than it expected.

The Czech invasion was bad enough. It split the Communist parties in Eastern Europe and united the Communist parties in Western Europe in unanimous opposition. Then the Russians compounded the mistake by attempting to justify it on the ground of the most powerful Communist country to "protect" the other Socialist countries against their own governments.

Obviously this was intended as a warning to the other Communist regimes that they could be next on the schedule for invasion if they didn't pay heed.

But this threat went too far. Instead of intimidating those who were supposed to be intimidated, it emboldened several of the Eastern European leaders to stand up to Moscow. The Russian warning was so brazen that it has caused them to see that if they do not take a riskful stand right now to preserve the independence of their countries, it will be too late and all will be lost by default.

TO THE DISMAY of the Russians, this is exactly what the Communist governments of Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — despite the invasion — are doing.

This is exactly what happened at the latest meeting of the Warsaw Pact powers in Budapest. Brezhnev, Kosygin and other top Russian leaders were on hand to make sure that all the Eastern European Communist heads of state were adequately impressed. They weren't.

The Soviet Union wanted to create a tightly knit, Moscow-run organization to control the military forces assigned to the alliance by the other Communist nations. They wanted all of the Eastern European Communist governments to rally behind Moscow in its border clashes with China, wanted more Russian troops invited into these countries for joint maneuvers, wanted more Russian control over the Eastern European economy, wanted implicit approval of the Brezhnev Doctrine.

THAT WAS ALL — and the Russians got none of it. Romanian Prime Minister Nicolae Ceausecu vetoed all vigorously and daringly. Czechoslovakia and Hungary quietly but firmly reinforced the veto. The Russians then departed for Moscow to think over what they had heard and to decide what to do next.

Is another invasion in the making? Could be. But the Russians must know that if the Red army marches on Romania, Moscow will lose for some time what it seems to want very much—U.S.-Soviet arms talks and the beginnings of East-West detente.

Vietnam War Cost Halts Federal School Upgrading

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon Administration has embraced the idea that the cities need higher quality education than the suburbs.

It has embraced the idea, but is not yet ready to put up the money required to make urban schools superior to those in surrounding, wealthier communities.

The inhibiting factor is the same which kept the Johnson Administration from fully living up to the promise of a breakthrough in federal aid to the education of the poor: The Vietnam War.

ALTHOUGH FORMER President Johnson kept insisting that the nation could afford guns and butter, the fact is that the cost of fighting in Vietnam put severe limitations on spending for domestic programs. Because of those limitations, Johnson skipped a major leap forward in education spending for the poor, one which would have helped urban schools leap-frog in quality.

Not once since the 1965 law was passed providing for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools has Congress put up all the money promised in the legislation. White House requests consistently fell short of the goals.

IN TESTIMONY before the House Education and Labor Committee this week, Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) endorsed "wholeheartedly" the concept that "urban education must be made superior to suburban education if the graduates of both are to have equivalent skills."

On the basis of this endorsement, about a half dozen Democrats and Republicans, pressed Finch to increase the budget request.

The committee chairman, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., appealed to Finch "not to repeat the mistakes of the past administration." Unless more money were provided now, Perkins warned, the problems would multiply.

FINCH SQUIRMED uncomfortably. He clearly preferred to ask for more. But the wish was not father to the request. He was bound by the budget limitation, he said.

He did go this far: In reply to questions from Republican Congressman John R. Dellenback of Oregon, Finch acknowledged that the need was there, the department could "usefully" spend more money than requested, and he would welcome more if congress wanted to give it to this department.

But he was not going to ask for it. The Nixon Administration was sticking with the Johnson Administration request for education. And no more.

'Special Deputy' Hubbub Proves Preferential Treatment Exists

This whole business of who is a special deputy and whether he is "active" or "inactive" points up one thing, if nothing else — that the practice or perferential treatment still exists.

Why must any traffic officer or meter maid waste any time trying to determine the validity of a badge or card flashed by any speeder or overtime parker: All offenders should be informed, just as you and I are informed: "Go tell it to the judge."

The problem exists because of an unwritten law among some officers that traffic tags should not be issued to a fellow officer. If all violators were treated uniformly, we would find less badge-flashing by characters who think that badges and titles entitle them to special privileges not enjoyed by you and me.

A HYPOTHETICAL question asked in most oral examinations for police officer is this: If a fellow officer or your chief is caught violating the law, such as drunken driving, would you arrest him?

The "book" answer is "yes." And yet, in actual practice, some officers refrain from tagging another officer, even if the latter is in a private car on private business. It is this very practice that puts an officer in a quandary when a stranger flashes an important looking badge or button and demands that a ticket be "fixed."

With the exception of officers on patrol who must break laws to chase down speeders or other offenders, there should be no excemption for anyone—special, active or inactive.

Otherwise, where do we draw the line? A mayor may feel just as important as a special deputy. Shouldn't he be allowed to go 75 in a 25-mile zone and flash a badge when caught? How about a judge, supervisor, lawyer, city councilman? Any one of them could flash an imposing badge or two.

IN ANY LARGE structure where you try to combine esthetics and functional efficinecy, you run into problems.

In the existing parking lot of Administration Building, for example, the lights are designed so unobtrusively that you can barely see your way back to the car at night.

In the building itself, lighting in the county library was designed to be soft and diffused, so much so that you'd go blind trying to read for any length of time. In the darkest area of some of the book stacks, the lights are about two candle power, whereas 60 candle power is the minimum for good reading.

The new hall of justice also has its little bugs. They've installed garbage chutes to drop waste paper from the top floor to collectors at the bottom. They had a test run the other day and found that large sheets of paper will plug the chute halfway down.

When a strong wind blows from a certain direction, there's a whistling sound like the whine of a jet engine in the roof area.

The architects and engineers don't seem too concerned about it. Perhaps, when the building is furnished, the sound will be toned down.

Cult In Miasmapolis Has Way To Renew Itself

Many who have visited Miasmapolis will remember the beauty of this great city. Its tree-lined avenues, its fine shops and theaters are the best to be found anywhere. Its flowering central park, the pride of the city, is popular not only with the local citizenry but with tourists as well, and its opera house, a remarkable example of contemporary architecture, is renowned for its exceptional talent.

Few visitors, however, are aware that within the city a most unusual cult exists whose members are known as the "Establishmentarians."

MEMBERSHIP in this organization is restricted to those over 30.

For a time this restriction caused some dispute and there was a movement afoot to contest it as being unfair, discriminatory and un-American. It didn't succeed, however, since no one could agree what the change should be.

Members of the cult are a warm, friendly and likeable lot, but they do practice certain peculiar rituals and ceremonies and they do have habits which distinguish them from other folks.

ONE SUCH habit—without fear of contradiction it may be said to be common to them all—is work. Establishmentarians work and they seem to thrive on it.

Another practice which they have is a little ritual performed with amazing regularity during the first fortnight of each lunar month. This ceremony, accompanied by deep, moan-like cries resembling the strophic chant of a Greek chorus, is called "Paying Bills."

Their most outstanding ritual, however, is an annual event which takes place during spring shortly after the vernal equinox and is a much more elaborate version of "Paying Bills" except it is far more festive. This yearly ceremony is called "Paying Taxes."

ESTABLISHMENTARIANS are addicted to owning property and at least one auto-car. They are also noted for having a high regard for their families. Each family consists of two or three or so children. Establishmentarian parents enjoy telling their children stories. These stories have unique beginings such as:

"Things aren't like they use to be . . . "

or,

"When I was your age . . "

or,

"We had it a lot tougher when we were young . . . "

THE CHILDREN, when they are little, love these stories and they laugh and clap their hands with glee. When they become older they just laugh.

Establishmentarians are vigorous participants in games. For this they are highly thought of in the community since without them a popular game called "Generation Gap," which requires two sides, could not be played.

They like to live in nice houses, wear nice clothes and are clean, neat and things like that and are widely regarded as the backbone of the community. And it is no secret that they have brought about a condition known as "Affluence."

"AFFLUENCE" is chiefly characterized by money.

This money has provided more time and more leisure and more schooling for those who are not yet 30 so that they can form another cult to oppose the Establishmentarians.

The members of this cult call themselves the "Anti-establishmentarians" and they are anti-establishmentarian until they themselves become 30.

And most do.

Transactional Class Set At Terra Linda

A class on transactional analysis -- the system of putting complex psychological facts into simple language — again will be offered by the San Rafael city adult evening school in its spring quarter starting Thursday at Terra Linda High School.

Toastmasters Set Youth Series

Toastmasters International is sponsoring a youth leadership program "to develop effective communication and capable leadership among young people."

Dr. Thomas Hart, president of the Tamalpais Toastmasters Club, said his group will conduct the leadership program at San Rafael High School at 7 p.m. on eight consecutive Thursdays starting April 10.

High school students desiring to register for the free program may notify Peter C. Meyer, 9 Eucalyptus Lane, San Rafael.

SPECIAL LIMITED ENROLLMENT FOR EXTRA CASH BENEFITS!
EXPIRES MIDNIGHT, APRIL 27, 1969

Leave the hospital with "EXTRA CASH" in your pocket!

New health plan pays extra cash direct to you–in addition to any other insurance –individual, group or Medicare– tax-free extra cash to use as you please!

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do–but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, April 27, 1969!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare–simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket–and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job–or hire full-time domestic help–to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate... they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered–even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose–almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000–depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons–and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry–individual, group or even Medicare–and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan–all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs.The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen or investigators are used. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"!

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity, and reputation of Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company" since 1902. For years, it specialized in health insurance for physicians, surgeons, and dentists exclusively, and its Board of Directors is still composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental, and insurance professions. Headquartered in Omaha, Nebraska, where it is incorporated and licensed, Physicians Mutual today serves hundreds of thousands of Americans in all walks of life throughout the United States direct by mail. You may judge the high calibre of the company from the fact that Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)."

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately–the same day we receive your form. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. When you need your benefits, you can be sure that your claim will be handled promptly.

Protect Your Family — Enroll Now. If Not Satisfied Your $1 Will Be Refunded

Take a moment now to fill out your Enrollment Form and mail it with only $1.00 for your first month.

When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is honest and easy to understand. But if for any reason whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$75.00 a week when your wife is hospitalized
$50.00 a week for each eligible child hospitalized
$350.00 a week double cash benefits — when you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized.

ALL-FAMILY PLAN
$10,000 MAXIMUM

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$75.00 a week when your wife is hospitalized
$350.00 a week double cash benefits — when you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized.

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN
$7,500 MAXIMUM

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$50.00 a week for each eligible child hospitalized

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN
$7,500 MAXIMUM

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized

INDIVIDUAL PLAN
$5,000 MAXIMUM

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

PLUS INCREASED EXTRA CASH FOR CANCER, HEART ATTACK OR STROKE

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long–and for as many times–as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally, The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental derangement, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or V.A. facilities.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS ... if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount –$350 A WEEK!

Important: Here is another real "plus"–if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past–ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur–you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan	$2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan	3.50
Male on any Plan	3.50

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00.

19 Important Questions Answered
ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) extra cash income for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife.

Under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) for you.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Veterans Administration facilities.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war, military service, mental derangement, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen s Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account"!

16. Will my claims be handled promptly?

Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesmen are used. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only these low monthly rates: only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

"LOOK AT our beautiful butterflies," says Mary Monardo. She is holding a multi-colored mosaic in her right hand and looking over the psychedelic patterns on the other butterflies, all of which will decorate Peacock Gap Country Club Wednesday for the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary luncheon and fashion show.

Girls Design Vivid Butterflies

By JOAN LISETOR

Gaily colored butterflies made of papier mache will decorate Peacock Gap Country Club Wednesday for the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary fashion show and luncheon.

The butterflies are being made as an art project by Girl Scout Troop 63, who meet at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley. The 32 girls range in age from nine to 12 years old.

MRS. GEORGE de URIOSTE, leader of the troop, is pleased by this and the other community service projects the girls have done.

"The girls enjoy making the butterflies, especially knowing they are helping the children at the Sunny Hills Home," she said. "They have also stuffed envelopes for the Marin Tuberculosis Association and are making clay bowls to be used as tray favors on Easter at Ross Hospital."

Diligent workers, the girls begin their butterflies with eight sheets of newspaper. With a pencil they draw freehand the outline of a butterfly. They then cut the butterfly shape out, saving the scraps of newspaper they have cut off.

Next they paint four of the sheets of butterfly shaped newspaper with liquid starch, one at a time, carefully placing one on top of the other, smoothing all of the bubbles out.

"JUST LIKE putting up wallpaper." commented one of the girls.

The process is then repeated with the remaining four sheets of newspaper. Then the scraps are bunched up, dabbed with a little bit of starch and sandwiched in between the two layers. (The second four sheets of newspaper serving as the "top of the sandwich.")

The edges of the butterfly are fastened together with paper clips and allowed to dry over night.

The final touches are put on the butterflies after they are dried. Each girl chooses her own design and sketches it in pencil.

Satisfied with the design they go to work with acrylic paints and the results are extremely imaginative. Many of the designs are psychedelic; another creative mind developed a multi-colored mosaic pattern, and one questionable finished product strongly resembled a turtle.

BUT AFTER two sequins for eyes and two black pipe cleaners for feelers were placed on the butterflies, they appeared authentic enough for flight.

And fly they will when they are strung with fishing line and hung as mobiles along the run way for the fashion show highlighting a spring theme.

"We get them back after the luncheon, and we get to keep them," said one of the Girl Scouts.

"I can't wait to put it up in my room," another said excitedly.

Marin Women

MARTHA BONER has painted her newspaper sheets with starch and put the scraps in place. She is lining up the top portion, also painted with starch, and will clip the two pieces in place and allow to dry over night.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Richard Kiiskis Wed, Michigan To Be Home

Harriet Linare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul De Moss of Mill Valley, became the bride of Richard Kiiski, son of Jalmar Kiiski of San Francisco, on March 14 in a ceremony at St. Aidan's Episcopal Church in San Francisco.

HARRIET LINARE

Matron of honor was Mrs. Karen L. Sweeney, and best man was John F. Glair, both of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left afterward for Taylor, Mich., where the bridegroom will be a member of a professional canoe team until fall. At that time they will return to San Francisco, where he plans to do graduate work in journalism. He is a graduate of San Francisco State College.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and has been employed in a food brokerage office in San Francisco and attending night classes at San Francisco City College.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rose Lowe of San Francisco.

Jonathan Keppel Claims Bride

Marriage vows were exchanged by Denise Cancellier of Eureka and Jonathan B. Keppel of Tiburon at an 11 o'clock ceremony Saturday morning at Christ Episcopal Church in Eureka.

Jon is the son of Mrs. Bruce H. Keppel of Tiburon and the late Mr. Keppel. He is the grandson of Mrs. A. F. Laudermilk of Santa Rosa and of Mrs. C. J. Keppel of San Anselmo. The bridegroom is the brother of Victor Keppel of New Zealand, Mrs. Gregory Yuhaus of Saratoga, N.Y. and Charles and Nori Keppel of Tiburon.

Educated in Eureka schools, Denise is attending Humboldt State College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Redwood High School and Humboldt State College and is the manager of the El Borro Restaurant in Tiburon.

Jane Wofford of Eureka was maid of honor and Arlene Francis of San Jose, the bridesmaid.

Charles Keppel of Tiburon was his brother's best man, with Joseph Murphy and Ted Ballard of Tiburon, and James Cancellier, of Eureka, the bride's brother, the ushers.

The reception was held at the Eureka Inn. After a wedding trip on the Oregon Coast, the couple will make their first home in Mill Valley.

Brides Spend

An average bride will generate an estimated $3900 in retail sales in a year according to a forecast by Brides Showcase.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Sole Surviving Sons Exempt Under Specific Conditions

DEAR HELEN:

My sister has one child, a son, who is about to become draft age. Her husband was in World War II but was not injured.

She tells me that she doesn't worry about her son going into the Service, as he won't be sent to Vietnam, this because only sons aren't allowed to risk their lives in combat zones. Will he stay stateside? — AUNT

DEAR AUNT:

Don't count on it. Being an only son is not enough to keep your nephew out of a combat zone. A sole surviving son will be given non-combat duty (on request) only if at any time since September 16, 1940, another member of the family (father, son, daughter) has been killed, is missing, or was totally disabled while in service. — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

Before we were married, my husband told me all about his many infidelities to his first wife. They didn't get along, so I guessed he stepped out to get even. I wish he'd kept quiet!

Every time we have a fight, I remember those stories, and if he stomps out of the house, I'm just wild, imagining all the women he may be with. He swears his chasing days are over and that he loves me — even when we fight, which we don't very much so far, but it might get worse later on.

He's very attractive to women, which makes it worse. What do you think about this? — TRINA

DEAR TRINA:

I think your husband has a big mouth! You'd better counteract it with a short memory — and a mtural agreement not to stomp out on a fight. — HELEN.

DEAR READERS:

The following two letters came to me in the same envelope — seems there's a small difference of opinion in this household:

DEAR HELEN: I have serious doubts as to whether you really are a woman. You certainly have a man's point of view.

You said "Oh ye of little faith!!" (to the "Shocked Wives" who assume the worst when a husband is out until 2 a.m. at an office party.) I say if he has lipstick on his shirt, there has been hanky panky. A "wonderful, loving, faithful husband of 13 years" such as that wife described would get home at a decent time. I have seen many of these so-called faithful men at office parties, which are just excuses to lose their morals. With no reproaches at home, the man will find other excuses.

Bully for the wife, and fie upon you, Helen Bottel. She should have made him sleep in a hotel the rest of the night, and maybe for the next week! That would teach him not to let sneaky little secretaries join his "stag" party. — HAPPILY MARRIED.

(And the second letter, stapled to the first —)

DEAR HELEN: Regarding your reply to "Shocked Wives:" It is certainly refreshing to hear a female opinion that is not narrowminded and biased, but reasonable and considerate.

You are no doubt making some man a very good wife! — MISTRUSTED, MISUNDERSTOOD HUSBAND.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. WHOEVER YOU ARE:

Well, at least you agreed to disagree. Otherwise you would have used separate envelopes. Happy arguing! — HELEN.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

JUDITH COX

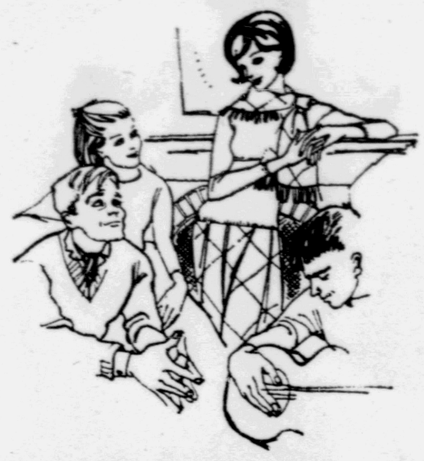
Engagement Is Announced

The engagement of Judith Ann Cox to William Travis Kelley Jr., both of San Francisco, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Louise Cox of Novato.

Judith was graduated from high school in South Plainfield, N. J. and attended Douglass College prior to her graduation from Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N. J. She is secretary to the managing director of McKinsey & Company in San Francisco. Randy Cox of Novato is Judith's brother.

The future bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William Travis Kelley of San Rafael and the brother of Pat, Sue, Debbie and Steve Kelley. He is a graduate of San Jose State College where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity. He is employed with Varian Associates in Palo Alto.

Today's Teens Want Work During Summer Vacations



So your youngster wants a summer job!

That makes him ambitious. But not unique.

In a survey some 1800 high school juniors and seniors throughout the country were asked about their summer plans.

The replies: About three-fourths of them said they intended to work during their long school vacations. Most of these youngsters weren't needy. In general, they came from middle income homes. (About a third of them reported family incomes of $10,000-a-year or more.)

The survey points up two things:

- Despite their critics, today's youngsters are more serious than you might expect — they're "work-oriented," in the jargon of the experts.
- There will be (as there has been over the past few years) plenty of competition for summer jobs.

So if your youngster wants a summer job he should line it up early, long before school lets out for the year. In other words. . . now.

Acutally, the value of a summer job experience may be far greater than the sum of a summer's paychecks for a youngster.

In fact, for many youngsters the paycheck may be very small — even non-existent.

This will be particularly true for teen-agers who opt for volunteer service programs. These opportunities — available through religious, service and civic organizations — can be educational, stimulating and satisfying.

In some areas — particularly in suburbs far from populous employment centers — volunteer jobs may be the only ones available. They can be very rewarding in intangible ways, including a measure of new self-cinfidence for the volunteers.

Whether a youngster works for pay or simply for the experience, summer jobs can be great opportunities. They teach responsibility toward one's self and toward others. This is true for a youngster working in a factory assembly line as well as for one doing fulltime work as a mother's helper.

Lots of young people use their summers to open up vistas for themselves. Some suburban youngsters in recent years have found rewarding jobs in volunteer programs in the slums of nearby cities. At the same time, some city teenagers have done the opposite: they've gone to work as farm hands.

Many youngsters will go to work in traditional seasonal occupations — car-hoping at drive-ins; serving as life guards; working as summer replacements in local offices and industries, and working with younger children at camps and playgrounds.

A lot depends on the teenager himself — his physical capability, his attitudes and his ambitions for the future. So ,although paying vacation jobs may be scarce, there's no reason why a teenager should spend a boring, idle summer.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

Mrs. Romines To Head Novato Hostess Club

A professional singer, Pat Romines has been a soloist with the Stockton Symphony and is a past member of the San Francisco Opera Chorus and Giannini's Concert Chorale. She studied voice at the University of the Pacific, Los Angeles City College and was graduated from San Francisco State College. At present, she is a substitute teacher with the Novato Unified School District.

The new president and her husband, a buyer for the Emporium, have two children, Clifford, 9, and Pamela, 2 years old. They have lived in Novato four years.

The club is a social and service organization with its primary interest getting parks for Novato. Any woman interested in working for the betterment of the community is eligible to join the club.

Serving with Mrs. Romines are Mmes. Larry Hammond, vice president; Fred Burns, recording secretary; Ed Gardner, corresponding secretary; and Bob Schall, treasurer.

Change Tune Says Organist

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Paul Friess, a church organist in St. Louis for 46 years, wishes he could persuade brides to choose something besides "Here Comes the Bride" for a wedding march.

Friess, 73, has been the organist at five Protestant churches and one Jewish synagogue in his career and wishes that he had been keeping a tally of the weddings for which he has played. At one church, which keeps its own records, he has played for about 2,000 weddings. His record for one day is 8 weddings, and he says that 5 in one day are not uncommon.

"Now and then I can get a bride to switch the wedding march," he said. "But by and large they still want "Here Comes the Bride."

His And Hers Hairdos Shown In New York

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Hairdressers from around the country joined in presenting a "unisex" hair style show — matching his and her hairdos and costumes. Women worried about being eclipsed by their peacock-like mates can take some consolation from the fact that most of the hairdressers admitted they designed the girl's choiffure first, then tried to adapt it for the male model.

There were three basic silhouettes for women this spring:

The "Coco Chanel," reminicient of the 1930's, featuring soft, full curls around the face, medium length hair and a smooth crown. Variations included center parts, a wave over one eye or all-over curls.

The chignon, shown for both day and evening, with the bun low on the back of the head. For evening, it was dressed up with tendril curls around the face or narrow, false braids attached to the bun.

The long, loose look with hair cascading to the shoulders and below. This style frequently was made more bouffant with the addition of a fall.

Among the matching styles:

The "page boy" with hair cut to just below the ears and turned under loosely. The male and female model each displayed this look wearing bangs almost to the eyes.

The "curly head" with curls scattered all over the scalp. The girl's style featured soft, ringlet-like curls. The boy's had tighter curls, styled with a curling iron.

The "French Bowl" look with the hair brought forward over the forehead almost to the eyes. The female model looked like Sir Galahad; the male like a shaggy dog.

The matched hairstyles did provide some problems.

Found Letters Reveal Fillmore Friendships

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — The discovery of 10,000 to 12,000 letters to President Millard Fillmore, many of them from two women, has been disclosed by Prof. Charles M. Snyder of Oswego State University.

The women were Dorothea Dix, a crusader for reform of insane asylums and prisons, and Ann Ella Carroll, a ghost writer for Fillmore during his unsuccessful 1856 campaign to regain the presidency. He was president from 1850 to 1953.

Snyder said he found the papers late in 1967 in New Haven, N.Y., in an unoccupied mansion which had been bequeathed to the university.

Among the letters were more than 70 from Miss Dix expressing a 'deep personal interest in Fillmore during his years as a widower," Snyder said.

The first Mrs. Fillmore, Abigail Powers, died in 1853 after years of poor health. Their daughter died the next year. Five years later the little-remembered 13th president married Mrs. Caroline C. McIntosh, widow of an Albany merchant.

Fillmore "made an attractive figure . . . a real catch for anyone" the historian said, but calling the Dix correspondence love letters is "really jumping way ahead."

Snyder said the letters show here "deep personal interest and concern for his health. They were certainly very cordial, but beyond that the letters don't show an intimacy."

A second set of letters Snyder described as "intriguing" were from glamorous Miss Carroll, an editor and daughter of a Maryland governor.

She "was not a bit reluctant to try to influence Fillmore," Snyder said and she often arranged personal visits at campaign stops. But Fillmore avoided her and was discreet in answering her letters.

"She was very much annoyed at his failure to keep arrangements she was making to see him," Snyder said.

Miss Dix and Fillmore were "of a comparaable age—both past 50," Snyder said But during the time the bulk of the letters were written he was in Europe and she "just paused to write" while crusading across the country.

The cache of letters was found in a 40-room mansion that was willed to the college by the heirs of Charles S. Shephard, a Buffalo businessman who died in 1934. The discovery was first revealed in a copyright story in the Syracuse Herald-American.

Fillmore's son, who first inherited the papers, died in 1889 leaving a will which ordered his executors to "destroy all correspondence or letters to or from my father, mother, sister or me."

Young Fillmore's executor, Charles Marshall—member of a prominent Buffalo family and related by marriage to the Shephards—ignored the will and had the papers transferred to the attic of his Buffalo home.

Dress Shop Reports Theft Of $1,000 Ring

They said Constance LaSalle, operator of Modiste and Antiques at Blackfield Drive and Tiburon Boulevard, told them one man apparently took the ring from a ringholder in the shop's fitting room while his partner diverted her attention.

Doctor Reports Progress In Fight Against Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Maryland physician has outlined a new treatment which may eventually lead to the cure of Hodgkin's disease, the most common type of cancer affecting persons in the 25-to-35 age group.

Dr. Vincent T. DeVita Jr., of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., described the treatment yesterday at the opening session of the American Association for Cancer Research.

He said Hodgkin's disease, a cancer of the glands, strikes about 15,000 new victims in the United States each year.

DeVita said a new drug combination has greatly lengthened the period of temporary disappearance of the disease achieved in earlier single drug treatments.

"Freeing our patients of the disease for a long period is the best we can offer right now," the physician said. "We think we can cure cancer with some form of drugs, but we're in a new field and it will take some time to find out."

DeVita and two other Bethesda doctors, Arthur Serpick and Paul Carbone, found that their four-drug combination produced an average disease-free period of more than 20 months. Single-drug treatments gave patients reprises averaging only two months.

The Maryland physicians treated 43 persons with advanced Hodgkin's disease, and 35 of them achieved complete remissions for periods ranging from 2 to 42 months. DeVita said it would take several more years to determine the actual median disease-free time.

He said one of the most important features of the combination-drug treatment is that patients do not develop resistance to it, as they do in the single-drug treatment.

Hodgkin's disease so far has been pronounced curable only in its very early stages, when it can be treated with radiotherapy.

"We're optimistic that we'll be able to develop a cure for it and the other forms of cancer one of these days," DeVita said.

Terra Linda Co-Ed Wins Speech Contest

Catherine Madden, a Terra Linda High School senior, has won the Zone 1 student speakers' contest of the Marin County Lions Club, making her eligible to go on to district competition against winners of the other two Lions Club zones of Marin.

Miss Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Madden, 1748 Las Gallinas, San Rafael, won the contest held Tuesday at the San Geronimo Country Club.

Mary Ellen Wilkins: A Gal In A Man's World

LEADFOOT LADY—Go ahead, take a good gander at that picture above. Would you believe that some kids call her Granny and that she rides to work on a bike?

True. Another unusual thing about pretty Mary Ellen Wilkins of Oakland is that she's a pip of a sports car racing competitor, a talent she will display next weekend during the Sports Car Club of America's national points races at Sears Point International Raceway.

And, yes, Mary Ellen is a stepgranny. She has five children and two grandchildren, her husband John's by a previous marriage.

'Always Was A Tomboy'

How did this 27-year-old lass get into the predominantly male sport of motor racing? "Well, I always was a tomboy," she smiled prettily during a recent gabfest with Sears Point officials. "I wasn't the type for sewing and stuff like that. I could take a bike apart and put it together again. Things like that. I enjoy the challenge of competing against men."

Does her attractive femininity win favors from her masculine contemporaries? "No, I don't get any special breaks. When I first started there were some snide remarks from the men about women drivers, but they disappeared when I proved I wasn't an emotional, silly thing just out for a lark. Now we're all friends."

One Of Three Women Drivers

Actually, Mary Ellen is one of three cupcakes competing in the SCCA's sedan Class A sports car division in Northern California along with Judy Kondratieff of Orinda in a Mini Cooper and Alena Erwin of Placerville in a Porsche.

What does hubby think of Mary Ellen's racing? "There aren't many husbands as wonderful as mine in regards to my racing," she nodded toward John Wilkings, an Oakland businessman who is an elder in the Morman church.

The shapely redhead is so keenly competitive that she is thinking about turning to professional racing. "I'd be making the jump to the pros because of the keener competition," she said. "The only difference on the surface is that you're racing for money."

'Never Without Perfume'

A tomboy she ain't. "I'm never without my perfume," she admitted when asked if it were difficult to stay feminine in the exciting sport.

Mary Ellen had one minor problem when she started racing. She didn't fit too well in men's racing outfits what with . . . er . . . um . . . curves and all that. "I make my own now," she explained.

If you're at Sears Point this weekend when Mary Ellen embarks on her quest for national championship points, you may have trouble identifying her behind those goggles, helmet and togs, speeding around the hilly curves.

But after the race, when she steps out of her racing role. . . . Gangbusters.

1,000 Rooters Greet Bruins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The cheers of nearly 1,000 UCLA supporters greeted the Bruin basketball team yesterday as it arrived from Louisville with its third straight national collegiate title.

Lew Alcindor, who spearheaded all three Bruins teams to NCAA victories, wasn't on the plane. He took a flight home to New York after Saturday's final game—a 92-72 rout of Purdue for the title.

Coach John Wooden, after winning his fifth national title in six years, said he felt next year's team would play a different brand of ball but would be very strong, even without the 7-foot-1½ Alcindor.

But, said Wooden, the Pacific-8 conference would probably be the strongest conference in the country.

Mathis Favored To Whip Quarry

NEW YORK (UPI)—Buster Mathis is an 11-5 favorite to beat Jerry Quarry in a 12-round bout tonight in Madison Square Garden and move closer to another heavyweight title shot.

The only defeat Mathis has suffered in 30 pro bouts was last March when he was stopped by Joe Frazier in a bout for the vacant five-state heavyweight title. Quarry has a 30-2-4 record, including a loss to Jimmy Ellis last year in a bout billed for the World Boxing Association heavyweight crown.

Golf's Pattern: New Winner Each Week

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Golf's gold-prospecting gypsies moved today toward the $200,000 National Airlines Open at Miami—but most of them had their minds on another kind of green.

They are thinking about the traditional green coat of the Masters champion.

"I finished fifth last year at Augusta and I hope I can do better this time," said 210-pound Ray Floyd, after beating Gardner Dickinson in a sudden death playoff for $20,000 first prize yesterday in the $100,000 Jacksonville Open.

The tournament followed the champion every week. There now have been 12 tour tournaments and 12 different winners.

The word is that golf never again will be dominated by a single man, such as Ben Hogan and Sam Snead in their days, Byron Nelson and later Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Bill Casper.

There are too many good players and they're all greedy and tough.

The Masters, April 10-13, traditionally has been an exception. Since 1958, Palmer has won it four times and Nicklaus three. Bob Goalby is defending champion.

Now Palmer has a bad hip. Nicklaus says he just hasn't got in the groove. Casper admits he's trying to sneak up on the tournament he has never won.

All played creditably in the tournament here this weekend, but at the tournament's end it was a duel between Ray Floyd, the 26-year-old, curly-haired bachelor, and the 130-pound 41-year-old Dickinson. Playing in gusty winds over the 7,221-yard, par 72 Deerwood course, they finished in a tie at 278, 10 under par, and then Floyd clinched it by knocking in a birdie on the first extra hole, a dog-leg par 5. He put his third shot two feet from the pin.

Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, tied with South Africa's Gary Player, who had a final 71, and young Dewitt Weaver, who closed with a 72.

Palmer, saying his hip didn't bother him much, finished at 281 where he tied 20-year-old Bobby Cole of South Africa, who finished with a record-tying 65 that included two eagles. Casper, closing with a 69, was at 282 with Bob Charles, Bob Murphy and Jim Colbert.

"I'll play at Miami and then take off until the Masters," Palmer said. Nicklaus plans to get lost in the Bahamas after Miami. Casper will play at Miami and Greensboro prior to the Masters.

"I've tried every formula," Casper said. "I still haven't come up with the right one."

Thurmond, Mullins Limping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, fresh from a 117-90 drubbing at the hands of the New York Knicks, head for Los Angeles and the NBA Western Division playoffs this week.

The Knicks were in control all the way as they continued their mastery over San Francisco, whom they have beaten in five of six games this year.

Both players are expected to be ready when the Warriors open a best-of-seven series against the Lakers, Western Dvision winners, Wednesday.

The second game of the series will be Friday in Los Angeles. The teams then move to San Francisco for games March 31 and April 2.

New York's Dick Barnett was the high scorer Saturday with 35 points. Reserve guard Jim King was high for the Warriors, with 19.

Seal Rookie Ferguson Sets Record

By DAVID DIETZ

That's what Norm Ferguson of the Oakland Seals did last night as his 20-foot shot beat the Los Angeles Kings, 5-4, and set a new rookie scoring record in the National Hockey League.

The victory clinched second place in the Western Division for the Seals, while the Kings tumbled into fourth. Oakland, with back-to-back wins over Los Angeles during the weekend, brought a swift end to a battle for the second spot between the teams. Ferguson's goal, his second of the night, gave him 33 for the season, one more the Danny Grant of the Minnesota Stars, another rookie. Earlier, both players had smashed the old rookie record of 30 goals set in 1954-55 by Bernie Geoffrion.

In a race fanned by sportswriters, Grant and Ferguson are vying for the Calder Cup and $1,500 cash as the NHL's best rookie. Grant, who broke Geoffrion's record first and retains a total point advantage over Ferguson, had been getting most of the attention, but the spotlight is now on the Seals' scrappy wing with his 33 goals.

CHEERS

The tally that beat the Kings came with less than three minutes to play and brought most of the 4,219 fans to their feet for an ovation. Goalie Wayne Rutledge was helpless as Feruson and teammate Joe Szure broke around a Los Angeles defenseman.

"I just rared back and let it go," Ferguson said later. "You try for the best spots and hope they hit."

Los Angeles tied the score, 4-4, with about five minutes to lay on a tip-in by Real Lemiuex as the Seals squandered a 4-1 lead. After Howie Menard put Los Angeles ahead, 1-0, in the first period, the Seals retaliated with four goals in the second period by Earl Ingarfield, Bert Marshall, Ferguson and Gerry Ehman.

UNASSISTED

Lemieux's first goal of the night and an unassisted tally by Jimmy Peters, who stole a poor pass, then narrowed Oakland's lead to 4-3 before Lemieux's tying goal.

Oakland coach Fred Glover balmed the Kings' comeback on a breakdown in Seals' checking. He said his players probably got cocky after their fourth straight goal sent starting goalie Gerry Desjardins, another candidate for the Calder Cup, to the bench.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL

Deron Johnson Hoping To Return To '65 Form

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Deron Johnson is looking forward eagerly to the 1969 baseball season because he once again seems to be the slugger of 1965.

The 30-year old native of San Diego, led the National League in slugging and runs batted in with Cincinnati that season and many experts thought he would become the league's brightest star. Now, three disappointing seasons later, Johnson is trying a comeback with the Philadelphia Phillies.

At this stage of spring training it appears certain that Johnson's heavy slugging has won him a berth on the Phillies' infield at either first or third base. Manager Bob Skinner says he is undecided over which position Johnson should play but that he wants his bat in the lineup.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 210-pounder, who had a broken bone removed from his right hand after the Phillies acquired him last winter from the Atlanta Braves, drove in four runs with two homers and a double yesterday to lead the Phillies to a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. He has hit four homers and driven in 10 runs in the Phillies' last five games.

SORE SHOULDER

Jim Lonborg, 22-game-winning hero of Boston's 1967 American League pennant triumph, left yesterday's 7-3 loss to the New York Mets with a sore right shoulder and the seriousness of the ailment is unknown. Ken Boswell and Bobby Heise drove in two runs each for the Mets, who raised their spring record to 8-6.

On other fronts: Bob Robertson's three-run homer led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-4 triumph over the Minnesota Twins despite a homer by Ted Uhlaender and two hits by rookie Chuck Manuel . . . Dave May's two-run single, followed by Paul Blair's run-scoring single, enabled the Baltimore Orioles to score three runs in the seventh inning and beat the Braves 4-3. Dave McNally, Gene Brabender and Eddie Watt held the Braves to five hits.

HOWARD HOMERS

Gary Holman's homer, a two-run double by Del Unser and a two-run single by Frank Howard sparked a six-run, eighth-inning rally which lifted the Washington Senators to a 10-6 win over the Houston Astros. It was the Senators' third win in 16 games under Manager Ted Williams . . . Homers by Alex Johnson, Lee May and Johnny Bench led the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-3 decision over the New York Yankees.

Don Pavletich's two-run single climaxed a four-run eighth inning as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City Royals 4-2 . . . Two errors by shortstop John Kennedy and a wild pitch by Bob Richmond enabled the Chicago Cubs to beat the Seattle Pilots 7-6 after a 5-4 11-inning loss in a rare exhibition doubleheader.

WINNER

Dave Campbell, trapped in a rundown, scored the winning run on an interference call against catcher Jim Hutto as the Detroit Tigers edged the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6. Lou Brock hit a two-run homer for the Cardinals and Al Kaline hit a two-run homer off Bob Gibson for the Tigers.

Tars Win Baseball Game, 7-4

College of Marin's baseball team exploded for five runs in the eighth inning to take a 7-4 Camino Norte Conference win over Solano at Vallejo's Wilson Park Saturday.

The Tars are now 3-1 in conference play.

College of Marin got six of its seven hits in the eighth inning, with the big one coming on a two-run pinch single by Dave Obrantz.

Mike Terry was rocked for a four-run Solano inning in the fourth as the losers mixed two hits with two Tar errors to hold a 4-2 lead until the fatal eighth inning.

Golf Teams Tie In Tournament

The Marin Country Club's mixed best ball foursome tournament resulted in a two-way tie for first yesterday at the Marin Country Club golf course.

The foursome of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Altermatt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McConnell and Mrs. W. R. Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Antoine had scores of 59 to finish in a tie for first.

Four teams were tied for third with 61s.

4th Swimmer Qualifies For Nationals

Fourteen-year-old Denise Ham of the Marin Swim Club became the fourth Marin County teen swimmer to qualify for the National Senior Indoor Swimming Championships at Long Beach April 10-13 with a record-breaking performance at the Senior Development Meet in Palo Alto Saturday.

Denise swam the 200-yard butterfly in 2:17.6, breaking the national qualifying mark of 2:21.4. She joins Marin County national qualifiers Robin Bachrach, Vicki Bitgood and Leslie Bryans.

In the Stingray Swim Club's B meet at Rohnert Park Saturday and yesterday, Mitch Amundsmen in boys 9-10 and Lauren Beigel in girls eight and under made A times for the Marin Swim Club while Linda Placak in girls 9:10 and Debbie Ford in girls eight and under made A times for the San Rafael Swim Club.

San Domenico Girls Dominate Tennis

San Domenico School for Girls of Sleepy Hollow diminated the Holy Cross High School Invitational girls tennis meet at Mountain View Staurday and yesterday, taking both the singles and doubles titles.

WIN 7 OF 8

Prep Baseballers Have A Fine Day

Marin County Athletic League baseball teams got in tune for the 1969 league race, which starts Friday, by taking seven out of eight games against non-league foes Saturday, sweeping three doubleheaders in the process.

MCAL favorite Novato whacked Santa Rosa twice, 5-0 and 7-2 in Santa Rosa. New league entry San Marin (5-2) mauled inept Healdsburg, 14-0 and 13-6 at Healdsburg and Redwood nicked Vanden tf Fairfield twice, 2-0 and 2-1, at Redwood. In single games, Tamalpais stopped Hogan of Vallejo, 4-2, at Tamalpais, and Soquel of Santa Cruz clipped Marin Catholic (3-5), 4-0, in Santa Cruz.

Russ Dillon gave up two hits and struck out 18 in the opener for Novato (5-0) while Glen Holsclaw, John Morrow and Steve McNally shared hurling duties in the nightcap.

Healdsburg committed 15 errors in the two games against San Marin while the Mustangs totaled up 23 hits and 27 runs. Jack Burnam went five for seven for the two games, getting on base with every at bat (three walks and two fielder's choice). Steve Francis struck out ten in winning the opener on a three-hitter.

Two-run homers by Mike LLocati and Ken Bolstad propelled Tamalpais (3-4) to its win over Hogan.

Perry Hurls Exhibition Victory

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Gaylord Perry held the California Angeles to six hits yesterday as the San Francisco Giants smothered the Angeles 10-1

The Giants got their first five runs off loser southpaw George Brunet, scoring three in the second inning on two walks, a hit and an error, and two more in the third when another southpaw, Clyde Wright, came in to stop the rally.

The Angels got their lone run when Rich Reichardt doubled to lead off the sixth, and with two out, was singled home by catcher Tom Satriano.

56 Girls Compete In Gymnastics Meet

Fifty-six girl gymnasts representing 13 schools competed for top honors at the first Northern California Championship Elite girls gymnastics meet at San Rafael High School Saturday.

Leading the way for Marin competitors was Jenny Hammond of Tamalpais High School who was third in all-around beginners class with a fourth in the balanced beam, a fifth in the vaulting and a fifth in the uneven parallel bars.

Jenny Shipp of Tamalpais was fourth overall, taking a fourth in the uneven parallel bars. Kathy Quinlan of Tamalpais was first in the unever parallel bars and Kathy Miers of Terra Linda was fifth in the same event.

College Park of Pleasant Hill captured the team title while individual honors went to Barbara Mason of College Park (outstanding senior) and Patty Young of Galileo of San Francisco (outstanding performer).

Athletics Top Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Oakland righthander Jim Nash hopes he'll be able to get the same kind of early hitting support he got yesterday during the regular season.

Nash was staked to a quick 5-1 lead on homers by Sal Bando, Danny Cater and Dick Green as the Athletics upped their Cactus League record to 6-7 with a 7-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Green later singled in two more runs to give him four for the game.

ICKX WINS SEBRING

Fragile Cars Battered

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Elimination of minimum weights for prototype sports cars in international racing this year has produced bodies super light and downright fragile.

They were so fragile that the rough Sebring course and a seemingly increased supply of those traffic cones that police everywhere use to mark lanes during rush hours combinned to literally pound the exotic machines into submission.

In part, that is the story of the victory by Jackie Ickx of Belgium and Jack Oliver of England in the 12-hour Sebring Endurance Race Saturday.

The rest of the story is the charmed life of the Ford GT40 cars, which have been racing five years and are still gracing victory lanes more often than any other machine.

When the Ford drivers first pitted their sturdy machines against the brand new, featherweight Ferraris and Porsches as qualifying began Thursday, they found their best was five seconds a lap slower than Ferrai.

"Competition becomes quite difficult when you are that much slower," Ickx said, "even though the Ford is still quite a good car."

"I drove behind the Porches through the 'esses' several times," said veteran Bob Grossman of West Nyack, N.Y. "They bounded from side to side every time and I woundered if their suspension was going to survive that pounding."

It didn't. Two Porsches went out of action and the others had long pit stops for repairs.

Oakland Bout Slated Friday

OAKLAND (AP) — California light heavyweight champ Terry Lee of Concord, recently recovered from the flu, will take on heavyweight Marty Franklin Friday in a 10-rounder at the Oakland Auditorium.

Franklin is billed as the heavyweight champion of Ohio but has been fighting in the Bay Area.

Lee, whose sickness forced postponement of their earlier scheduled bout, is expected to weigh 180, about 15 pounds less than Franklin.

Lew Winds Up Collegiate Career, Bruins Win Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Lew Alcindor may rule again but not as a dictator.

The giant 7-foot-1½ inch center from UCLA completed his reign as king of college basketball Saturday by leading UCLA to an unprecedented third consecutive NCAA crown and climaxed the greatest three-year era in collegiate basketball history.

Alcindor's reign produced 88 victories in 90 games for the Bruins, and he was complete dictator. He forced opposing teams into different tactics than they would normally employ and almost always controlled the game.

IT'S OVER

But, that's all over now. Alcindor's next big challenge will come from professional basketball, and it will be interesting to see how he meets it.

"I saw Bill Russell dominate college basketball for three straight years, so I had no doubt it could be done," said coach John Wooden Saturday after his team had defeated Purdue 92-72 for its fifth NCAA crown in six years.

"I think Lewis will be like the player he was in college in the pros, although it's very difficult to dominate the pro game. "I don't think he's reached his physical peak yet," said the Bruins' coach.

"There is no question that Alcindor will be a fine pro," said King, after big Lew had personally destroyed the Boilermakers with 37 points and 20 rebounds in his collegiate finale. "I've never seen a big guy with that much agility and mobility."

Alcindor naturally wants to play pro basketball, but he is undecided as to which league he prefers. The New York Nets of the American Basketball Association and the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association both own draft rights to Alcindor and he reportedly will sign for at least $1 million.

"I don't have a lawyer yet, so it will be a while before I decide," said Alcindor. "Right now I'm thinking about getting out of school. The situation is really up in the air, and I'm not leaning any way. I can play in New York (his home town) for the ABA, but the NBA has better players. There are a whole lot of things involved."

CONTACT SPORT

The contact of pro basketball is one thing that makes some people skeptical of Alcindor's chances to succeed. He often complained of the rough treatment he received under the boards in college, and he is sure to be pushed under continually by the pros.

"That's part of the game in the pros. I'll just have to adjust," he says.

And, what about his attitude? It sometimes appeared he didn't care for basketball that much—that it was his obligation rather than his love.

"Sometimes it turns into a job," Lew admitted. "But I don't think I could do anything with as much feeling. The main rub I had in my three years at UCLA was that sometimes, the news media tried to put me in a bad light. Not the New York papers, they've been good to me.

"But in Los Angeles it's happened. A recent article tried to put me in the worst light possible. I'm willing to take all the knocks for what I am—but not for what I'm not. This to me has been the worst thing about my three years."

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

MAR. 24, 1933

SLAPSIE MAXIE ROSENBLOOM, DEFENDING HIS TITLE FOR THE THIRD TIME IN 30 DAYS, KAYOED FLORIDA'S BOB GOODWIN IN FOUR ROUNDS AT NEW YORK AND ESTABLISHED HIMSELF AS THE UNDISPUTED LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING CHAMPION.

Temple Wins NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Neal Walk, Simmie Hill, Bobby Smith, Butch Beard. Those were the college basketball stars who were to light up the 1969 National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

But by last Saturday's final, all the glitter belonged to a hockey buff who only took up basketball after he outgrew his skates, and a former business school student who never played basketball in high school.

TO FINALS

Terry Driscoll of Boston College and John Baum of Temple were the pair who took their teams to the final. Baum and the Owls completed their surprising surge to the top by beating the Eagles 89-76 for their first NIT title since 1938, the year of the first NIT.

Driscoll, a 6-foot-7 senior pivot man who watched plenty of hockey games in Boston but never a college basketball game until he was a senior in high school, came into the tournament with little national recognition.

All he had was a 24-point average for the 16th-ranked team in the country which assumed the favorite role from the start, and the praise of retiring coach Bob Cousy.

"He's certain to be a first-round pick in the pro draft," Cousy has maintained. "He starts the fast break better than any forward in the National Basketball Association today.

PRE-MED STUDENT

Driscoll, a good-looking pre-med student who was a defenseman in hockey until his feet grew to a size 14 in high school, led the NIT in scoring with 96 points, 18 in the final, and in rebounding with 59.

Driscoll's performance was enough to win him the Most Valuable Player award by one vote over Baum, who must have been the most overlooked team ace when the tourney began. After all, he played for Temple, the forgotten team from Philadelphia, where the Owls only ranked third best.

LEAPER

Baum, a 6-5 senior who leaps like a pogo stick, came into the tourney with a 19-point average and went out with 84 points and 54 rebounds in four games.

He scored 30 points in the final, including 20 in the last half when the Owls made up a 67-62 deficit and then pulled away from a 75-73 lead with nine straight points.

Coach Eddie Crowder of Colorado called Mike Schnitker "the best defensive end in the country" for 1968. He was drafted by the Denver Broncos.

FOOTBALL REALIGNMENT

Big Issue Can Wait

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — American Football League owners weren't about to stage a sit-in or even a swim-in at this desert resort at the foot of the San Jacinto Mountains last week. But they went home a much more unified and militant band of millionaires than ever before.

Their new militancy is reflected in the new realignment committee they named at the end of their week-long winter meetings with the National Football League.

Oakland's Al Davis, who as league commissioner spearheaded the signing war that culminated in the 1966 merger, is the chairman of the four-man group that replaces the trio of owners who, with their NFL counterparts on the joint study committee, had unanimously recommended retention of the present setup for 1970.

OTHERS

The other three members of the new committee are Paul Brown of Cincinnati, Lamar Hunt of Kansas City and Gene Klein of San Diego. Hunt was retained from the original group, but Buffalo's Ralph Wilson and Boston's Billy Sullivan were not.

Brown's is the most interesting name among the quartet. In the league for only one year, the former NFL owner-coach has emerged as one of the AFL's strongmen.

He did it by going to the meetings determined to gain realignment for 1970 and convincing some of his more moderate colleagues that they should not buy what the NFL was selling—the two leagues as they are now plus some inter-league games.

He, and those who thought as he did, particularly Gerald Phipps of Denver, wound up turning the meetings around and sending all 26 owners home with the knowledge that there has to be some form of realignment.

ETERNITY

Actually, the AFL owners, according to one of them, were prepared to "stay for eternity" to reach an agreement rather than recessing until sometime next month.

"We were ready to stay for as long as necessary," said the owner, who declined use of his name. "But the commissioner came to us Friday night and advised us that he thought it best to recess."

Before they recessed, though, the AFL owners made it clear to the NFL what their goals are in a realignment. They listed them as follows:

1. Retain identities. 2. Set up a good television package. 3. Home-and-home competition between teams in the same division to determine a true champion. 4. Small numerical groupings. 5. Preseason interleague games. 6. Traditional rivalries.

DIDN'T CARE

The AFL at first did not necessarily care about small groupings, but has shifted its attitude in acquiescence to the NFL.

The plan that would best fit these points is the one that would transfer three NFL teams to the AFL, resulting in two 13-team conferences of two divisions of four teams and one of five.

That's the plan the NFL study committee reportedly has before it now.

USC Dominates Easter Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jim Ryun and the University of Kansas track team clash in an intersectional duel meet Saturday with UCLA at the Bruins track stadium in the highlight meet of the week.

At the same time the powerful University of Southern California track team takes on Occidental College at the Coliseum in their traditional dual meet.

Southern California dominated last Saturday's 31st annual Santa Barbara Easter Relays by capturing 10 of 15 events in the university division, including victories in four relay events.

82 POINTS

The Trojans scored 82 points while runnerup California had 38 and Stanford scored 30. Arizona was fourth with 24 and UCLA which entered only eight men had 19.

In the college division, host University of California at Santa Barbara scored 37 1-2 points to 30 for Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo, NCAA college division champions.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Dennis Savage of Westmont in the college division who captured the open mile in 4:06.5 and anchored the winning two-mile relay team. He was named athlete of the meet.

FIRST LOSS

In the university division, the shot 61-9 3-4 to hand teammate Steve Marcus his first intercollegiate loss since 1967. Marcus was second at 59-10 1-2.

Lennox Miller of USC captured the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds after winning a heat in 9.4 and he anchored both the 440 and 880 relay wins for the Trojans.

Other top performances included the victory by Mike Wagenbach of Los Angeles Valley College in the two-mile in 9:08.2 to highlight junior college competition.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

If it is necessary for you to wait a moment before starting your delivery, relax during this time. You can have your feet in the proper starting position and even have your fingers in the holes of the ball, but still be at ease. If you remain tense while waiting you will probably be too keyed-up to attain the easy rhythm necessary for good scores.

Oaks In Final Trip On Road

DALLAS (AP)—The Oakland Oaks are in Texas on their final road trip of the American Basketball Association season.

The Oaks have long since clinched the Western Division title but can improve on their 54-17 record before entering the playoffs.

They meet fourth-place Dallas of the Western Division tonight and play last-place Houston Wednesday night.

On Saturday night, the Oaks smashed Houston 147-115.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1603 England and Scotland were joined under James XI of Scotland.

In 1934 the United States granted the Philippines independence, effective July 4, 1946.

A thought for the day: Arthur Schopenhauer said, "The most general survey shows us that the two foes of human happiness are pain and boredom."

Two Substances Could Aid Addicts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two substances which may help narcotics addicts overcome their habit have been discovered by a professor of pharmacology and toxicology at the University of California Medical Center.

Dr. E. Leong Way reported discovery of the substances, which prevent mice from becoming addicted to morphine. He said the discovery may have application to human drug addicts.

'Senseless' Play By East Assures Four-Heart Contract

"Pfui!" said the Old Kibitzer. "These modern bridge players are such smart alecks that I can't bear to watch them. They go out of their way to do unusual things instead of playing simple, sensible bridge." And he stamped out of the club, shaking his head angrily.

Opening lead — ♣ 4

West had opened the four of clubs, and South thought before playing from the dummy. Meanwhile, the Old Kibitzer mentally played the ace of clubs and was mentally playing the next three tricks. Finally, South played the low club from dummy at the first trick. This was the "senseless" play that incensed the old gentleman and drove him home to his television set.

East took the first trick with the queen of clubs and returned a club to dummy's ace. Declarer returned a diamond from dummy, and East took the ace of diamonds and got out safely with a low diamond.

South ruffed the diamond in the dummy, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the king of diamonds and led a spade to try a finesse with the dummy's ten.

NO SAFE RETURN

East won with the queen of spades but could not make a safe return. If East returned a spade, dummy would get a free finesse; and if East returned anything else, dummy would ruff while South discarded a spade. South made his contract, losing only one club, one diamond and one spade.

MISSES POINT

The Old Kibitzer missed the point of the first play, which gave the club trick to East. If declarer took the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs, West would later win a club trick with the jack. West would then lead a spade, rescuing his partner from the end play. East would get two spade tricks, and the contract would go up in smoke.

The department of biological sciences has acquired a floating laboratory known as the "G.C. Researcher." Samples of the river's water are taken and studied.

"The Mississippi River is big and complicated," said Rev. John Ostdick, who is in charge of the project. "It's going to take a lot of study."

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Some Moving Expenses Are Deductible In Job Changing

Wikel

Did you move at your employers' request or because you have a new employer? If so, you may be able to deduct the cost of moving.

Your new job location must be at least 20 miles further from your old home than the old job was.

You must be employed full time for at least 39 weeks during the 12-month period immediately after the move. You do not have to work for one employer for the 39 weeks, nor must the weeks be consecutive. It is necessary only that you be employed full-time and live within the general commuting area of such place of employment.

DEDUCTION CLAIM

If you move and pay the expenses in the last part of the year and it looks as though you will be employed for 39 weeks out of the 12 months following your move, you can go ahead and claim the deduction. However, if you don't work for the full 39 weeks, you must include whatever you deducted last year in your next year's income.

If your employer pays your moving expenses, you can deduct them up to the amount your employer pays, even if you are not working full time. If your moving expenses are more than your employer paid, you may deduct the excess only if you can meet the 20 mile test and are employed full time.

REASONABLE COST

Deductible moving expenses are the reasonable costs of moving yourself , your family and your household goods and personal effects from your old home to your new home. Costs of meals and lodging for you and your family while enroute from your old to your new home are part of your moving expense. Living expenses prior to the move or following the arrival in the area of the new residence are not deductible.

The cost of moving household goods and personal effects includes the actual transportation, packing and crating and in-transit storage.

Expenses in excess of a reasonable amount, under the circumstances of the particular move, may not be deducted.

Moving expenses are deductible from gross income in computing adjusted gross income, so you can deduct your moving expenses regardless of whether you elect to itemize or not.

Secure Form 3903 from the IRS and complete it fully. Attach this form to your tax return to explain the deduction you make on form 1040 on page 2, part 3, line 2.

Tobacco Firms Now Reshaping Images

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. What are your thoughts on the future of tobacco stocks? — M. C.

A. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. soon will adopt a new name which will not include the word tobacco. This will complete a cycle begun last year by Liggett and Myers, followed by American Tobacco soon to be called American Brands. Although the deletion may result in an improved public image, it will not alter the basic nature of these companies.

Among the four tobacco companies that now remain as corporate entities, nontobacco products accounted for only between 12 and 28 per cent of 1968 sales figures. Total cigarette consumption in the United States dropped fractionally in the year ended last July but is expected to remain stable in the current fiscal year.

With at least three federal agencies solidly behind a ban on TV and radio cigarette advertising when the federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act expires in June, the tobacco lobby may be in for a real battle. However, the possible imposition of an advertising ban would eliminate the free time given to antismoking messages.

And certainly some of the $225 million now spent annually on radio and TV advertising would be released for diversification and improvement of financial positions. If money now spent on these forms of advertising were to flow directly to earnings, some estimates show net as much as 50 per cent higher than reported results.

If the stock market continues to deteriorate — and most indicators point in this direction — there will be some very tempting bargains among the tobacco stocks.

Antitrust News Blamed For Poor Day On Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market finished on the losing side for the second consecutive session today, but the margin was skimpy as it was on Friday.

The UPI stock market indicator was off 0.12 per cent on 1,521 issues traded. Of these, there were 677 declines, 604 advances.

A major discouragement for traders was the Justice Department's announced intention to break Ling-Temco's 63 per cent hold on Jones and Laughlin, a major steel firm, in an antitrust suit, presumably the start of a drive to cut conglomerates down to size.

A depressant also was Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy's statement that the 7 per cent investment tax credit may be too high.

Electronics, weak for the first half of the session, picked up somewhat later. A feature of the group was Collins Radio. Electronic Data Systems announced it planned an exchange offer to stockholders of Collins Radio. The latter, which had a delayed opening, was firm.

Motors also were firm and most steels were in the plus column.

Chemicals softened, led by Allied Chemical. Dow was among the few gainers in the group.

College Of Marin To Offer Seminar On Theft Prevention

Business owners, executives and credit managers will find valuable information in a seminar starting at College of Marin next month on "Preventing Theft in Your Business."

The course is being sponsored by the college in connection with the U.S. Small Business Administration. Discussions will be led by experts in various fields of fraud and theft who have daily contact with "white collar crimes." It will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. from April 8 through May 13 at Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus.

Fee of $10 will include all materials and a "graduation" dinner on May 13 at Loch Lomond Yacht Club.

Speakers include Dr. Eugene A. Farrar of College of Marin; Tom Frazier of National Cash Register Co.; G. R. Matheis, United Pacific Insurance Group; Steven Leonesio, San Rafael manager of Macy's; Michel Felsenstein of California Locksmiths Association; author Norman F. Dacey; Bud Semrau of Albertson's, Inc.; G. E. Higgins, Fairchild Semiconductor; Inspector Jerry Souza, San Rafael Police Department; W. F. Fritsche, Bank of America; and Marin County District Attorney Bruce B. Bales.

AN UNDERWATER FILM which recently had its premiere in Santa Monica at the International Underwater Film Festival has been produced by The Film Works — recently formed division of Patterson and Hall, a San Francisco graphic design company.

The Film Works has among its four principals three Marin residents: Tom Hall of San Rafael, Chester (Chet) Patterson of Greenbrae and photographer Gordon Emberly of Larkspur.

The production, "The Privileged World," was photographed in color in the Caribbean. It was co-produced and directed by Hall.

TWO MARIN MEN have received new appointments at Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies.

Jack S. Hupp, now living in Novato, has been named assistant regional sales manager in San Francisco. He joined the organization at Seattle in 1954. His most recent assignment was the company since 1948. of personal lines training in the home office manpower development and training department. He has been an instructor in the department since 1967 and has been with Fireman's Fund since 1964.

Nevins Todd

commercial lines manager in the Denver branch.

Reed E. Griffin of Mill Valley has been advanced to director

BRUCE S. NEVINS of Sausalito has been promoted to assistant to the general manager of Levi Strauss International. Before joining the organization last August he was an account executive with Benton and Bowles Advertising in New York.

Kenneth W. Todd of Novato has joined the personnel department of Levi Strauss and Co. in the new position of corporate employment manager. He had been personnel director for Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies.

CORRECTION. The John J. Adams, general manager of Cecil Whitebone, Inc., San Francisco, mentioned in our column of March 18, lives in San Rafael —not Fairfax.

PAUL E. POLING of Novato has been elected vice president of marketing for Moore Manufacturing Co., a producer of garden hoess. He has been with the company since 1959, and has served in the production department, as shipping manager, salesman and national sales manager. He will be headquartered at Moore's plant in Brisbane.

FLOYD H. WINES of San Anselmo, assistant general freight agent for Santa Fe Railway at San Francisco, will attend a six-week seminar at the University of Southern California in June for an Institute of Business Economics course. He has been with

SYLVAN IS THE WORD!
In fact, that's even the name of the street these homes are on!
The first features 2 bedrooms, knotty pine living room with a fireplace & Cathedral beamed ceiling. Full basement, redwood log trim on the outside, and nestled beautifully on a rustic ½ acre lot. $24,950.
The second home is also 2 bedrooms, fireplace, split bathroom, basement, lovely natural patio on a 16,000-ft. lot which seems even larger. Own your own private estate for just $19,950.
If you are considering a starter home, retirement home or even a summer or weekend home, one of these may be just the ticket!

HOME WITH
Mother-in-law quarters. This beautiful reconditioned home, on a level lot, walking distance to town and schools, has almost complete living quarters below. An extra kitchen, and a huge area that has been completely sheet rocked and rewired, plus new light fixtures. This large area is now 3 large rooms, but one room could be a huge family room or divided into 2 big bdrms. — this lower area is almost another complete home perfect for your mother-in-law or a large family. The upper portion has an all new kitchen, including stove and refrig., all new bathroom, new luxury w/w carpeting, new furnace, all new copper pipes and new wiring thruout. The bdrms. are extra large. This beautiful property sits on a 50x110 level lot with plenty of trees. The lot alongside, of equal dimensions, could also be purchased. Combining both lots would make this an R-2 lot. House and one lot only $24,500.

Legislature Toils To Get Its Recess

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A heavy week of work faced California legislators today before they embark on a nine-day Easter recess.

The legislators planned their first Friday meeting of the year before taking the brief vacation. Up to now, the two houses have met Monday through Thursday, taking a three-day weekend.

Clerks in the two houses will spend the time bracing themselves for the usual avalanche of proposed bills that are introduced on the final day allowing unrestricted introductions, April 6.

So far, as the session began its 1th week, some 1,144 bills and constitutional amendments have been introduced in the Assembly, and 707 in the Senate.

The assembly is scheduled to vote sometime during the week on a bill to raise the sales tax in the three San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District counties by one-half cent, to solve the system's financial woes.

It also has another transportation tax hike on file — this one to raise the state gasoline tax by one cent from April 1 through Sept. 30. The money would be used to repair state and local roads damaged in the recent storms.

Sale Set To Aid Students' Exchange

Redwood High School's International Student Exchange will hold its annual rummage sale and silent auction from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. April 11 and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 12.

Proceeds from the sale are to help pay the way for Redwood students to study abroad.

Bay Lawmaker Seeks Open Lands Preserves

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An assemblyman proposed stronger efforts today to preserve California's open lands, citing recent flood and slide damge to homes as an example of local governmental bungling of the problem.

If local government still doesn't take the initiative, he said, then "every possible avenue must be explored, including more extensive use of the police power. Effective action in the preservation of open space is mandatory, and to the extent necessary should be assumed by the state."

He noted that the recent program enacted by the legislature of allowing local government to give tax breaks to owners of open spaces, especially farmers, was "to preserve California's prime farmland as well as to contain and guide the growth of urban areas."

But, he noted, "the fact that only about 10 per cent of the land under the Land Conservation Act is either prime farm land or situated within three miles of any city seems to indicate that the present program is falling short of its mark."

Knox added, "if such failures continue to prevail, this program has little chance of long-range sucess."

Cities and counties have failed to use the power that lawmakers gave them to preserve open land, the assemblyman declared, and cited recent storm damage as a result.

"Many local governments ahve passed up the opportunity of preserving flood plains and steeply sloping areas as open-spaces, and by doing so have often permitted construction upon areas actually unsafe for residential building," Knox declared. he added:

"Not only does the community thus lose the advantages of open space, but each year homeowners pay the price of having built or purchased a home in an area where it never should have been permitted."

Only 23 of the 58 counties have used the land conservation program, Knox reported, and said another 10 might join the program this year.

He said the legislature was partly at fault for not providing enough money to help carry out the program, and for not making it clear what it wanted done.

Under the law, county supervisors may allow their tax assessor to put a lower taxable value on open land if it qualifies for the program. In the case of farmers, they must agree to keep the land for agricultural use for at least 10 years.

Miniature Countries Travelogue Slated

The Explorers Club of San Francisco will present a two-hour color travel film on "Europe's Miniature Countries" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

The movie, featuring tours of Andorra, Lichtenstein, San Marino, Monaco and the military order of Malta in Rome, will be narrated in person by its two photographers, former actresses Lisa Chickering and Jeanne Porterfield.

Oratorio Choir Will Perform

The oratorio choir of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley will present a free public performance of John Stainer's "The Crucifixion" at 8 p.m. April 24 in Broadus Hall Chapel on the Strawberry Point campus.

Dr. Carlyle Bennett, professor of church music at the seminary, will direct the presentation, and Mrs. Orine Suffern, instructor of church music in the same division, will play the organ.

Michael England, a first year master of divinity student from Mill Valley, will be bass soloist. Jerald Reeves, a second year master of religious education student from Oklahoma City, Okla., and An Tjoen Thio, a first year master of religious education student from Djakarta, Indonesia, will be tenor soloists.

Minimum Wage Hike To Be Asked

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Major reform in California's labor law, which could result in establishing a minimum wage per hour in the state of $2.12, and require automatic annual cost of living increases to that minimum wage, will be proposed in the State Assembly today by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills.

Sieroty's proposals also would extend the minimum wage protections to male employees not covered under the federal minimum wage law; require at least two women to serve on the five member Industrial Welfare Commission; require a review every three years by the commission on wages, hours, and working conditions of all California employees; redefine "minor" to mean any person under 18 years of age rather than 21; and require that minors be paid the same rate as adults when their production is comparable, but at no time would they receive less than 75 per cent of the minimum wage of adults.

The assemblyman said the proposals would increase the level of earnings of "those people at the bottom of the economic scale."

To obtain the $2.12 per hours, Sieroty calls for a change in the standard by which the Industrial Welfare Commission determines the minimum wage by giving consideration to the basic minimum needed to provide a proper living in light of the prevailing standard of living, and by establishing a minimum wage floor not less than 60 per cent of the current average hourly earnings of blue collar workers.

Another part of the package calls for the Industrial Welfare Commission to provide automatic annual cost of living increases in the minimum wage.

Car Stereo Theft

Fred Lloyd Quirin of 684 Blackberry Lane, Marinwood, reported to San Rafael police Friday that his car stereo set was taken between 7:45 a.m. and 5:40 p.m. while the auto was parked at Terra Linda High School.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Columnist Calls For Federal Action On Tobacco-Cancer Link

There is overwhelming evidence that the danger of lung cancer increases in direct proportion to how long cigarets have been used and the amount of smoke inhaled. Tobacco manufacturers and their advisers are not ready to accept these reports.

While the controversy continues, each year 50,000 smokers die of cancer of the bronchi and neighboring tissues.

VAN DELLEN

WE RECEIVE MANY letters about our government's casual approach to the problem. On one hand, rigid regulations are passed against the use of drugs with side reactions. They forbid the sale of foods containing additives that have never hurt humans but cause skin cancers when rubbed on mice.

Yet these groups refuse to take a stand on cigarettes even though there is incriminating evidence against tobacco. They say it is not a food or drug.

But the federal government has reasons for its stand. Health department officials may be against the habit, but the agriculture and internal revenue services are all for it.

THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY is not a group to lock horns with. It is a powerful economic structure. For example, the six major manufacturers employ 36,000 persons in three states. Annually, the industry spends approximately $160 million in advertising.

But this is not all. Tobacco is grown on 600,000 farms located mainly in 10 states. Currently this unique crop yields an average of 2,000 pounds per acre for most varieties.

TOBACCO SELLS for 65 cents a pound with a return per acre of $1,300 (before expenses). It is the highest-value crop, per acre, grown in the United States.

Tobacco farmers and their families also are part of our citizenry. As a result, the United States department of agriculture is under obligation to subsidize and teach these individuals how to grow better tobacco.

Yes, embarrassing as this is, the left hand does know what the right hand is up to.

MANIA FOR OIL

R. M. writes: This concerns my father, who has a gall bladder ailment. He has a mania for oil and is drinking olive oil like it was going out of style. Vomiting and belching are causing constant distress. Do you think his remedy for gall bladder should be continued?

REPLY

Not if the treatment is worse than the disease. Furthermore, oil stimulates the organ. If there is definite X-ray evidence of a diseased gall bladder, surgery may solve your father's problem.

BLOOD AND ARTHRITIS

A reader writes: Does arthritis make the blood count go down?

REPLY

Anemia occurs in rheumatoid arthritis, but not in the other types. This blood condition is difficult to treat because it stems from the toxic effects of the basic disease and usually corrects itself when the joint manifestations subside.

ADULT HAS NIGHTMARES

REPLY

Nightmares reflect the daytime activities and therapy is directed toward what goes on while the person is awake. The easiest to cure are those that occur when the person eats before retiring or takes sleeping pills. There is some consolation in knowing that even though all your dreams won't come true, neither will your nightmares.

BUNION REPAIR AND AGE

N. T. C writes: When is a person too old for bunion surgery?

REPLY

Age is not so important as the individual's health and the condition of the circulation in the lower extremities.

NEEDS BIFOCALS

G. R. writes: Is it injurious to the eyes to use reading glasses that fuzz up all but near objects?

REPLY

No, but why torture yourself? Be fitted for bifocals and, in this way, you can have your cake and eat it.

DENTURES AND YAWNING

Mrs. J. writes: Ever since my husband was fitted with new dentures, he yawns all day long. The dentist said the new teeth had nothing to do with it. Do you agree?

REPLY

EAR NOISES

R. E. writes: Does ringing of the ears eventually lead to deafness?

REPLY

No. These noises may precede or accompany deafness but they do not cause hearing loss. Among the causes of ear ringing are obstruction of the eustachian tube or taking too much quinine.

CONTROLLING GOUT

Mr. E. writes: Can gout be cured?

REPLY

Gout is remediable, but not curable. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on gout.

VEIN STRIPPING

B. D. writes: I would like to know if varicose veins can be removed from the leg through an operation?

REPLY

Yes, and surgery is the best remedy. There is a procedure that is done under anesthesia in which the veins are stripped out from two small incisions.

Boy, 13, Wins Eighth-Grade Speech Trophy

Richard Katerndahl, a 13-year-old eighth grader at St. Raphael's School, San Rafael, won the countywide speech competition for eighth graders Friday at St. Raphael's School auditorium.

Riachard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Katerndahl of 31 Roberts Avenue, San Rafael, received a trophy in the contest sponsored by the Men's Club of St. Raphael's Parish.

Judges were Anita G. Strom, former member of the San Rafael Board of Education; Rev. Angus Dunn, president of the Marin County Council of Churches, and Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Old School Is Topic

Possible uses for an old three-room building at Lagunitas School will be discussed when the Lagunitas School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the school. The building has been abandoned for class use because it does not meet earthquake-resistance standards.

Truck Hits Ditch; Driver Is Injured

Arthur Langley, 25, of 71 Longwood Drive, San Rafael, suffered cuts on the scalp and left knee Friday morning when he swerved his truck into a ditch near 2145 Centro East to avoid an oncoming car, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Langley was driving westbound when he moved toward the shoulder to avoid the other car on the narrow road, officers said. His right front wheel dipped into a ditch, which was hidden by high weeds, and struck a driveway abutment, police reported. The accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. Langley was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Murphy Asks End To Limit On Acreage

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Legislation to abandon "unrealistic, uneconomic, unjust and obsolete" provisions of the Reclamation Law of 1902 that require that beneficiaries of federal irrigation projects limit their land holdings to 160 acres, was introduced today by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

His bill would increase the limit to 640 acres, and provide for further increases in the limitation every 10 years.

Farmers whose holdings are within the limit qualify for interest-free financing for irrigation.

Murphy said his bill was prepared by Gov. Ronald Reagan's task force that studied the limitation last year.

Things have changed dramatically in agriculture since the 1902 "concept of the dawn-to-dusk farmer and his one and only horse," Murphy said in a statement prepared for delivery on the Senate floor. "Nostalgia must not blind us to reality," he declared, adding that the change would benefit consumers through reduced prices for agricultural products.

Officials Ask Oil Well Curb

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Officials of 24 coastal cities and counties have called on the state Legislature to establish more local controls over the granting of permits for oil exploration.

The informal agreement came following a Saturday night meeting of some 45 local officials at Santa Barbara, site of an offshore oil well blowout that coated miles of Southern California beaches with crude oil last month.

The informal agreement called for legislation to set up federal sanctuaries against drilling to extend from where state sanctuaries now exist, for more local controls on granting permits for oil exploration through public hearings, for a greater local share in state oil royalties for cities particularly susceptible to spill problems and for state administration and inspection of facilities on federal submerged lands.

BLACK PROGRAM

Afro-American Studies Working

By BRUCE COLEMAN
(First of three articles)

"What did you hear?" the soft-spoken black professor asked.

"Do you think man should have a belief in something that doesn't work for him?" the professor asked another student.

"No," a student answered.

"What did you hear?" the teacher asked again.

"I felt about my life," a Caucasion girl said haltingly, "what they have and what I have. It's sort of the naked truth. I had guilt feelings."

"What did you hear?"

This time a black student replied: "I heard the humiliation that black people have been subjected to. We're second class citizens. White people say 'they' referring to black people. Up until about a year ago I believed all the —, the racist propaganda. I'm still conditioned with a lot of it."

"If you force someone to be like a dog, you turn into a dog," commented another black student.

It is part of the Afro-American studies program, started last September, which includes six courses, all taught by Negroes. The classes are in art, English, music, sociology, history and American studies.

He arrived late to class, apologized, saying he had to come from across the bay and began running a tape. The tape, "The Diary of a Harlem Family," was by writer-photographer Gordon Parks.

In sensitive prose, Parks tells how the family gives up going to church, how it feels when life goes nowhere and, in describing the tenement, says:

"Now and then a good starched dress hangs above the head like a flower above a weed patch."

While running the tape, Butler printed a quote from Parks on the blackboard in neat capital letters:

WHAT HE WANTS
WHAT HE IS
WHAT YOU FORCE HIM TO BE
IS WHAT YOU ARE

Butler made no comment on the statement.

"Why has it taken so long for blacks to rebel?" a white student asked. "There is a history of black protest," replied Butler.

Commented Butler: "Equality, balance. White man says he's superior. Black man says he's inferior. The system feeds off that concept. If a white man says 'I'm not superior,' this is to destroy the balance. With imbalance you get rebellion."

"What did you hear?" the teacher continued.

"I haven't gone hungry but I have lived in Harlem and I was taken back by hearing the tape," said a black woman.

"The rebellion is already here. It's outside," said a white student, a moment later. "College of Marin is mellow compared to a four-year college or university."

"Are the same forces at San Francisco State the same forces as here?" Butler inquired.

"Yes," said a white student. "When demands were made (here), the demands were met."

The students spoke of change

Nixon And Trudeau Discuss ABM Issue

Canadian Leader Raises Questions In State Visit

U.S. plans to construct its first two major missile sites near the Canadian border has raised strong questions and parliamentary debate in Canada.

Aides said Trudeau got from Nixon the fill-in that he had wanted. However, there were no details given on the discussions, which ranged over a wide field from Vietnam to oil and wheat trade.

After the private talks, in Nixon's office, the two men joined their top officials in the Cabinet room for acother 45 minutes of discussions.

Nixon had stressed the common ties of friendship binding the two countries as he welcomed his first official visitor.

Rain forced the welcoming ceremonies indoors. But there were trumpet flourishes and a military honor guard lining the driveway as the 49-year-old bachelor prime minister arrived at the White House to begin talks with Nixon and a round of social activities.

Nixon said the friendship of many years between Canada and the United States does not stem from a totality of agreements, but "lively diversity" is the hallmark of that friendship.

Nixon said there might be some differences but, as friends, the two countries can discuss them "and find in most instances a common ground," that may provide an even better solution.

Trudeau, making his first official visit here, expressed thanks for "the very cordial welcome" and said he appreciates Nixon according him this honor.

He, too, stressed the "very many ties that link us."

Trudeau said he is looking forward to a discussion with Nixon of matters of mutual interest and getting Nixon's views on world problems.

In addition to the ABM discussions, the two days of talks are expected to involve Canada's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other matters of continental defense.

Sirhan Jury May Hear Trance Tape

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A tape recording of Sirhan B. Sirhan reenacting under hypnosis the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—down to the squeezing of an imaginary trigger—may be introduced at his trial this week.

The defense would like to offer the recording into evidence to bolster its contention Sirhan was mentally ill when he shot Kennedy and therefore should not be sent to the gas chamber.

PROSECUTION'S GOAL

The prosecution, in its quest for the death penalty, is attempting to prove Sirhan was capable of premeditating the shooting of Kennedy. It therefore would strenuously oppose introduction of the tape.

Dr. Bernard Diamond, the psychiatrist who hypnotized Sirhan in his jail cell, was to continue testimony today for the defense. Using the technique of age regression, Diamond led the 25-year-old Arab immigrant through the events of the assassintion.

Sirhan has contended on the witness stand he cannot remember shooting Kennedy. The first thing he recalled after blacking out was being choked. The tape of the hypnotic sessions ends with Sirhan reliving the actual shooting. There is a pause, then Sirhan gasps in pain, as if somebody had his hands around his neck.

Chief Defense Attorney Grant B. Cooper would like to have Diamond hypnotize Sirhan again in court and reenact the assassination before the jury, but it was unlikely Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker would agree.

TRANCE CLAIM

Diamond, a professor in law, criminology and psychiatry at the University of California at Berkeley, said Friday Sirhan went into a trance at the Ambassador Hotel shortly before the slaying June 5, 1968.

Sirhan, gazing into the lights of a chandelier in the floor to ceiling mirrors of the Ambassador's Versailles Room, in effect hypnotized himself and went into a "disassociated state" where the bad side of his "Jekyll and Hyde personality" took over, Diamond said.

Diamond believes the trance was similar to ones Sirhan induced in the bedroom of his Pasadena home when he sat in front of a mirror with a candle before his face.

Ex-College Science Leader Wilson Dies

Wilson, 71, retired as head of the College of Marin's life sciences department in 1963 after teaching there since 1932. He first taught at the college when it was only nine years old and during his 31 years as one of the college's most popular professors, he taught classes in human physiology, anatomy, geology, physical geography, helath education and photography. He was named head of the life sciences department in 1946.

A devotee of nature and nature education, Wilson was active in the Marin Conservation League, the Marin Nature Group, the Sierra Club, Western Botanists and the Audubon Society.

A strong backer of creation of the Point Reyes National Seashore, he served as a director of the Point Reyes Seashore Foundation. He also served as a ranger naturalist for several summers in such national parks as Yosemite, Sequoia and Olympia and worked one summer at the Rocky Mountain Biology station near Gunnison, Colo.

Born in 1898, Wilson was reared in the Yakima Valley of Washington where his father had homesteaded. He served in the Army's veterinary corps in World War I and served nine months in France, although he never got in the fighting.

After the war, Wilson earned his bachelor's degree from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash. He then attended summer school at Friday Harbor in the San Juan Islands of Puget Sound and studied under renowned ecologist Victor Shelford. It was during this time that Wilson published his first of dozens of scientific papers which ranged from the distribution of clams — the subject of that first paper — to the health characteristics of twins.

PAUL T. WILSON
Teacher of thousands

Later, Wilson received his master and Ph.D. degrees in zoology from the University of California at Berkeley where he also taught for two years while working for his doctoral degree.

He is suvived by his wife of 40 years, Elsie E. (Pat) Wilson, a former science teacher at the

Widespread Shooting On Suez Canal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian and Israeli artillery and tanks battled along a 72-mile stretch of the Suez Canal today. Israeli military sources said Arab oil refineries were set ablaze and Egyptian artillery emplacements knocked out.

New fighting also broke out along the Israeli-Jordanian frontier and the two sides fought a 70-minute machinegun battle near the Sea of Galilee. No Jordanian casualties were reported but a spokesman in Amman said the Israelis were seen removing three casualties.

EGYPT BLAMED

It was the first major fight across the Suez Canal in six days and an Israeli military spokesman said the Egyptians started the shooting, taking advantage of the first clear weather in several days to open up on the heavily sandbagged Israeli bunkers constructed along the east bank of the canal on the fringes of the Sinai Desert.

An Israeli spokesman said "numerous" Egyptian oil refineries and artillery positions were battered, but he declined to say exactly which refineries were hit. Most of them are at the Suez end of the canal and they were set on fire in a battle a few weeks ago.

While fighting raged across the 103-mile long waterway, major political upheavals were taking place in Jordan and in Syria.

CABINET SHUFFLE

King Hussein reshuffled his cabinet so he could install a Jordanian premier more agreeable to a political settlement of the Middle East crisis.

Premier Bahjwt Talhouni resigned and Foreign Minister Abdel Moneim Rifai began choosing a new cabinet. Hussein was believed amenable to some kind of negotiations with Israel but many elements in his country favored a more warlike approach.

Beirut dispatches said the power struggle within the Syrian ruling Baath party entered a crucial stage today at the party congress in Damascus.

Statewide Property Tax To Aid Schools?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An unusual plan for a statewide property tax for schools — directly aiding private as well as public school children — was introduced today by Republican Assemblyman William Campbell of Hacienda Heights (Los Angeles County.)

His legislation would tax business property more heavily than homeowners. And the businesses would include publicly owned utilities such as the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

"I speculate we would see a general reduction in the cost of education today and an improvement in the quality of education," Campbell told a news conference. He said his proposed constitutional amendment and accompanying bill would force public schools to compete with private education in new, improved programs.

Campbell said his plan probably would need to raise "in excess of $3.3 billion." The legislature would set the tax rates, but local school districts could still submit special tax rate increases to voters.

He said residences might be taxed at one-third the rate for businesses.

His plan calls for the state to give vouchers to some five million children from kindergarten through the twelfth grade. The amount of the voucher would be the average cost of education per child in each grade.

The children then would turn the vouchers in to either public or private schools. The schools would send the vouchers into the state and recive their state aid.

Campbell was asked if state aid to private or church-sponsored schools would be unconstitutional.

He said his plan would not subsidize schools directly but would aid children. He noted that the federal G.I. Bill gives aid directly to veterans to attend private as well as public colleges and universities.

Highest Court Orders Eavesdropping Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that James R. Hoffa, imprisoned Teamsters union chief, and former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay are entitled to lower court review of their claims that they were victims of illegal federal eavesdropping.

On the basis of its recent wiretapping decision, the Court also ordered similar rehearings in about 13 other federal cases. Despite the rehearing order, there was no indication that Hoffa, now serving an eight-year penitentiary sentence, would be allowed his freedom while the lower court proceedings are conducted.

Clay, convicted of refusing to report for draft induction, is free on bail pending outcome of his appeal.

Today's rulings stemmed from the Court's controversial March 10 decision that government evidence based on illegal eavesdropping must be turned over to defense attorneys in its entirety if the direct conversation of the defendant was overheard or his own premises were bugged.

In ordering the lower court action, the Court also rejected out of hand a government

Weekend Of Wonderful Sunshine

Spring, which appeared on the calendar Thursday, has arrived with an intensity that made up for its tardiness.

Temperatures zoomed to as high as 80 degrees during the weekend and Marinites headed for their favorite pleasure spots to enjoy the first warm weekend. (See photo, page 6.)

Highways were clogged with pleasure seekers and the sidewalk on the Golden Gate Bridge was thronged with sightseers, watching the bay full of boats and the sky full of kites.

In San Francisco, 5,000 people gathered in Golden Gate Park to celebrate the first Sunday of spring, complete with three rock bands, members of the Hells Angels motorcycle club and topless dancing by both men and women.

Highs yesterday around Marin and Southern Sonoma were: Sausalito, 80 degrees; Petaluma and San Rafael, 78; Hamilton Air Force Bawe, 76; Novato, 75, Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley, 72, and Bolinas, 66.

San Rafael had 70 degrees at noon today.

Ike Reported Getting Weaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has grown progressively weaker over the weekend from heart disturbances suffered a week ago, Walter Reed Army Hospital reported today.

The hospital had reported Friday the 78-year-old five-star general suffered congestive heart trouble the preceding weekend and was recuperating.

"The manifestations of the previously reported congestive heart failure have increased despite vigorous thereapy," the hospital reported today.

"He is requiring continuous oxygen and other supportive measures," the terse announcement said.

Nine Awaiting Protest Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine antiwar protesters charged with breaking into the Washington office of Dow Chemical Co. and destroying records were in jail awaiting arraignment today.

Nine persons broke into the downtown office Saturday, poured what they said was human blood on the furniture, and hurled files from a shattered fourth-story window to the street below.

In Detroit, Dow president Herbert B. Doan said the incident "went far beyond the bounds of reasonable protest."

Treasury Chief Asks Debt Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the government will be unable to pay its bills within a few weeks if Congress does not increase the national debt limit.

Kennedy urged the Senate Finance Committee to approve a House-passed bill to increase the ceiling by $12 billion—from $365 billion to $377 billion—for one year.

State Campus Protesters Begin Sessions In Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The courts are beginning to deal with some of the 450 persons arrested Jan. 23 before a violent student strike fizzled out at San Francisco State College.

Meanwhile, the college's acting president, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, reiterated his determination that students arrested also will face disciplinary action by the college, which could result in expulsions.

Trials were arranged today for 50 of those cited in the mass arrests. Municipal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy, the presiding judge, was to select other judges to help him.

Hayakawa, on his second trip to the White House in two weeks to dine tonight with President Nixon and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, has refused to sign a strike settlement worked out by administrators, faculty members and representatives of the Black Students Union and Third World Liberation Front.

He agreed to all other points, but balked at recommendations for amnesty for the arrested students, saying he wanted to wait until April 11 to review findings of campus disciplinary boards and observe whether or not the strike leaders keep the peace.

"But I'm not sure" tha campus strife is solved, Hayakawa said in a news conference Saturday. "I'm not sure I can believe people when they say they are going to lay off on the rough stuff

"I'm going to apply campus discipline right down the line. No one's done that before."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Third Relic Stolen

ROME (AP) — For the third time in a week a thief has filched some saintly remains from a Rome church. This time it was the skull of St. Grisogono, a Greek who lived in the 4th Century. Police discovered the loss yesterday.

Newspapers call the thief "the maniac of the relics." Last week he stole the skull of St. Sylvester and the gold-decorated foot of St. Teresa Avilla.

On Friday the thief repented and returned the skull of St. Sylvester in a confessional booth. But under the secrecy of confession, his identity was not disclosed to police.

Gore Raps ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Albert Gore says President Nixon's decision to deploy a limited antiballistic missile — ABM — system is wrong "militarily, morally, economically and politically."

The Tennessee Democrat charged yesterday that domestic political considerations were "the most pressing motivation, the primary factor" in Nixon's decision.

Gore was on the CBS program "Face the Nation," while Laird appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Surplus Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy says reductions being made in a number of programs should set the stage for a 1970 fiscal year budget surplus surpassing the $3.5 billion forecast by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy would not estimate how much the surplus might be, nor did he detail where the budget cuts ordered by President Nixon will be made.

He appeared yesterday on the ABC program "Issues and Answers."

'Pueblo' For NATO?

WARSAW (AP) West German spy ships and navy planes operate off the Polish coast and try to interfere with Polish vessels, a naval officer charged today.

Writing in the armed forces newspaper Zolnierz Wolnosici (Soldier of Freedom), Cmdr. Stanislaw Wolinski said that West Germany is preparing "plans of attack on Poland and the Socialist seaboard of the Baltic."

He added that the West German ships are gathering information not only for their government but also for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Their activities are almost a blanket copy of the Pueblo operations," he said referring to the U.S. intelligence ship captured by North Korea.

Turkish Tremor

ISTANBUL (AP) — A strong earth tremor hit western Turkey early today. The semiofficial Anatolia news agency reported nearly 500 homes collapsed.

There were no casualties, but damage was widespread, Anatolia said.

Sporadic quakes had been rocking the area since Saturday.

Worst hit was the town of Demirci and the surrounding area.

Protests Continue

ANGUILLA (AP) About 400 Anguillans held a "funeral" yesterday for their Caribbean island, now firmly under the British thumb after 13 months of unrecognized independence.

About 400 demonstrators, mostly women, marched under a broiling sun behind a black coffin that bore the legend: "If Lee don't do, Anguilla is dead." Anthony Lee is the British commissioner appointed to rule Anguilla until the island's fate is decided.

Officials made no effort to interfere with the procession, and there was no violence, was the third demonstration in three days protesting British occupation of the island.

Aide Denies U.C. 'Brain Drain'

BERKELEY (AP) — William J. Bouwsma, vice chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, labels as exaggerabrain drain on campus.

Bouwsma, who is leaving for Harvard this fall, took issue with a New York Times story that cited him as an example of brain drain.

He claimed he was quoted out of context and is not, as the Times said, leaving because of campus turmoil at Berkeley.

Along with ouwsma, historian Carl Schorske and political scientist David Apter were listed among the elite scholars departing. The three signed a letter that tagged the "alleged flight" of brains "statistically untrue."

WAR HOUSING—While this year's spring offensive of the communists is intense, civilian refugees who fled the Y bridge area of Saigon nearly a year ago, continue to live in big concrete drains across from the Melia cigarette factory in the Cholon quarter. Nixon's War Review Still Under Wraps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says no significant announcements should be expected following the weekend talks held by President Nixon and four top advisers on the course of the Vietnam war.

Nixon spent much of yesterday discussing the war and prospects at the Paris peace talks with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger; the U.S. ambassdor to Saigon, Ellsworth Bunker, and Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, deputy American commander in the war zone.

Nothing was said following the talks about details or any decisions that might have been reached. But White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler had indicated earlier there would be no announcements on the talks.

With Bunker and Goodpaster staying on in Washington for the time being, Nixon is expected to talk with them again soon.

U.S. Reveals Efforts To Blunt Red Buildup

SAIGON (AP) — More than 3,000 U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese infantrymen backed by an American armored column are pushing another major counter offensive south of the demilitarized zone.

Operation Maine Crag is aimed at a growing North Vietnamese threat to allied bases along the northern frontier. Marine officers at Da Nang said in the past month patrols have sighted as many as 50 enemy tracked vehicles and trucks carrying war materials toward allied bases. Some were believed to be big artillery guns.

It was the second big American drive announced in the past two days and the third within a week, as the Viet Cong's spring offensive rolled into its fifth week.

Maine Crag was launched March 6 but has been slowed down frequently by bad weather. The U.S. Command did not announce it until today for security reasons.

The Marines said the allied force had killed 43 enemy troops so far and captured two prisoners and 129 rifles. Ten Americans were reported killed and 64 wounded. But the allies' main purpose is to cut North Vietnamese supply lines from Laos into South Vietnam.

U.S. headquarters also indicated a North Vietnamese buildup in the extreme northwest corner of South Vietnam, two and one-half to three miles south of the DMZ and within three miles of the Laotian border. It said U.S. B52s dropped nearly 400 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese troop concentrations, base camps and bunkers in that area.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a ground fight below the eastern end of the DMZ yesterday and said 43 North Vietnames were killed. Seven South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

In the third big American operation which has been announced, in the area of the Michelin rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. spokesmen said 400 enemy troops had been killed during the past week. Only scattered fighting was reported over the weekend.

U.S. Expects No Vietnam Pullout Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key U.S. military leaders say it may take a year before substantial numbers of American troops can be withdrawn from Vietnam.

But they stress their judgment is based on military factors and acknowledge agreement at the Paris peace talks or a Nixon Administration decision could start a pullout earlier.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said yesterday, "I do not believe that now is the time" to discuss U.S. troop withdrawals.

Laird said this is because the enemy is continuing a "very affirmative and strong offensive" and because mutual troop pullback is a major negotiating issue in Paris.

However, the new Pentagon chief spoke of moving toward "Vietnamesing" the war by modernizing the South Vietnamese forces—ARVN—on "a realistic basis"—meaning at a faster rate than the Johnson Administration's program.

"We'll know this fall," said one top military leader. "We should have a handle by then on how the ARVN's improvement is going."

Expert Sees Bustling War Surplus Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The large influx of American, Russian and Chinese weapons in to Southeast Asia because of the Vietnam war is leading to a vast pool of second-hand but highly usable arms for international trade, according to a prominent defense analyst.

Louis A. Frank, a member of the Stanford Research Institute, says the war will leave in its wake "hundreds of thousands of weapons, ranging from small arms through antiaircraft guns, tanks, mortars, mines and aircraft" that will be sold as surplus.

Frank, who released his study in a newly published book, "The Arms Trade in International Relations," also said a re-equiping of NATO forces expected in the early 1970s will add even more weapons to the surplus available for purchase.

The only restraints on the sale of these used weapons come from the nations which owned them originally. Such are far from effective, he indicated.

The armaments are put on the market, Frank said, because it is usually "too costly to repatriate the weapons."

He said the weapons sent to Southeast Asia will find willing buyers not only in South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand, but also in neighboring areas such as Singapore and Indonesia.

The author, an economist who specializes in defense analysis with the Strategic Studies Center of the Stanford Research Institute in Washington, gave the following breakdown on some of the largest arms suppliers:

The United States, the world's largest arms production base with 20,000 companies, sold $11.1 billion worth of new and used military aircraft, missiles and missile systems, ships, armored vehicles, weapons and ammunition from 1962 to 1966. Aircraft sales accounted for 37 per cent of the total. Included were 6,071 Nike Hercules SAMs and 3,323 Sidewinder air-to-air missiles mostly supplied to the forces of NATO, Japan and Nationalist China.

—Soviet Union, the second largest armaments industry in the world, exported between 1949 and 1968 more than 5,000 jet combat aircraft.

Babe Ruth, with all of his records, never realized one ambition, and that was to manage a major league team.

Two Hurt As Car Stops For Light

Two San Franciscans were injured yesterday after the car in which they were passengers stopped suddenly at a stop light and threw them forward, San Anselmo police reported today.

Betty L. Ryberg, 45, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised left arm and Constance Gomez, 45, for scalp cuts and a neck sprain at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Police said the driver, Ferdinand Gomez, 40, husband of Mrs. Gomez, stopped his car suddenly at 6:30 p.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Broadmoor Avenue when the car ahead of him stopped for a red light.

San Rafael Bar License Suspended

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The on-sale liquor license of the Pago-Pago bar at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was suspended today for 25 days by the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. Ten days of the suspension was stayed for a year's good behavior, the department said.

The department said the suspension resulted from charges that the bartender was intoxicated on the premises and used profane and indecent language. It also charged that the bar, owned by Geraldine and Lino Nardi, had bottles of distilled spirits which had been adulterated. The charges were filed against the bar last month.

Council To Hear Bahia Changes

The Novato City Council has scheduled 11 public hearings on zoning matters at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the community house.

These items include adoption of changes in the Bahia master plan for 900 acres at the end of Bugeia Lane; a rezoning from agricultural to planned community for approximately three acres at the end of Hill Road for Paul Pickart; rezoning from commercial to multiple residential of the land south of Warner Creek and east of Diablo Avenue for William Guinnane and J. C. Youngberg and adoption of the master plan for a 117-unit apartment complex at Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda del Prado for Walter Keickhefer.

Other items to come before the council include a request for limousine service to the San Francisco airport; reclassification of positions with the city, and a closed meeting to make appointments to the downtown study, beautification and ambulance service study committees.

Republicans Elect Richards

Other officers elected by the council's board of directors, reported publicity chairman James L. Placak, were Aubrey C. Mendle of San Rafael, membership vice president; John W. Rakow of Ross, special events vice president; Donald L. Blinco of Sausalito, treasurer, and Sterling L. Hilen of Novato, secretary.

Richards was finance chairman of the Reagan for Governor campaign in Marin in 1966, and a member of the Rafferty campaign committee in Marin last year.

Thec ouncil, formed in 1960, has about 200 members.

The council also announced that a dinner honoring Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael, former appointments secretary to Governor Reagan, will be April 1 at Peacock Gap Country Club. Haerle, a past president of the council, resigned his Sacramento post last month after two years on Reagan's staff. He has returned to practice law in San Francisco.

A no host cocktail party will start at 7 p.m., and dinner is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are being handled by Richards.

Mutiny Trial Delayed A Day

FORT LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — Whether five young soldiers intended to mutiny when they took part in a sitdown demonstration last October is a key issue in their courts martial, which will resume tomorrow.

Today's resumation of the trials was postponed when one of the defendants became ill and was placed in a hospital for observation.

Defense attorneys for the five contend they did not mean to mutiny during the demonstration at the Presidio in San Francisco Oct. 14. During last Friday's testimony one defense attorney, Capt. Brendan Sullivan, described the men's actions as a "plea for help."

The Army contends the men acted "with intent to override lawful military authority" when they refused to return to a work detail. All five were stockade prisoners at the time.

Studies Are Working In Afro-American

and demands and a white girl asked, "Why does there have to be a change?"

"You might not notice it because your eyes are closed," a black student told the white girl. "Look at Marin City and then look at Sausalito."

"Revolution is in progress," said another black.

"There are no out-and-out conflicts here at the moment. What are the demands? Why does there have to be a conflict?" a white student asked. "There will be conflicts," said a black student.

"You set this whole thing up (Afro-American studies) and you didn't ask us," said a black student.

Butler's class, which deals with contemporary black literature, has an enrollment of 27, of which at least five are blacks.

Butler uses films as well as tapes and says he uses books in that he mentions passages from them.

His class has an air of complete informality. While waiting for the teacher to arrive students ate snacks and one black student, Del-Mar Jackson, brought in a tall drum and proceded to pound out rhythms intermittently.

On another day a dog visited class and slept through the session at the feet of a student. That day Butler played an Eldridge Cleaver tape and stopped the tape when Cleaver said "—— ——."

Butler wrote the two words on the board and questioned: "What does this mean to you?"

"I think it's beautiful," said one coed.

"It offends me," said another girl.

"This is the language of the streets," said a black student, "and this is the language you're going to have to learn to deal in."

(Tomorrow: What the program is all about.)

Different Girl

The Tiburon girl who received multiple scratches after her car reportedly went out of control on rain slick Highway 101 Thursday was Kathleen Wachsmuth, 17, of 18 Janet Way, not Cathy Wachsmuth, 18, as reported Friday in the Independent-Journal.

Driver Hurt As Auto Overturns

John W. Leonard, 23, of 513 Robin Drive was taken to Marin General Hospital. Police said that Leonard was apparently driving too fast.

And Never Be Hungry Again!

You say you've never missed more than one meal at a time — or at the most two? That you don't classify yourself with that large segment of the world's population called "the starving."

Perhaps you are hungrier than you think — a hunger that goes deeper than the tightening of the stomach or the pangs of the throat — a hunger for companionship with God.

Rich and poor alike share this hunger for God's eternal presence in their lives. There is only one way it can be satisfied.

"'I am the bread of life,' Jesus told them. 'He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never be thirsty.

"'Now, I told you that you had seen me but would not believe. Every one whom my Father gives me will come to me. I will never turn away anyone who comes to me, for I have come down from heaven to do the will of Him Who sent me, not my own will. This is what He Who sent me wants me to do: that I should not lose any of all those He has given me, but that I should raise them all to life on the last day.

"For this is what my Father wants: that all who see the Son and believe in him should have eternal life; and I will raise them to life on the last day.'"*

"All men have sinned and are far away from God's saving presence . . . For sin pays its wage — death; but God's free gift is eternal life in union with Christ Jesus our Lord."

Two Guilty Pleas In Dope Case

Eloise Erlin — in whose former Fairfax home the police said they found 300 pounds of marijuana — pleaded guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing the weed.

Gilbert John Dart of San Diego, who police said was in the house when they entered on March 23, 1968, pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing marijuana for sale.

Judge Harold J. Haley set sentencing for Mrs. Erlin, now of Albany, for April 21 and of Dart for June 30.

Mrs. Erlin says she is estranged from her husband, Darrow, now of Hawaii, who has been convicted of federal charges of selling LSD and been sentenced to state prison. He is now out on bail pending an appeal and his case in Marin Superior Court was continued today until next Monday.

Dart, who has been sentenced to state prison on a Los Angeles narcotics charge, today saw charges of possession of marijuana and conspiracy to possess marijuana dismissed against him. Charges of possession of heroin and possession of marijuana for sale against Mrs. Erlin also were dismissed.

The Erlins face a $500,000 marijuana tax lien filed by the federal government as a result of their arrest.

Army Employee Is Found Dead

Roy T. Hill, 54, a data systems technician at Oakland Army Air Base, was found dead in his apartment at 55 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, Saturday afternoon, apparently of a self-inflicted pistol shot, Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan said.

Hill's body was discovered at 3:15 p.m. by his former wife, Esther Hill, and department manager Jack Hicks, Madigan said.

Hill had been dead for several days, Madigan said, and it was difficult to tell where the wound was inflicted. An autopsy was pending at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

He is survived by a son, Richard Talbot of San Rafael; his mother, Elsie Johanson of Santa Barbara, and a brother, John Sharp of Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Novato Firm Gets Contract

A federal contract for almost $6 million has been awarded to a Novato construction firm, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, announced today.

The U.S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, has awarded the contract to C. R. Fedrick Inc. of 320 Deer Island Lane, Novato, for pipeline construction and related earth work in near Huron in King and Fresno coumties, Clausen said.

The work is for a water district in the two counties. Total amount of the contract is $5,919,000, Clausen said.

Shoplifting Is Charged

A 19-year-old San Rafael man was booked into the Marin County Jail Saturday afternoon on suspicion of shoplifting a 39-cent package of ham from the Bret Harte Super Market, 93 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

The suspect, David C. McReynolds of 1135 Fourth Street, was arrested at 4:30 p.m. after the three-ounce package of sliced, smoked ham fell out of his pants as he walked to the rear of the store.

He was released on $315 bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Tapes, Purse Taken, Purse Later Found

Gary R. Bailey of San Rafael reported to San Anselmo police Saturday that someone pried open the wing window of his car while it was parked in the 100 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and removed his $69 stereo tape player, 13 tapes and his girl friend's purse, police said today.

The purse, with contents intact, was later reported found on a fire trail near Oak Springs Drive, police reported. Bailey lives at 107 Ash Way.

In response to a question, Hayakawa said he and Nixon had not discussed the possibility Hayakawa would join Nixon's administration.

Asked whether he would enjoy plunging back into relative academic obscurity after the San Francisco State uproar transformed the English professor into a national figure, Hayakawa said:

"I would love to go back to academic obscurity. It's a nice peaceful life, and the hours are better than for a college president ..."

Winds Cause Blackouts

Freak winds felled power lines in Bolinas early today, blacking out the area twice in less than four hours.

The high winds, blowing seaward, a reversal of the usual pattern, blew over four power poles on the Bolinas Lagoon sandspit at 4:53 a.m., according to Leonard O. Robinson of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Power was restored to 150 homes in Bolinas by 6:15 p.m., Robinson said.

At 8:35 a.m. winds blew down wires on Bolinas Road, blacking out more than 500 homes in the Bolinas area. Power was restored by 11 a.m., according to Robinson.

An Unexpected Overnight Stay

A Greenbrae couple and their 4-year-old son spent last night in a borrowed sleeping bag in a ravine in Mount Tamalpais State Park and hiked out today while searchers looked for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charbonneau of 119 Bretano Way said they and their son John had not suffered during their night out on the mountain.

Charbonneau told sheriff's officers that they had left their car on Bolinas Ridge yesterday and hiked down into a canyon near Kent Lake. As dusk approached they met another hiking couple who left their sleeping bag with them.

The other couple hiked out last night, but the Carbonneaus said they decided to wait for morning.

GOP Committee To Met Tonight

The regular March meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee will be held tonight instead of tomorrow because of the special state senatorial election tomorrow in Contra Costa County, chairman Charles Michals announced.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Room 311 of the Civic Center.

About 100 Marin Republicans will be working to get out their party's vote tomorrow, Michals said. Democrat George Miller III and Republican Dist. Atty. John A. Nejedly are seeking the seat held by Miller's late father.

Woman Motorcycle Passenger Injured

Vivian L. Bollier, 21, of San Francisco, was treated for cuts and scrapes on the right knee yesterday at Marin General Hospital after she was thrown from a motorcycle in a collision on the Bolinas-Fairfax Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

She was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Peter A. Bollier, 27, of San Francisco. The highway patrol said a microbus driven by David B. Durr, 15, of 470 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, turned in front of them at noon.

Petaluma Board Due Preliminary Budget

The Petaluma Board of Education will receive a preliminary budget for the 1969-70 year from business manager George W. Castleberry at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Supt. Lesly H. Meyer will also reported on developments in salary negotiations with the Association of Petaluma Area Teachers negotiating panel.

Board members will also hear a report on new methods of teaching mathematics at Rencho Cotate High School.

Hayakawa Censured Over Gater

S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, was censured by members of the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges at the organization's weekend conference at Disneyland, Rick Beban, editor of the College of Marin Times, said today.

Censure was for Hayakawa closing down the Daily Gater, school newspaper at San Francisco State, in reported violation of the First and 14th Amendments, Beban said. The vote was 23 to 2 with some of the 53 representatives not in attedance and several abstaining.

Hayakawa recently ordered the Gater silenced, saying the college publication review board had not been doing its job to review the newspaper.

Receiving awards at the conference were Peter Schwab, Times news editor, who took second place for a mail-in news story on tax override; Kimo Campbell and Beban, honorable mention for the San Francisco State College strike story of last November; Campbell, second place for writing an on-the-spot feature.

The representatives rewrote the constitution preamble and Campbell was named as one of a three-member steering committee to coordinate a news bureau to be formed.

Novato Church Chooses Pastor

Rev. Donald M. Rayment, who has been pastor of the Mount Eden Presbyterian Church in Hayward since 1961, yesterday was named pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Novato, according to church publicity chairman Dorothy Ballard.

Reverend Rayment preached the 9:30 a.m. sermon. After the sermon, the congregation almost unanimously elected him pastor, Mrs. Ballard said. He previously had the unanimous endorsement of the pastor-seeking committee, headed by William J. J. Smith.

Reverend Rayment will assume his duties about May 1, according to Mrs. Ballard. The selection must first be confirmed, however, by the Presbytery of the Redwoods which meets on April 30, she said.

The Novato church has been without a permanent pastor since Rev. C. M. Croughan resigned last Aug. 1.

Check Charge Brings Arrest

Foster Lee (Jack) London, 46, formerly of 295 Country Club Drive, Novato, has been arrested in Los Angeles on a Marin County warrant for suspicion of passing a forged check June 1 at a Novato Safeway store.

London was returned to Marin County early Saturday by Detective Sgt. Perry J. Haley of the Novato Police Department, according to Novato police reports.

Bail was set at $625 and London was scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Two Northgate Thefts Reported

Two burglaries along Northgate Drive, one at a beauty shop and the other at an apartment building, have been reported to San Rafael police.

Officers said $143 in cash was taken from a desk drawer at Princess hair Styling at 248 Northgate Drive between 10 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Drapes valued at $160 and a metal ash tray valued at $25 were taken from an apartment building at 108 Professional Center Parkway sometime between 11 a.m. and midnight Thursday, police reported.

Water District Due Talk On Fire Plans

Marin Municipal Water District's part of proposed improvements in the Tamalapis Fire Protection District will be reviewed at a meeting of the district board at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

The fire district board has proposed an $800,000 improvement bond issue for the district. The water district's part of the work may total $100,000 over a 10-year-period, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

appeal for reconsideration of the March 10 decision on grounds it would hamstring government national security surveillance activities.

The Court commented in the rehearing ruling for Hoffa and Clay that "of course, a finding by the district court that the surveillance was lawful would make disclosure and further proceedings unnecessary."

In other actions, the Court:

Rejected a Chicago appeal which challenged the customary practice of states to apportion their school expenditures on the basis of local property taxes.

Let stand a government order that Chas. Pfizer and Co. must license its drug tetracycline to other pharmaceutical firms.

Refused to interfere with a lower court ruling in an Oregon case holding that state libel laws do not apply to radio-television broadcasts on matters of public interest unless the material was aired with malicious intent.

The court also refused today to review the obscenity conviction of a San Jose bookseller who claims the books he sold were not obscene and in any event he was unacquainted with their contents.

The brief order leaves standing as final a state court decision upholding the conviction.

Daly argued that the books are protected by the free speech guarantee in the 1st Amendment to the Constitution.

Collision Hurts Man, Woman

Two persons were treated for minor injuries yesterday after a two-car collision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near College of Marin, the California Highway Patrol said.

Rosa L. Redding, 25, of 58 Wellington Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for abdominal bruises, and George L. Miller, 64, of 1821 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma, was treated at Ross General Hospital for bruises on the head and chest.

The accident occurred, the highway patrol said, at 3:45 p.m. when the brakes failed on Mrs. Redding's car and it hit the rear of Miller's pickup truck at the traffic light at College Avenue.

Five Arrested Over Marijuana

Phillip David Harrison, 18, of 1147 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, and four Fairfax juveniles were arrested on suspicion of marijuana possession Saturday afternoon, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Harrision posted $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today and the four boys, ages 16 and 17, were cited to the Marin County Juvenile Bureau.

Deputies said they stopped Harrison's panel truck at 12:30 p.m. on Tiburon Boulevard near Beach Road for a mechanical violation and while checking the truck, officers noticed one of the youths trying to hide something in his pants. A search uncovered marijuana, deputies said.

Yippie Claims Frame On Guns After Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) A Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman says he was framed on a charge of having three loaded guns in his office.

Hoffman surrendered to police yesterday after five men were arrested in a raid on his East Village office, a few doors from the police station.

Detectives said they got a telephone tip at 2:30 a.m. about the guns and went to the office, where three men were sitting. The officers said they found a blackjack, syringes, a small quantity of heroin, antiwar literature and buttons, and three guns. Two other men were seized in an apartment upstairs.

He was freed Saturday in $10,000 bail on federal riot charges stemming from disorders at the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Hoffman, 32, said he gave the office key to one young man. He charged that someone planted the guns and heroin and then called police.

Hoffman was freed on $100 bail on the gun charges for a hearing next month.

Youngster Killed In School Prank

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 15-year-old high school boy died yesterday of injuries reecived when he fell 40 feet from the top of an electrically controlled fire screen in the Mission High School auditorium.

The victim, Myron Johnson, was riding up and down the screen with six other boys when the auditorium was closed.

Police said Johnson became entangled in the ropes and one of the boys, attempting to free him, pushed the "up" button instead of the "down" button. Johnson was catapulted to the top of the screen and pitched headfirst to the floor.

Decision Due On School Site

The San Rafael Board of Education will decide at its 7:30 p.m. meeting at the school district office tomorrow whether to approve the $190,001 purchase of an elementary school site at Riviera and Biscayne streets in Peacock Gap.

The purchase has been recommended by Supt. John F. Plank.

The board also will consider Plank's contract at the meeting and will discuss the district's financial situation for 1969-70.

And Never Be Hungry Again!

James Westmoreland tells of an old man who a few weeks ago arrived in Gatooma, Rhodesia, searching for an American. He had walked many miles from Gokwe Reserve, carefully carrying some strange looking papers with English words on them.

He had been told that someone in Gatooma could tell him just how valuable the papers were. Since the words on them said "dollars"—American dollars—he thought he had a real fortune.

It was hard to make him understand that his money was not real. It was play money, such as used in certain American parlor games. He could scarcely comprehend such a thought. But finally, slowly—and sadly—he began his long walk back home.

Many a sophisticated American has taken a long walk through life, grasping for what seems to be very valuable, only to discover that what at first looked like real happiness, real wealth, and real living was only counterfeit.

Homicide police found a note in the pocket of a young man whose body lay sprawled at the base of a twelve-story building. And it told of a hunger that could never be satisfied.

"I have tried everything the world has to offer," the man had written, "but nothing was enough to fill the emptiness of life."

But there is a happiness that lasts beyond the moment. And there is a bread that fills man's deepest hunger.

"'I am the bread of life,' Jesus told them. 'He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never be thirsty.'"*

Why continue to be hungry?

DIFFERENCES SEEN

A Ray Of Hope In Drug Scene

By MARY LEYDECKER

Drugs, drugs, drugs.

The widespread abuse of both natural and manufactured drugs continues unabated in Marin County despite efforts by law enforcement officers, educators, parents and doctors, but some glimmers of hope have finally begun to appear.

"In the last two years not only the kids but adults have come to make distinctions between drugs," said a Kentfield psychiatrist who treats many young drug abusers. His views, he said, are shared by many other such specialists in the county having wide experience with the problem.

"You no longer hear the saying, 'drugs are good for you' or 'adults have their drugs and we have ours'," Dr. William J. Dickerson said.

Furthermore, the youngsters have come to recognize a vast difference between marijuana and such drugs as methamphetamine, or "speed," he added.

Another new development on the drug scene, according to the doctor, is the growing realization by doctors and young people that the continued heavy use of marijuana does adversely affect people.

"Pot heads," as the kids call the heavy users, become lethargic, disinterested and unable to carry out simple plans.

"What do you do? Do you work or go to school?" Dr. Dickerson asked a young man who lives with several friends, all heavy marijuana users.

The youth replied that he did not go to school nor work.

"What do you do all day?"

"Well, we watch a little television."

What else?"

The youth replied that he and his friends used to go for walks.

"Why don't you go for walks now?"

"Well, we just never can seem to get together and go at the same time," he replied.

"The amazing thing," the psychiatrist added, "is that these people (who can't even organize a stroll) have nothing else on their minds."

The young marijuana user who can't face the events of life without marijuana disturbs the doctor, also. "Marijuana is no better a way to avoid life than alcohol," he added.

Although Dr. Dickerson said it's hard for doctors to determine whether users of drugs are using them because they're poorly adjusted to begin with or whether they get that way after the drug use. There seems to be no question that some produce paranoid effects.

LSD is the worst, Dr. Dickerson said, because of its unpredictability. "A person might have many 'good trips' and then have a horrifying experience."

The paranoia caused by "speed," which makes the body race at high speed, has been seen by many young people and adults.

A youth who appeared in a Marin court claiming to be Jesus Christ told the judge the next day that "my mind is clear now" and soberly gave his real name. The following day, however, after another dose of speed upon being released, he again thought he was the "savior of the world."

Not all speed users react in quite such a harmless fashion, however, and violence sometimes accompanies the "highs" of speed users.

"Some people should never use any kind of drug," Dr. Dickerson said. "Marijuana gets schizophrenics, for example, into real trouble."

Another factor "which interests and distresses me," he said, is having a youngster who has had a frightening bad trip say he would take the same drug again.

"Of course, some of them say they wouldn't, but I don't know the answer as to why someone would want to repeat an excruiating experience," he said.

"Although we're all getting smarter about drugs, it's horrifying what kids will put into their mouths and beings," he added.

What's making the situation even worst, according to the psychiatrist, is that as the formulas for methamphetamines, for example, become more widely known, there's a great deal of "botching up."

"With all the cook books around, there are still a lot of bad cooks. When you have a seventh grade dropout makup a chemical formula, it's not surprising that the results are often horrible," Dr. Dickerson explained.

The folklore accompanying drug abuse also alarms him. "For example, the kids say that if you have someone with you the first time you take LSD that has already taken it, you'll have a good trip," he said.

"Of course, that's pure nonsense."

Dr. Dickerson does not think it's possible for adults to isolate their children from drugs, particularly in Marin County, but he feels that drug abuse will only abate as "we all become smarter" about drugs.

$175,000 Offer For Ray Story Filming

NEW YORK (AP) — Percy Foreman, the lawyer who advised James Earl Ray to plead guilty to the Martin Luther King Jr., assassination, said today an offer of $175,000 has been made for the movie rights to the story.

Foreman said the offer was made by Carlo Ponti, film producer and husband of Italian actress Sophia Loren, to William Bradford Huie, Ray's official biographer.

"And I'll get 60 per cent of it," Foreman said in an interview in his New York hotel.

In addition to the flat fee, Ponti would pay 12 per cent of the gross receipts of the movie.

Foreman, of Houston, Tex., said Look magazine had guaranteed another $85,000 for Huie's series of articles on Ray's life, and that he was entitled to 60 per cent of that also.

The Houston lawyer, who successfully defended Candy Mossler and her nephew Melvin Powers in 1966 against a charge of murdering her husband, said Ray himself had fixed the attorney fee at $150,000.

Foreman said he understood that Arthur J. Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., who was Ray's original lawyer in the King case, had been paid $35,000.

"It all comes through Huie," Foreman said.

The attorney said that his 60 per cent share of the movie, book and magazine rights might total $400,000 or so, but that he would take only the $150,000 agreed upon with Ray.

"I didn't fix the fee, he fixed it," Foreman said.

He said he advised Ray to plead guilty "because I believed he would be electrocuted if he didn't."

Ray was given a sentence of 99 years in the Tennessee state penitentiary. He has since signified his intention of asking a rehearing at which he could withdraw his guilty plea and elect to stand trial by jury.

Ray's brother, Jerry, was quoted by the Nashville Tennessean Sunday as saying that the accused slayer was placed under financial pressure by Foreman to plead guilty and take a prison sentence.

"Foreman said he would take $150,000 if my brother pleaded guilty, but he wanted everything he would over earn if he didn't," the Tennesseean quoted Jerry Ray as saying."

Foreman described this as "a bunch of ———."

In Savannah, Ga., Ray's latest lawyer, J. H. Stoner, said his Ku Klux Klan connections would help Ray's case.

"They show I'm a loyal white man and the white people of Shelby County are for white supremacy," Stoner said. Memphis, where the murder occurred, is in Shelby County.

Stoner asserted that King "brought about his own death with his activities across the country" and added:

"He was a troublemaker."

Commented Robert B. James, chairman of the Memphis City Council: "He's just making a lot of trouble that we don't need. He's certainly not welcome around here when he talks like that."

SPRING'S LATE START

It has been this kind of weather in Marin, with the sun beckoning the winter-weary to boats, the bay and pools. Sharon Buchanan of San Rafael yielded to the glorious days, soaking up the sun which pushed temperatures to the high 70s throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma. Warm weather continued today and the weatherman predicted it would also be fair tomorrow. For weather story see page 1.

U.S. Readies Antitrust Court Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department will file an antitrust suit against one of the nation's supergiant corporations in an effort to curb what an official terms the dangerous "merger-mania" of conglomerates.

The department yesterday announced court action will be sought to force Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., the nation's 14th largest corporation, to "divest itself of all of its interests in the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp."

The Justice Department suit will set the stage for a test of whether current federal antitrust legislation is effective in controlling acquisition-minded conglomerates — corporations which hold power over several usually unrelated businesses.

LTV RESPONDS

LTV responded to the government announcement by saying it will vigorously defend its takeover of Jones & Laughlin, the sixth biggest steel producer in the country.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard W. McLaren said the suit, under the Celler-Kefauver Amendment to the Clayton Antitrust Act, is being filed now because the situation is too urgent to wait for new legislation.

If unchecked, McLaren said, such mergers as between LTV and Jones & Laughlin will result in ever-growing concentrations of economic power by fewer and fewer persons relatively uncontrolled by government or competition.

LTV said it was confident the acquisition of J&L did not violate "existing antitrust legislation" and that "the courts will vindicate LTV's action."

Before initiating the takeover last year, the firm said, an opinion was obtained from "one of the nation's leading antitrust law firms" that the acquisition, if challenged, "could be successfully defended in court."

LTV's position is that its holdings are so diversified that they do not decrease competition in any field.

NO COMMENT

Moreover, it described the entry into the steel industry as "the most competitive development in that industry since the government itself supported the formation of Kaiser Steel and Lone Star Steel."

Jones & Laughlin had no comment on the matter.

McLaren, to back up his warnings of dangerous economic concentrations, cites figures showing that the 200 largest corporations controlled 58.7 per cent of the nation's manufacturing assets in 1967, compared to 48 per cent held by the top 200 in 1948.

The merger pace continued to accelerate last year with 4,462 acquisitions, a record high that almost doubled the 2,975 of 1967.

State GOP Assembly Raps Nixon Aides

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The Nixon administration drew criticism today from the newly-elected president of the conservative California Republican Assembly (CRA) for picking a civil rights leader and a Harvard profesor to top posts.

James Kraemer, 50, a Piedmont realtor and insurance broker, told newsmen he objected to the appointments of James Farmer, a former national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Dr. Henry Kissinger, Harvard professor.

Farmer, a Negro and a 1968 Republican congressional candidate, was selected as assistant secretary of health education and welfare by HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch. Kissinger is Nixon's special adviser for security.

The CRA ended its annual state convention yesterday by adopting a resolution calling on Nixon to pick only persons "identified with Republican principles" for top federal positions.

The resolution—although modified to refer to appointments from both "minority and majority" groups—clearly was designed to express opposition to Farmer's selection.

Kraemer, who told newsmen his brother was a member of the John Birch Society but he wasn't, defeated William Ebert of San Francisco in the presidential balloting. The vote was 232-171.

Carl Hepp, 155 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, assembly resolutions committee member, reported he drafted both resolutions.

The othere came on a watered - down resolution putting the CRA on record approving "the concept of morally-oriented sex education with character building" in the state schools.

Fairfax Motorist Suffers Face Injury

A Fairfax woman was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for a cut lip and broken teeth suffered when her car hit a parked car on Bolinas road, Fairfax.

Betty Haere, 44, of 95 Porteous Avenue, told police she was leaning over to turn off her radio when the accident occurred at 1:50 a.m., officers reported.

Trumans, Kin Visit Florida, Shun Newsmen

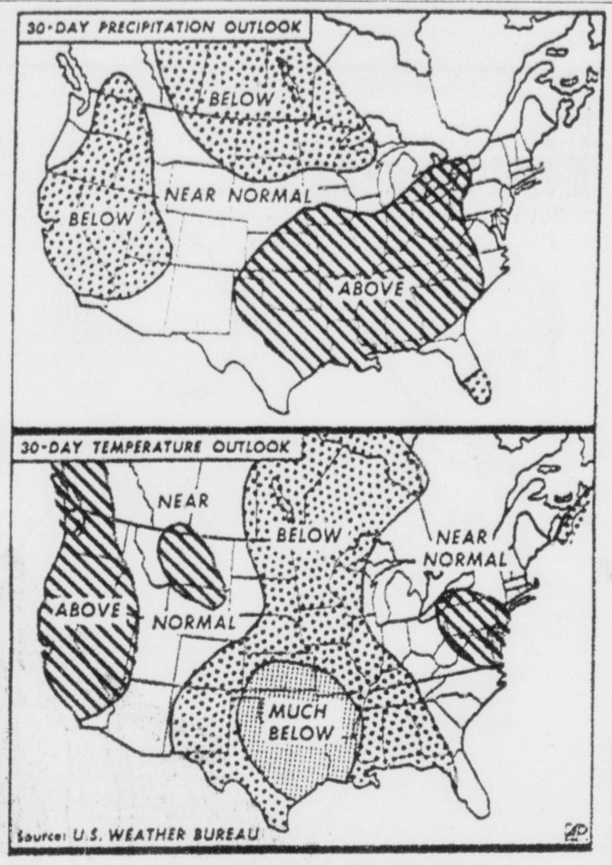
John Spottswood, a former Monroe County legislator and an old friend of Truman's, said the ex-chief executive has no immediate plans for a news conference.

Truman and his wife arrived in this island city Saturday aboard an Air Force jet provided by the White House. They were joined by their daughter Margaret and their son-in-law, New York Times editor Clifton Daniel and their children.

Skipping church yesterday, Truman played with his four grandchildren in a garden patio of his vacation villa and took a long walk along the 15-acre beach fronting the Casa Marina Hotel where he is staying.



A WARM, DRY OUTLOOK

The next 30 days, ending April 15, are expected to be warm and dry in Marin. According to information supplied by the U.S. Weather Bureau, rain will be below normal and temperatures will be above average. Last year during the same period San Rafael recorded only .01 inch of rain. Highest daytime reading was an 84 recorded on April 10.

Driver Treated

Walter B. Price Jr., 36, of 210 Mission Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut lip after his car hit a center divider on Highway 101 at Alto at 2:15 a.m. today, the California Highway Patrol said.

Rural Area Thieves Take TV, Stereo

Burglars zeroed in on television sets and stereophonic equipment last week, according to reports received by the Marin County sheriff's office.

Allen Young of 27 Roberts Drive, Inverness, reported Friday that someone took a television set valued at $400, and an FM tuner, valued at $800, from his home between Sunday and Friday.

Vivian Jones of 715 Viewpoint Road, Tamalpais Valley, reported that a portable television set, valued at $169; a camera, valued at $80, and two stereo speakers, value not listed, were taken from her home between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Roger S. Sheridan of 120 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands, reported that sometime between 10:50 a.m. and 3 p.m. Wednesday someone took a portable television valued at $100, two stereo speakers, valued at $55, and 60 record albums.

Douglas S. Scherf of 755 Bay Road, Tamalpais Valley, reported that from $50 to $100 in cash was taken from his home between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Supervisors To Weigh Offer For Courthouse

The City of San Rafael's offer to buy the courthouse square from the county for a minimum of $500,000 will be discussed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning.

The item is expected to come up late in the morning because a workshop session with the Marin County Planning Commission is set for 9 a.m., to be followed by a closed meeting with the county team that is negotiating with employees on wages and fringe benefits.

A novel method of improving emergency ambulance service in West Marin will also be proposed to the supervisors.

Thomas Larke Jr., chairman of the Marin Emergency Medical Care Committee, said he got the idea from Kenneth Hale, operator of Doctors Ambulance Service.

Whenever the county fire department ambulance at Point Reyes Station picks up a patient in West Marin, an ambulance from San Rafael would head west, meeting the fire department ambulance half way. The victim would be transferred to the San Rafael ambulance, permitting the fire department department ambulance at Point Reyes Station to be ready for the next emergency.

This would cut down on the time that Point Reyes Station would be without an ambulance.

Larke said this proposal should be studied and put into operation during the coming summer season if feasible.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales will ask for more staff members to meet the jump in workload.

A major item in the afternoon is a hearing on a new ordinance to regulate floating home marinas.

The First Congregational Church will ask for apartment zoning for its 4.5-acre lot at the corner of Merrydale and North San Pedro roads.

Coins Stolen

Novato Trustees Will Discuss Course Changes

Proposed curricula for the junior and senior high schools will be gone over at 8 p.m. today by the Novato Unified School District board meeting at the administration building.

At its meeting last week, the board was presented an outline of studies for both three-year junior high schools and the three-year high schools. It has been studying these for the past week.

Since the district changed from a two-year junior high and four-year high school system to a three-year junior and three-year senior high school program, the curriculum has not been changed. A committee composed of administrators, counselors and faculty members have been working for more than a year on the program.

The board has also scheduled a close meeting to instruct its representatives in salary negotiations with the teachers.

Tiburon Trail Plan On Council's Agenda

The proposed Tiburon trails plan and preliminary plan for Angel Island State Park will be discussed by the Tiburon City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council also is scheduled to discuss a proposed animal control ordinance, a master plan for 1-11 Main Street, establishment of a Tiburon miniboard of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, construction of a sidewalk on Paradise Drive and Bay Area regional government.

Reed Club Sets Candidates' Night

The Reed School District Parent-Teacher Club will hold a candidates night at 7:45 p.m. April 9 in the auditorium of the Del Mar school for those running for the district board.

The club will also hold a "pro and con panel" on the proposed 50-cent tax increase on which Reed residents will vote April 15. K. L. Rice and Leo Souza will speak for the tax hike, but no one has been found to oppose it yet, sponsors said. Anyone wishing to speak in opposition to it should call Mrs. Edward Ward, the club's president.

Drug Abuse Policy

The Larkspur School District board will discuss a drug abuse policy when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday in the district office, 20 Magnolia Avenue.

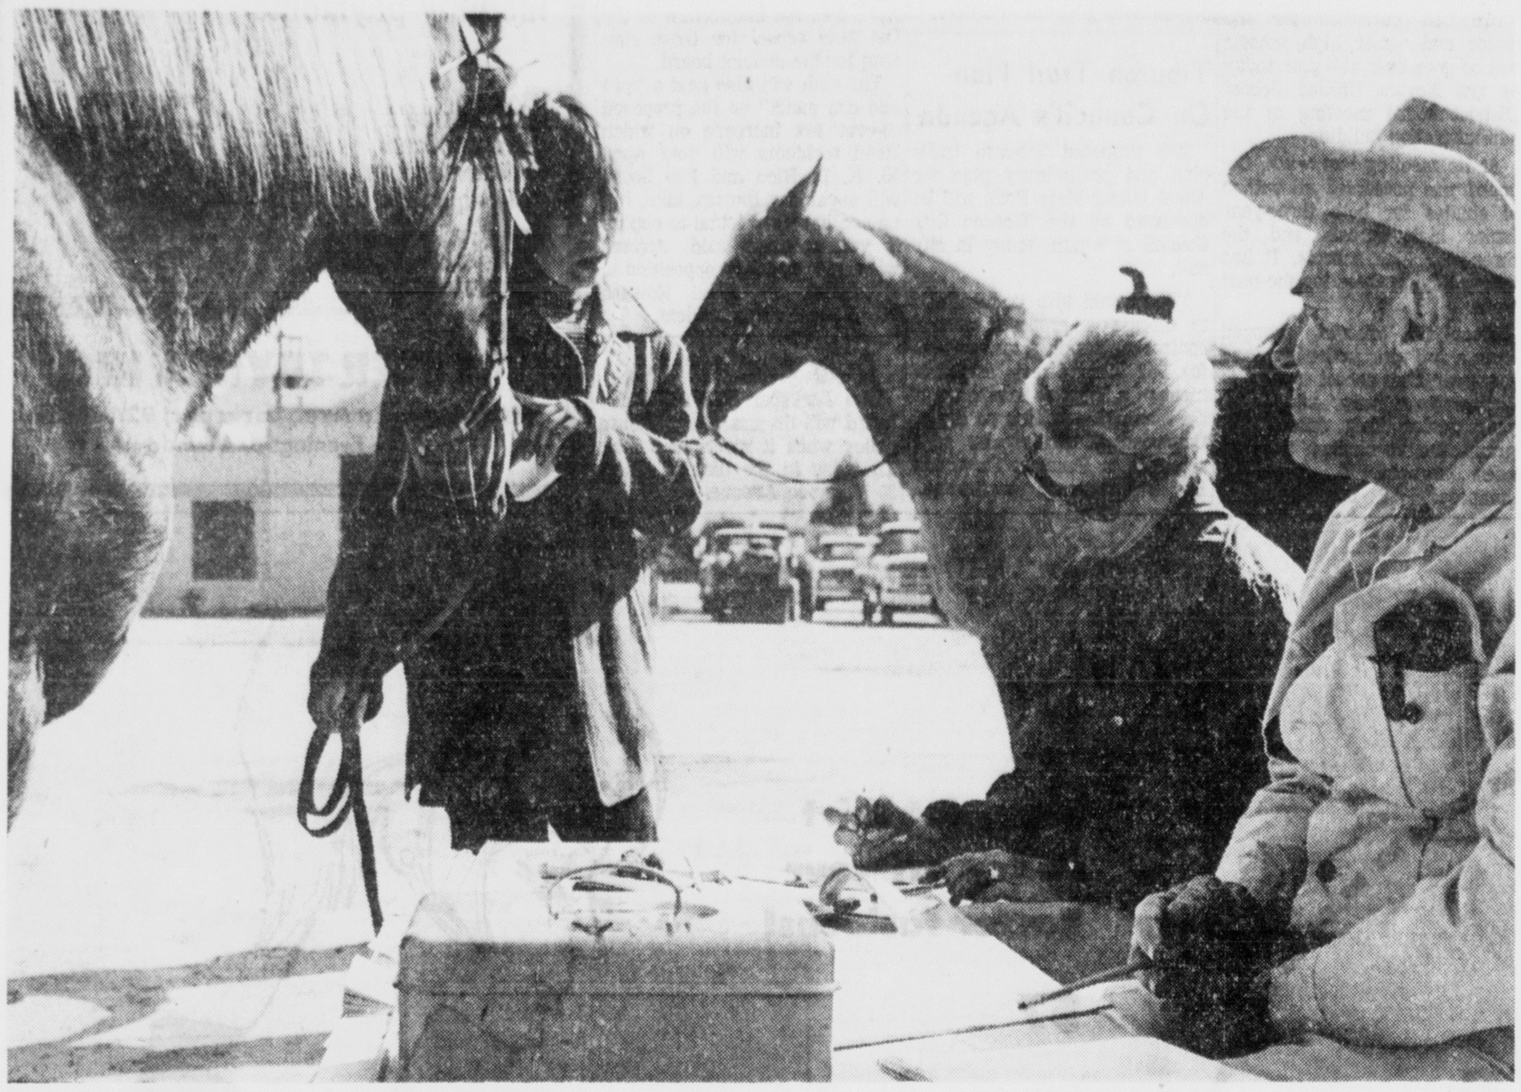
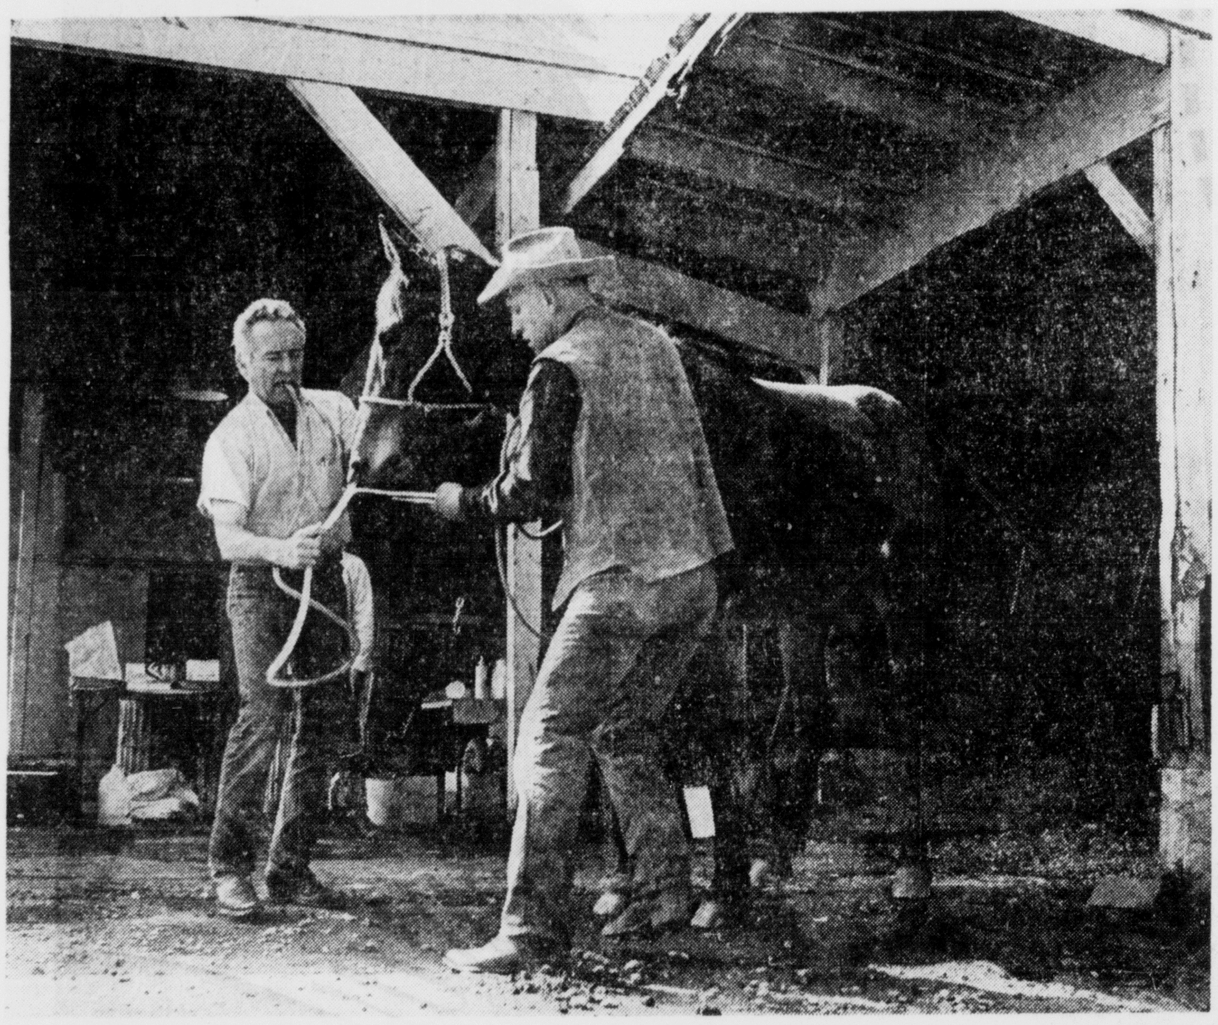
Shots, Shoes And Sympathy At Horse Health Clinic

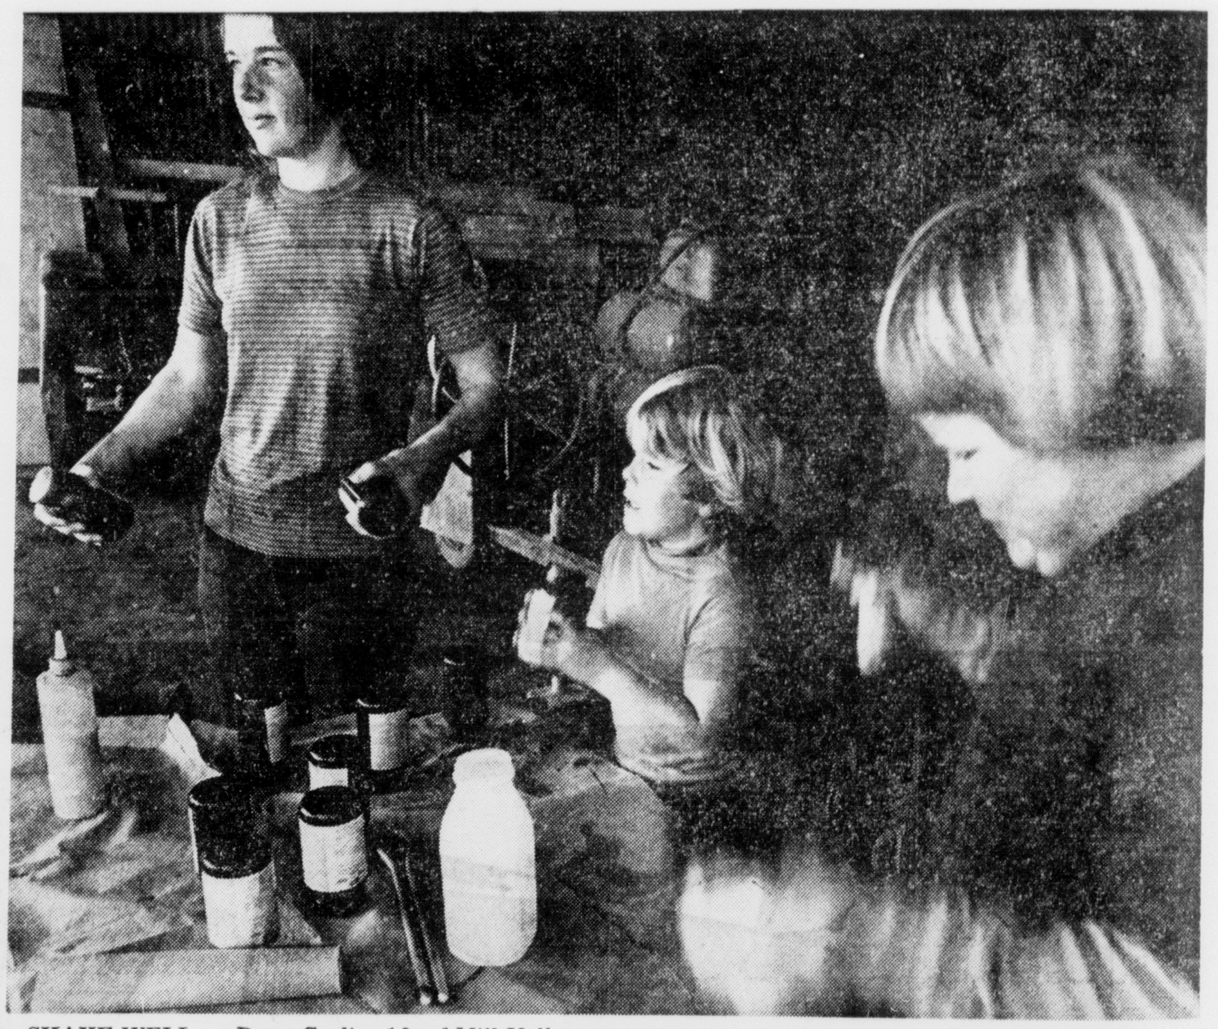


REGISTRATION — Tyler Mills, 12, of Mill Valley signs her horse up for the worming, vaccinations and hoof examinations at the recent Marin Horse Health Clinic in Mill Valley under the sponsorship of the Southern Marin Horsemen's Association. She is registering with Mrs. Dale Corliss, who was in charge of the event, and Robert Jenkins, both of Mill Valley. More than 50 horses were treated at the clinic and a second clinic is set for April 12 when booster shots will be given, any necessary dental work performed.

FLU SHOT — Dr. James H. Steere of Petaluma injects a horse with influenza syrum at the clinic. (Independent-Journal photos)



IT WON'T HURT A BIT — This horse rebels when Dr. Steere and Orville Peterson of Novato shove a tube down his nose as part of the worm treatment. Once the tube was down, the two veterinarians pumped worm medicine through the tube into the horse's stomach.



SHAKE WELL — Dana Corliss 16, of Mill Valley, Robert Steere, 6, and Thomas Steere, 9, both of Petaluma, shake worm preventative before it is used.

LUCKY SHOE — Folklore of horses and horse shoes is passed on to a younger generation when Thomas Steere, 9, tells younger brother, Robert, 6, what it's all about.

New Sign Regulation Question Unanswered

Should signs that do not conform to new regulations be torn down in one, three or 10 years?

This question remained unresolved today as the Marin County Planning Commission wound up its preliminary review of the new county sign ordinance.

The amortization period that should be allowed nonconforming signs is one of the issues to be resolved. Another is the maximum height of free-standing signs.

Richard Nave, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, declared that businessmen who have had their signs approved should not be forced to remove them just because the rules were changed subsequently.

Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Walter F. Freitas said the three-year amortization is unfair on signs that cost $7,000 or $8,000. "It seems to be it should be more like 10 years," said Freitas.

A free-standing sign exceeding 90 square feet or a group of signs exceeding a total of 250 square feet; any roof sign; any sign projecting at an angle from a wall; and any free-standing sign higher than 30 feet.

Businessmen have objected to the maximum height limit on free-standing signs, which would be 25 feet for any new signs and 30 feet on any existing signs.

Two Escape $30,000 Fire In Mill Valley

A Mill Valley woman and her 12-year-old daughter escaped unharmed Saturday night from a fire which destroyed more than half of their two-story hillside home.

The blaze, which could be seen throughout Mill Valley, burned three bedrooms and a bathroom on the second floor of the house at 136 Marguerite Avenue. Also damaged were a portion of the living room, the exterior walls of the house as well as the attic and roof. Damage was estimated at more than $30,000 by Asst. Fire Chief Joseph Regalia.

The occupants, Mrs. George Hebert and an unidentified daughter, were routed.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started outside the house under one of the bedrooms. It burned through the outer shingles and then traveled inside the walls up to the attic where it broke through the roof.

Firemen took more than a half hour to control the fire and then maintained an all night watch to make sure it didn't break out again.

"It was one of the most difficult fires we've ever had," Capt. Henry J. Pierroz said. "We'd just get it out on one spot then it would break through the wall in an entirely new place," he said.

The fire also charred trees next to the house and at times threatened a neighboring house at 128 Ralston Avenue.

Only Hebert's wife, Margaret, and daughter were home when the fire broke out at 10:30 p.m. However, by the time Mrs. Hebert noticed the fire it was burning so intensely that the telephone wires melted while she was reporting the fire.

Car Collision Brings Arrest

Air Force S/Sgt. Ricardo Argueta, 40, of Rancho Rafael, Ignacio, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of drunken driving yesterday after a collision on Highway 101 at the Pacheco Creek overcrossing, the California Highway Patrol said.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 8:25 p.m. when Argueta drove onto the freeway into the path of a car driven by John L. Rogers Jr., 33, of 354 West Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur. Robers's car overturned after the collision and he received minor injuries for which he was to see his doctor.

Argueta was treated for bruises at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital before being booked. He posted $1,200 bail to appear Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Teen-Agers Injured In Motorcycle Crash

Two Teen-agers received minor injuries yesterday when their motorcycle ran off Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach, the California Highway Patrol said.

Robert B. Mendoca, 17, of Box 262, Stinson Beach, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes and bruises and his passenger, Roxanne Wright, 17, of 58 Manderly Road, San Rafael, was treated there for scrapes on both legs.

Trailer Home Stolen In San Rafael

Theft of a trailer home, water dept finder, automobile stereophonic unit, purse and cash were reported today by San Rafael police.

The trailer home, a 1967 white Scotsman, license FH 9770, was stolen during the past 10 days while parked at 34 De Luca Place, reported its owner, Norman D. Bird of 34 Via Chepparro, Greenbrae.

The depth finder, worth $150, was stolen Friday night from a boat owned by Seaway Marine, 145 Third Street. Two other boats were broken into, but it was unknown today whether anything had been taken from them, police said.

The stereophonic radio-tape unit and several cartridges, worth $185, were taken early today from a car owned by Richard A. Morrison while parked, unlocked, at his apartment, 1564 Lincoln Avenue.

The cash, totaling $66, was taken from a locked bathroom cabinet at the home of Irene S. Croft, 466 Bret Harte Road, police reported. The cabinet had been forced open, police said.

Florence R. Nichols of 455 Canal Street, San Rafael, reported her purse was stolen from the front seat of her car while parked for about five minutes at the Bermuda Palms Motel. It contained about $30 in cash and credit cards, she reported.

Shell Oil Faces New Walkouts

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Oil workers at three Shell Oil Co. plants in Contra Costa County may resume a 10-week strike after a brief return to work at higher wages.

The 500 workers Saturday gave their union negotiators overwhelming approval to renew the strike because of an impasse over what disciplinary action should be taken against 21 strikers accused of violence on picket lines.

Virgil Coragliotti, Secretary Treasurer of Local 1-5 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said the strike could begin early this week, though no official date has been set.

SPRINGTIME EXUBERANCE PROVES TRAP

It was a warm spring day yesterday in Novato, the kind when young men's fancies turn to higher things — like climbing the metal guard around the transformer at San Ramon Elementary School.

One of the boys got a knee caught and couldn't get loose. So his two companions went to the nearby fire station for help. The firemen freed the boy with a crowbar.

It was Scott McAskill, 5, son of Mayor and Mrs. Harley McAskill of 291 San Felipe Way.

"I was scared for awhile," Scott told his parents. The boy was not hurt.

Woman Booked In Car Theft

A 22-year-old Terra Linda woman was booked into Marin County jail early Sunday by San Rafael police of suspicion of stealing a car she said she had permission to borrow.

The suspect, Patricia Ann Miller of 542 Wake Robin Lane, said she had borrowed the car from its owner, Grover N. Cantwell of Chico, Butte County, but a check of Chico police found the car reported as stolen, police said.

A routine check of the car while parked at the Bermuda Palms Motel disclosed it was stolen, police reported. The suspect was arrested when she returned to the car at 2 a.m.

She was released on her own recognizance by Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith, and is to appear in court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Driver Hospitalized After Two Mishaps

Leroy R. Willey, 37, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut forehead after his car was involved in two accidents yesterday in Samuel P. Taylor State Park, the California Highway Patrol said.

The patrol said the first accident was at 3:15 p.m. when Willey's car sideswiped one driven by Paul G. Moreci, 58, of Daly City, on a campground road. Willey drove off, the patrol said, and five minutes late his car ran off a curve on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and hit a culvert.

Two Booked Over Drugs, Car Theft

Two persons were booked into Marin County Jail Saturday after their car, reportedly stolen, was stopped on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol officers who said they found drugs and narcotics paraphernalia in it.

Alexander Hamberis, 24, of San Francisco, was booked on suspicion of car theft and possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia while Christine R. Daves, 21, also of San Francisco, was booked for car theft. The driver of the car was released without charge.

Both suspects posted $1,000 bail and were to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Officers said they stopped the car on the highway in Sausalito for a routine equipment violation but a check revealed that the car had been reported stolen in San Francisco in November. Officers said a jacket, apparently belonging to Hamberis and containing a plastic bag with a syringe and several pills and capsules, was found in the rear seat of the car.

Larkspur Crash Injures Two

A San Rafael man and a sailor were treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday after the car in which they were riding hit a tree at Alexander and Monte Vista avenues in Larkspur, police said today.

John Armanini, 25, of 1 Dolores Street, San Rafael, was treated for a scraped forehead while James W. Mistron, 22, stationed with the Navy in Long Beach, was treated for facial cuts. Another passenger, Michael Stahl, 22, also in the Navy, was uninjured.

Officers reported that Armanini was driving the car when the accident occurred at 10:55 p.m., Friday.

Two Facing Charges In Marijuana Haul

Two San Franciscans were booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after Larkspur police reportedly found 16 pounds of marijuana and a large amount of marijuana seeds, stems and leaves in the couple's panel truck.

Frederick Christian Neubert Jr., 23, was placed on hold for the parole officer at Corona Rehabilitation Center, Riverside, with his bail set at $6,250. Gail Lynn Scofield, 18, made $6,250 bail. Both were arrested on suspicion of marijuana possession.

Police said the marijuana is valued at about $1,000 on the wholesale underground market but, broken down, would be valued at "many thousands of dollars."

Officers Philip Groat and Gary Orr said the truck failed to heed a stop sign at Madrone and Magnolia avenues at about 3:30 p.m., and stopped the car, driven by Miss Scofield, in Corte Madera at Corte Madera and Redwood avenues.

Police said they found a hand-rolled cigarette, believed to be marijuana filled, in Miss Scofield's purse. On arrest, they found the four four-pound marijuana bricks wrapped in a brown plastic bag in the truck plus what the chief described as "a lot of marijuana residue" and several partly burned hand-rolled cigarettes, believed to contain marijuana.

Burglars Take $5,000 In Loot

Burglars ransacked the Greenbrae home of Harold Farb during the weekend and took $5,000 in loot, including $3,175 in jewelry, Larkspur police said today.

Method of entry was unkown but investigation is continuing, Police Chief Howard H. Clark said. Farb, who lives at 319 Eliseo Drive, reported his loss at 6:30 p.m. yesterday.

Among the missing items, police said, were a charm bracelet valued at $1,100; two solid gold wedding rings, $800; a diamond ring, $650; men's clothing, $300; three television sets, cameras, liquor and a full set of serving silver.

CONCERT REVIEW

Baroque Consort's Debut Auspicious

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A new chamber music ensemble, the Baroque Consort — working in a different setting for me, the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood — presented a recital yesterday afternoon marked by extraordinarily well balanced voices of the four instruments.

Not new among the musicians, however, was director Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, who provided the very solid and rhythmic harpsichod continuo, and the gifted violinist Michael Gerling. But I had never heard flutist Douglas Delaney and cellist Patricia Symonds, and they proved they possess comparable talent.

Neither had I heard guest soprano Jeanne Kostelic, though she has performed in Marin recitals for some time, and it is a pleasure to add her name to those of other accomplished singers in Marin.

Works performed by the consort with fine balance and precision were the Sonata in F Minor by Telemann, a Quartet in G by Tomaso Giordani and the Sonata in G Minor by Vivaldi.

Other numbers featured the players in solos and various combinations.

In singing the Bach arias "I Do Rejoice in all My Sorrow" with violin obbligato and "Sighing, Weeping, Sorrow, Need" with flute obbligato, Miss Kostelic revealed a well trained and evenly developed voice through a good range and one of lovely lyric quality. It made a beautiful combination with the flute.

She seldom, however, looked up from the music and should learn to do this as much as possible in order to maintain better rapport with the audience.

Delaney was remarkable for his smooth control and therefore fluent ease in his flute playing. His tone was very clear and silvery and his technique agile. All of this was heard in the Bach Sonata in E Flat for Flute and the trio Sonata in C Minor for Flute and Cello by Quantz.

While Miss Symonds' cello was always well handled in the other numbers, she had her special chance to show her skill in the Vivaldi Cello Sonata No. 6. Her tone was warm and resonant and her technical command was particularly evident in the final corrente.

Gerling's unaccompanied Bach Praeludium was something of a tour de force, sounding at times almost like two violins with one carrying the strong melody and the other accompanying. Only toward the end was there some slight evidence of tiring.

Humphrey Urges Dixie Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, whose liberal civil rights record helped lead to a Southern rejection of his presidential drive, says the national Democratic party in the south must be rebuilt on a racially integrated basis.

The former vice president said in an interview he is going to Mississippi next month to help further this goal and restore Democratic strength in the deep south where he carried only one state last year.

"We Democrats have no intention of sacrificing the South to the Republicans or to a third party," he said. But "our party rules require an integrated party and that is what we are going to build in the South as well as elsewhere."

Russ Musician May Be Defector

NEW YORK (AP) — A cellist with the touring Moscow State Symphony Orchestra has vanished and police believe he may have defected.

Vslevolod Lezhnev, 37, was reported missing Saturday, police said, by the first secretary of the Soviet mission to the United Nations, Evgeny N. Alechin.

Lezhnev was last seen Friday night when he checked out of the Wellington Hotel near Carnegie Hall carrying his luggage and cello. He missed a Saturday night concert in Baltimore and a concert yesterday in Washington.

The orchestra is scheduled to return to Moscow tomorrow.

Ring, Cash Stolen From Hospital Locker

A diamond ring and $25 in cash were taken from a wallet in an overcoat in Marin General Hospital's nurses' locker room Wednesday morning, sheriff's deputies said Saturday.

The ring and money belonged to Ruth M. Hutchinson, of 12 Dusel Drive, Novato, they said.

Candlelight Series Books Woodwinds

The Danzi Woodwind Quintet will present the fifth concert of the Candlelight Chamber Music series Friday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Organized in 1958 in Holland, the quintet has performed to critical acclaim in many countries, including the United States.

The quintet is composed of Frans Vester, flutist and founder of the group; Brian Pollard, bassoon; Koen van Slogteren, oboe; Piet Honingh, clarinet; and Adrian van Wodenberg, horn. All are first chairmen of the Concertgebouw Orchestra and the Netherlands Opera orchestra.

They specialize in the most avant-garde music, and many contemporary composers write especially for them.

Other works to be performed are the Quintet in A Minor, Opus 9, No. 2 by Reicha; "Serpentinata" by Becker; "Summermusic," Opus 31 by Barber; and "Musica da Camera" by Malipiero.

Cranston Urges U.S. School Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The federal government should provide financial aid to education but should allow school administrators to deal with student disrupters, according to Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Speaking on television, Cranston said yesterday the most important thing the federal government can do for education is provide financial aid "to relieve the burdens of the hard-pressed property taxpayer."

"The last thing we want is the federal government stepping in and beginning to run our state and local educational institutions," the California Democrat said.

If there are students who are not interested in an education, who are disrupting the education of others, they should be expelled, Cranston said.

Marin Ballet Chosen For Staging At Fete

The Marin Civic Ballet Company's newest ballet, "The Gap," has been chosen for performance at the Pacific Western Regional Ballet Festival by festival adjudicator Martha Hill, director of the Julliard School's Dance department, ballet director Leona Norman has announced.

The Marin Ballet has been selected to perform every year since the festival's inception four years ago. This year the festivel wil' be held in San Diego in April.

"The Gap" was choreographed for the company this past winter by Denis Carey, then dance master of the San Francisco Ballet. It deals with youth's reaction to the adult world, and attempts to grow up.

Bruce Bain, a lead dancer from the San Francisco Ballet, will dance the role of the grown-up world's representative. Other dancers in the ballet include Laurie Berryman of Mill Valley, Rocky White of Corte Madera, Charles Perrier of Fairfax, Cathy Prescott of Kentfield, and Cindy Lucas, Becky Jones and Jane Theien, all of San Rafael.

College Opens Non-Credit List

Registration began today for the College of Marin's community education program of 102 non-credit classes for the spring quarter, including a new course called "Of Black America."

The college is also offering classes on group leadership, dietetics and physical fitness for men and lecture-seminars on how to prevent theft in one's business, social developments here and abroad, transplantations and frontiers of science.

Office-Warehouse On Plans Agenda

Construction of a glass company warehouse and office at 76 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in city hall. Ray D. Dotto, owner of the land, seeks architectural approval of the structure.

The commission will also consider plans for a nine-unit apartment building at 18 Valencia Avenue, as requested by Jay Thomas, representative for Royce Properties which owns the site.

Corte Madera Police Suspect Car Arson

Corte Madera police and firemen are investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which yesterday destroyed the 1959 Cadillac of Sharon Buckley while parked in her garage at 623 Robin Drive.

Miss Buckley reported the fire in the open garage of her apartment at 3:05 p.m. Asst. Fire Chief Lee Larson said he believes the fire was deliberately set.

All-Berlioz Concert Set For Finale

The all-Berlioz program scheduled by the Marin Symphony Orchestra directed by Sandor Salgo at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the gymnasium at the College of Marin will feature Lucien Mitchell as soloist in "Harold in Italy."

Mitchell will play the noted viola obbligato first commissioned by Paganini. The program also includes the "Benvenuto Cellini" overture and the song cycle "Les Nuits De'Ete" with soprano Carole Bogard as soloist.

Mitchell is principal violist with the Marin Symphony Orchestra and is a member of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. He is a member of the International String Quintette and plays with several chamber music ensembles.

The program will close the 17th season of the Marin Symphony under the auspices of the Marin Symphony Guild.

Girl, 9, Cuts Foot In Swimming Pool

Denise Slade, 9, of 668 Hancock Street, Novato, cut her right foot yesterday when she steeped on a piece of glass in the wading pool at Marinwood Recreation Center, firemen said.

Fireman James Jackson applied first aid. The mishap occurred about 4:40 p.m.

27 Students Are On Ballot For Marin College Election

Twenty-seven students will be on the ballot in the College of Marin's student body election Wednesday and Thursday, all having been successfully screened Friday by the multi-factioned Interim Committee.

Candidates are: Mike Conroy, Conrad Harris II and Charles Maltzahn, president; Harry Gilbert and Del Mar, vice president; Peggy Guthrie and Kim McDowell, secretary; James T. Lee and Gerald Battle, treasurer.

Mike Kelly and Gerald Shimada, rallies and assemblies commissioner; Val Sabaco and Edward Schimberg, spirit and athletics commissioner; Michael E. Dalton, college center commissioner; Donald Ray Bilby and O'Herrow Marshall, public relations commissioner.

Oceanographic Proposal Dropped, Bolinas Reports

A proposal to establish an oceanographic study center in the Bolinas area has been withdrawn, Bolinas Harbor District Board president Thomas J. Barfield said Saturday.

The district received word last month from a Santa Barbara law firm that the CIREOS Institute (Centers for Interpretation and Research in the Earth and Ocean Sciences) was considering a center at Bolinas to serve the San Francisco Bay area.

Barfield said he was told of the withdrawal by the law firm, which said it was probably because of the March 11 vote to dissolve the harbor district.

After the proposal was made, Marin conservationist Harold Gregg reported he was unable to find any listing in Santa Barbara or elsewhere in California for CIREOS.

Barfield said Saturday the law firm handling the negotiations did not say who was backing CIREOS, but that it was an East Coast organization.

The CIREOS proposal included laboratories, experimental farms for agronomy and mariculture, and a tree farm, and promised a return of $85,000 a year to the district.

Dog Control Proposal On Hub Agenda

A proposed countywide ordinance aimed at dog owners who let their animals run loose will be discussed by the San Anselmo city council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The council, which at its last meeting voiced unanimous support of tough new animal control regulations, will meet with county officials concerned with the problem.

The council will also consider a proposal by Councilman Robert M. Scott which would limit the number of people who could live in the same dwelline to five unrelated adults. The proposal is aimed at breaking up hippie communes which abound in the city.

In other action, the council will consider approval of Transter of Clearview Cable Systems' city franchise to Columbia Broadcasting System and discuss policy statements on transportation in San Anselmo and the widening of Sir Francis Drake and Center Boulevards, a request to bridge a creek at 12 Allyn Avenue and police recommendations on parking matters.

Utilities Proposal

An underground utilities ordinance will be considered when the Larkspur Planning Commission meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall. The commission also will discuss updating the city general plan.

Street Cost Talk

Street lighting cost estimates for Miller Avenue and 701 planning proposals for Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio and Miller Avenue will be discussed by the Mill Valley planning commission and architectural advisory committee meeting jointly at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

New Firms Ask Novato For Permits

Use permits for two new businesses will come before the Novato Palnning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Cloudburst Car Wash Inc. is asking for a permit for an automatic car wash with gasoline sales on the lot east of Seventh Street and south of Lee Brothers Market.

Donald B. Krosch is asking for a use permit for the construction and operation of a "Jack-in-the-Box" restaurant at the southeast corner of Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard. He also is asking for five signs for the restaurant.

Other items to come before the commission include: An eight-lot subdivision on 2.75 acres on the east side of Euclyptus Avenue south of Center Road for Lloyd and Jocelyn Benson; a variance to allow the manufacture and sale of archery supplies in an accessory building at his home, requested by Earl C. Lewis at 1630 Hill Road; a request to remove a 30-inch thick ash tree which shades the rear of his property by J. D. Pearce at 786 Clausing Avenue and a review of fiscal 1969-70 budget requests.

Auto Vandalism In Los Ranchitos

Sheriff's deputies reported Saturday that vandals broke both headlights, cracked the windshield and slashed the convertible top and rear window of a car belonging to Ginny A. Walker, of 49 North Knoll Road, Los Ranchitos, Thursday.

Walker reported his car was vandalized as it was parked in front of his home.

Meeting Delayed

The adjourned meeting of the Fairfax City Council, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed to 8 p.m. next Monday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

In this age of planned obsolescence, is there a place for a car so unconventional that it may well last for decades?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

At $4,780, the 220 Diesel may be the world's greatest economy car. Read why.*

Mercedes-Benz lavishes such attention on engineering that some people say Mercedes-Benz motor cars are too sophisticated.

And, by conventional standards, they are.

But Mercedes-Benz engineers step to the music of a different drummer. They insist on building margins of performance and safety into their machines to meet the unexpected, as well as the expected. And they stubbornly refuse to design anything just good enough to "get by" for a time—and no better.

That, in essence, is what distinguishes a Mercedes-Benz, what sets it apart from the crowd of conventional cars, bred of conventional standards.

An amazing maverick

It is the legendary Diesel.

This maverick is so defiantly unconventional that it can probably cut your fuel bills in half, eliminate many of your usual repair bills—and is likely to be serving you faithfully when most of today's sleek new dreamboats have been chopped up for scrap.

Not for everyone

To appreciate the Diesel, you first have to understand the idea behind it—and be able to adjust to its three foibles. It is not for every man.

The Diesel is built for people who want an economy car, but who decline to venture onto the highways in a featherweight, cramped machine. If you are willing to pay for the safety and comfort of a big, 3,000-pound sedan, the Diesel will reward you with fuel costs that match the flimsiest little half-pint on the road.

The three Diesel foibles:

First, you cannot hop into this car and roar off in a cloud of dust. The Diesel starts like any other car when its motor is warm. But, in the morning, you must be patient for about 30 seconds while the motor preheats for firing. (A minor nuisance which turns to advantage in winter, enabling you to get underway while others may still be cursing and shivering.)

Second, you must abandon any thought of fireball acceleration. The Diesel will cruise indefinitely at any posted speed limit in America. (Once, it even won the 8,728-mile African Rally!) But, as a dragster, it's a bust.

Third, though the Diesel sounds exactly like an ordinary car when it's moving, you'll detect a vestigial "pocketa" at idle—a slightly bizarre note in a car otherwise so grand.

If you can learn to shrug off an occasional jest about one of these eccentricities, you'll have the last laugh on everybody at the end of each month—year after year.

Cuts fuel bills in half

To begin with, of course, it uses lowly diesel fuel. (In a pinch, it will run on soya-bean oil.) The price of diesel fuel varies from state to state. In almost all states, it is lower than regular gasoline. In some states it costs only half as much.

The Diesel also sips its fuel at a miserly rate. In fact, the engine burns every drop so efficiently that exhaust is virtually smoke-free. A surprise to many.

Now—if you've been resigned to getting 12, 15, 18 miles a gallon from standard sedans, brace yourself.

The new Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel easily delivers over twenty-five miles to the gallon—and on trips, when you get full benefit of diesel fuel's price advantage over gasoline, you can average 30, 40, even 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular!

Many repair costs vanish

More good news. The diesel engine is such a gem of simplicity that it merely dispenses with many parts that normally end up costing you money. It has no spark plugs. No points. No condensers. Not even a carburetor to repair or replace.

It goes and goes and goes

Best of all, this 4-cylinder diesel injection engine is designed to give you uncommonly reliable service—for years.

Not only are there relatively few parts to go amiss, but the parts that are present have been engineered to have characteristic Mercedes-Benz stamina. There's a rugged overhead camshaft and a five-bearing crankshaft. Twelve of the 16 piston rings are coated with expensive molybdenum—an exotic "space age" metal that won't melt below 4,712 degrees.

The ingenious engineers, seeing that valves wore unevenly, designed them to rotate slightly with each stroke, vastly prolonging their life.

Mercedes-Benz does not warrant the Diesel to last for 10 or 20 years. Any car's life depends on how hard it is driven and how carefully it is maintained. But a lifetime measured in decades is no pipe dream, either.

Of the 700,000 Diesels it has built since 1936, Mercedes-Benz estimates that fully 80 percent are still humming along!

First, a Mercedes-Benz

The engine makes this Mercedes-Benz an economy car. But the real value of the Diesel lies not so much in the things that make it different from every other Mercedes-Benz as in the things that make it the same.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is welded into being, not bolted. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

The body is dunked in primer, baked, spray-painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Even the insides of the hubcaps are coated. Total paint and primer rust protection: 44 pounds.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that are simply unavailable on domestic sedans. All-independent suspension. Taut, recirculating-ball-type steering that gives you the "feel" of the road. Massive, racing-type disc brakes on all four wheels.

It steers, maneuvers and stops as if your life depended on it.

This is one reason why Car and Driver, with a world of cars to choose from, concludes that the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners.

Quite a distinction.

Talent To Fill County Posts Not Lacking Here

What loomed as a difficult and perhaps divisive task has turned out very smoothly in the selection of a successor to Walter H. Busher as chief probation officer of Marin County.

The Juvenile Justice Commission, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and the board of supervisors were fortunate in finding a man of long experience, John W. Brewer of Kentfield, available and desirous of the job just as Busher announced he would leave for a new state position the end of this month.

If the transition of duties goes as smoothly as the appointment, they will be doubly fortunate. Such transition is not always easy when a department has been under one head for so many years as has the county probation department. However, Brewer's experience on the California Youth Authority particularly fits him for understanding the department's workings, so this too may be accomplished with minimum of friction.

One thing to be watched is whether the new probation chief will take prompt action to try out the proposed volunteer probation aide program. This system, proposed also in municipal court, might prove the answer to some problems that have long plagued juvenile departments in Marin and elsewhere.

FINDING A QUALIFIED Marin resident to fill the spot so promptly was especially fortuitous — with an unintentional assist due Gov. Ronald Reagan for not reappointing Brewer to the Youth Authority.

This residence problem threatened to be sticky. At least, some county officials thought it would be.

When Busher submitted his resignation, County Administrator Alan Bruce announced plans for statewide or nationwide recruiting, with screening to be done by the county personnel office and appointment by the board of supervisors.

He quietly abandoned this plan after it was pointed out that state law gives the screening power to the juvenile justice commission, the appointing power to the judge, and provides the probation officer must be a county resident. As things turned out, no conflict developed over contradictory provisions of a county ordinance saying the supervisors appoint and of the state law saying the judge appoints. Judge and supervisors met together and agreed on Brewer.

And the matter of residence just never came up. It didn't need to.

WE CANNOT ALWAYS be so fortunate as to have a man fitted for a job available just at the right time because some other appointment runs out, as in Brewer's case. But we suspect that many jobs for which nationwide recruiting has been conducted could be filled as well or better with Marinites. There is plenty of talent here. The county has largely failed to seek it.

Interestingly enough, there is a court case of record holding that assistant probation officers also must be county residents under terms of state law. It was handed down 'way back in 1912 in the case of Reed vs. Hammond.

Many of Marin's probation officers reside outside the county even long after their appointment. We suspect that here, too, finding county residents would pose no great problem if the law, as interpreted in this old court case, were observed to the letter.

Dunlap Amendments Would Curb Mis-Use Of Initiative

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—New proposals to revise initiative procedures in California are now before the Legislature, authorized by Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo.

The proposals in no manner seek to curtail use of the initiative by the people, Dunlap emphasizes, but rather to restore this process to the public rather than keep it as the virtually exclusive prerogative of public relations firms and signature canvassing organizations.

"I AM CONVINCED," the assemblyman says, "that recently the so-called people's right of initiative has become the 'darling' of public relations agencies.

"A good example of this is the financially irresponsible Proposition 9 on the 1968 ballot, which would have bankrupted local government or forced the Legislature to double the sales tax or triple the income tax.

"Proposition 9 was allowed to qualify under the present law without any of us knowing who paid to get it on the ballot. Under my amendment proponents would be required to reveal special interest support and the money spent in obtaining signatures.

"During the campaign on Proposition 9, there was rampant speculation as to who was really behind it, but no one was in a position to demonstrate the facts, or reveal the sources of the large amount required to get the measure before the people."

THE FIRST Dunlap amendment would require full disclosure by proponents of an initiative proposition of expenditures involved, and who puts up the money.

The second would require that petitions be signed only in public places, such as courthouses, schools, etc.

Said Dunlap, "The people will flock to the nearest public building and sign on the dotted line, if the measure is really of the people."

His amendments would reduce speculation as to facts and unveil the secrecy of behind-the-scenes manipulation of the initiative propositions, as the public would be advised of the real proponents before they signed petitions.

That the initiative has gotten out of hand is virtually uncontroverted.

SECURING signatures in sufficient number to qualify a proposal is considered almost an impossibility without the services of professional signature gathering firms, and the costs run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It would appear that Dunlap's amendments would decrease the chance of qualifying a measure even more, for without prodding, it would be difficult to convince people they should take time out to travel to a school or public building. But even if the measures do nothing else, they will start thinking to make the initiative more accessible to the people.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

U.S. Must Help People Of Biafra

I wish to express my view of the Biafran situation:

I feel that the U. S. government is not doing enough to help the Biafrans. Whether or not the cause is justified, that does not matter. What does matter is that they are being slaughtered by the federal Nigerian forces. Thousands are being killed off by starvation each day. If the U. S. government does not do anything, this will be a black period in American history — humanitarianism would have gone down the drain. The U. S. government should not let this happen. It should help the Biafrans.

The Red Cross, Caritas, and other organizations need moral and financial help. If the people of the Bay Area are really concerned, then they can help by contacting the Red Cross in San Francisco or San Rafael or by getting information from:

Save the Biafran Children, P. O. Box 5, Sausalito, Calif., 94965, or Nigerian-Biafran Emergency, CARE, 444 Market Street, San Francisco, Calif, 94111.

Don't just stand there — help the Biafrans!

Publishing Names Injures Youngsters

In regard to the most excellent letter from Judge Samuel Gardiner re the publishing of names of juvenile offenders:

This subject, I am sure, has been given much thought and research by those who specialize in the field of juvenile behavior.

I do not think the editor of a newspaper is, therefore, the one to decide on so grave an issue. Publishing the names of young people in trouble can only serve to further ostracize an already unhappy, insecure youngster.

How many thousands of people, who have erred in their youth, have gone on to completely successful adult life?

Could they have done it without the help from people who really cared?

Bagley Spending Bills Berated

In a few instances, during the past two years our old friend, Bill Bagley acted almost like a Republican, but he seems to be reverting to his true character.

He is still trying to win the championship for introducing the most legislation costing the taxpayers more of his hard-earned dollars.

According to the Mar. 13 I-J, good old Bill introduced legislation to appropriate two million thorn in Gov. Reagan's side, more dollars of the taxpayers' money to help school districts eliminate racial segregation. I presume that would include "busing" and "junkets" to far-flung places. Doesn't he as yet realize that the more spent on integration, the more trouble it causes? They have been trying that for two decades, and all it has accomplished is more racial conflict.

It is also evident that Bill doesn't want the lowly taxpayer to realize how much the state government is costing him. He is in favor of withholding state income tax. If we didn't have federal withholding, the citizens would realize how much it is costing them, and demand a reduction in the squandering of our money. . . .

According to a Sacramento report, Bagley is the biggest since the departure of John Veneman. Isn't that some way for a "so-called Republican" to treat the greatest governor in the memory of living Californians?

Why doesn't Bagley do the honorable thing, and get off the back of the Republican Party. and ride the "bandwagon" of the party he truly represents?

Gun Registration Not Closed Issue

In answer to Mr. (Eric W.) Lane's letter, may I say that although the Marin County gun registration proposal was defeated, I am grateful that Rep. (William S.) Mailliard still wishes to know how individuals here feel about this crucial matter. I am sure Mr. Lane remembers that at the board of supervisors meetings, many people said they would vote for gun registration at the state or federal level, but not at the county level. Rep. Mailliard's poll gives these people a chance to express their views, and I'm delighted that our representative does not take it for granted that gun registration is a closed issue with all Marin County residents.

Should Have Place To Dance

Why is it that there isn't a nice place for people to dance, who love to dance? Without having to drink and eat the night away too. Of all the nice restaurants in Marin County only one or two have a decent dance floor — what they call one at least (10-by-10). What about using some of the wasted space in the Marin County Civic Center or the other buildings being built so huge and space consuming?

The Larkspur Bowl was beautiful, and enjoyed by hundreds, young and old.

In San Francisco, all the hippy trash has taken over the once called El Patio or Carousel at Van Ness and Market streets. Also the Avalon Ballroom at Sutter and Van Ness . . .

We love to dance, and hundreds of others enjoy the relaxing effect it has. Wonderful exercise too.

'Brezhnev Doctrine' Proves Failure In Its Initial Test

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON— An Eastern European Communist raised a most revealing question in conversation the other day:

"The Soviets claim the right and duty to invade a Socialist country to keep it in line with their version of communism. Why don't they invade China?

"If Dubcek was taking Czechoslovakia down the wrong path, Mao has taken China 10 times further."

THIS COMMUNIST leader with whom we were talking knew the answer. He put the question not to seriously suggest that the Soviet Union should invade China but to point up that Moscow's use of its military might to keep a Socialist regime in line rests not on principle but on what they can get away with.

Nothing has put the Soviet Union into so much trouble in the Communist world as its attempt to justify the Czech occupation by proclaiming the "Brezhnev Doctrine." It asserts that the sovereignty of Socialist nations shall be limited to doing whatever the Soviet Union wants them to do and that Russian sovereignty shall extend to compelling them, by force if necessary, to obey Russian orders.

BUT THE KREMLIN misjudged how far it could go without running into far more resistance than it expected.

The Czech invasion was bad enough. It split the Communist parties in Eastern Europe and united the Communist parties in Western Europe in unanimous opposition. Then the Russians compounded the mistake by attempting to justify it on the ground of the natural right of the most powerful Communist country to "protect" the other Socialist countries against their own governments.

Obviously this was intended as a warning to the other Communist regimes that they could be next on the schedule for invasion if they didn't pay heed.

But this threat went too far. Instead of intimidating those who were supposed to be intimidated, it emboldened several of the Eastern European leaders to stand up to Moscow. The Russian warning was so brazen that it has caused them to see that if they do not take a riskful stand right now to preserve the independence of their countries, it will be too late and all will be lost by default.

TO THE DISMAY of the Russians, this is exactly what the Communist governments of Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — despite the invasion — are doing.

This is exactly what happened at the latest meeting of the Warsaw Pact powers in Budapest. Brezhnev, Kosygin and other top Russian leaders were on hand to make sure that all the Eastern European Communist heads of state were adequately impressed. They weren't.

The Soviet Union wanted to create a tightly knit, Moscow-run organization to control the military forces assigned to the alliance by the other Communist nations. They wanted all of the Eastern European Communist governments to rally behind Moscow in its border clashes with China, wanted more Russian troops invited into these countries for joint maneuvers, wanted more Russian control over the Eastern European economy, wanted implicit approval of the Brezhnev Doctrine.

THAT WAS ALL — and the Russians got none of it. Romanian Prime Minister Nicolae Ceausecu vetoed all vigorously and daringly. Czechoslovakia and Hungary quietly but firmly reinforced the veto. The Russians then departed for Moscow to think over what they had heard and to decide what to do next.

Is another invasion in the making? Could be. But the Russians must know that if the Red army marches on Romania, Moscow will lose for some time what it seems to want very much—U.S.-Soviet arms talks and the beginnings of East-West detente.

Vietnam War Cost Halts Federal School Upgrading

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon Administration has embraced the idea that the cities need higher quality education than the suburbs.

It has embraced the idea, but is not yet ready to put up the money required to make urban schools superior to those in surrounding, wealthier communities.

The inhibiting factor is the same which kept the Johnson Administration from fully living up to the promise of a breakthrough in federal aid to the education of the poor: The Vietnam War.

ALTHOUGH FORMER President Johnson kept insisting that the nation could afford guns and butter, the fact is that the cost of fighting in Vietnam put severe limitations on spending for domestic programs. Because of those limitations, Johnson skipped a major leap forward in education spending for the poor, one which would have helped urban schools leap-frog in quality.

Not once since the 1965 law was passed providing for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools has Congress put up all the money promised in the legislation. White House requests consistently fell short of the goals.

IN TESTIMONY before the House Education and Labor Committee this week, Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) endorsed "wholeheartedly" the concept that "urban education must be made superior to suburban education if the graduates of both are to have equivalent skills."

On the basis of this endorsement, about a half dozen Democrats and Republicans, pressed Finch to increase the budget request.

The committee chairman, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., appealed to Finch "not to repeat the mistakes of the past administration." Unless more money were provided now, Perkins warned, the problems would multiply.

FINCH SQUIRMED uncomfortably. He clearly preferred to ask for more. But the wish was not father to the request. He was bound by the budget limitation, he said.

He did go this far: In reply to questions from Republican Congressman John R. Dellenback of Oregon, Finch acknowledged that the need was there, the department could "usefully" spend more money than requested, and he would welcome more if congress wanted to give it to this department.

But he was not going to ask for it. The Nixon Administration was sticking with the Johnson Administration request for education. And no more.

'Special Deputy' Hubbub Proves Preferential Treatment Exists

This whole business of who is a special deputy and whether he is "active" or "inactive" points up one thing, if nothing else — that the practice or perferential treatment still exists.

Why must any traffic officer or meter maid waste any time trying to determine the validity of a badge or card flashed by any speeder or overtime parker: All offenders should be informed, just as you and I are informed: "Go tell it to the judge."

The problem exists because of an unwritten law among some officers that traffic tags should not be issued to a fellow officer. If all violators were treated uniformly, we would find less badge-flashing by characters who think that badges and titles entitle them to special privileges not enjoyed by you and me.

A HYPOTHETICAL question asked in most oral examinations for police officer is this: If a fellow officer or your chief is caught violating the law, such as drunken driving, would you arrest him?

The "book" answer is "yes." And yet, in actual practice, some officers refrain from tagging another officer, even if the latter is in a private car on private business. It is this very practice that puts an officer in a quandary when a stranger flashes an important looking badge or button and demands that a ticket be "fixed."

With the exception of officers on patrol who must break laws to chase down speeders or other offenders, there should be no excemption for anyone—special, active or inactive.

Otherwise, where do we draw the line? A mayor may feel just as important as a special deputy. Shouldn't he be allowed to go 75 in a 25-mile zone and flash a badge when caught? How about a judge, supervisor, lawyer, city councilman? Any one of them could flash an imposing badge or two.

IN ANY LARGE structure where you try to combine esthetics and functional efficinecy, you run into problems.

In the existing parking lot of Administration Building, for example, the lights are designed so unobtrusively that you can barely see your way back to the car at night.

In the building itself, lighting in the county library was designed to be soft and diffused, so much so that you'd go blind trying to read for any length of time. In the darkest area of some of the book stacks, the lights are about two candle power, whereas 60 candle power is the minimum for good reading.

They're trying to figure out some way to improve the candle power without tearing out the entire esthetic ceiling.

The new hall of justice also has its little bugs. They've installed garbage chutes to drop waste paper from the top floor to collectors at the bottom. They had a test run the other day and found that large sheets of paper will plug the chute halfway down.

Cult In Miasmapolis Has Way To Renew Itself

Many who have visited Miasmapolis will remember the beauty of this great city. Its tree-lined avenues, its fine shops and theaters are the best to be found anywhere. Its flowering central park, the pride of the city, is popular not only with the local citizenry but with tourists as well, and its opera house, a remarkable example of contemporary architecture, is renowned for its exceptional talent.

Few visitors, however, are aware that within the city a most unusual cult exists whose members are known as the "Establishmentarians."

MEMBERSHIP in this organization is restricted to those over 30.

For a time this restriction caused some dispute and there was a movement afoot to contest it as being unfair, discriminatory and un-American. It didn't succeed, however, since no one could agree what the change should be.

Members of the cult are a warm, friendly and likeable lot, but they do practice certain peculiar rituals and ceremonies and they do have habits which distinguish them from other folks.

ONE SUCH habit—without fear of contradiction it may be said to be common to them all—is work. Establishmentarians work and they seem to thrive on it.

Another practice which they have is a little ritual performed with amazing regularity during the first fortnight of each lunar month. This ceremony, accompanied by deep, moan-like cries resembling the strophic chant of a Greek chorus, is called "Paying Bills."

Their most outstanding ritual, however, is an annual event which takes place during spring shortly after the vernal equinox and is a much more elaborate version of "Paying Bills" except it is far more festive. This yearly ceremony is called "Paying Taxes."

ESTABLISHMENTARIANS are addicted to owning property and at least one auto-car. They are also noted for having a high regard for their families. Each family consists of two or three or so children. Establishmentarian parents enjoy telling their children stories. These stories have unique beginings such as:

"Things aren't like they use to be . . ."

or,

"When I was your age . . ."

or,

"We had it a lot tougher when we were young . . ."

THE CHILDREN, when they are little, love these stories and they laugh and clap their hands with glee. When they become older they just laugh.

Establishmentarians are vigorous participants in games. For this they are highly thought of in the community since without them a popular game called "Generation Gap," which requires two sides, could not be played.

They like to live in nice houses, wear nice clothes and are clean, neat and things like that and are widely regarded as the backbone of the community. And it is no secret that they have brought about a condition known as "Affluence."

"AFFLUENCE" is chiefly characterized by money.

This money has provided more time and more leisure and more schooling for those who are not yet 30 so that they can form another cult to oppose the Establishmentarians.

The members of this cult call themselves the "Anti-establishmentarians" and they are anti-establishmentarian until they themselves become 30.

And most do.

Transactional Class Set At Terra Linda

A class on transactional analysis -- the system of putting complex psychological facts into simple language — again will be offered by the San Rafael city adult evening school in its spring quarter starting Thursday at Terra Linda High School.

Toastmasters Set Youth Series

Toastmasters International is sponsoring a youth leadership program "to develop effective communication and capable leadership among young people."

Dr. Thomas Hart, president of the Tamalpais Toastmasters Club, said his group will conduct the leadership program at San Rafael High School at 7 p.m. on eight consecutive Thursdays starting April 10.

High school students desiring to register for the free program may notify Peter C. Meyer, 9 Eucalyptus Lane, San Rafael.

SPECIAL LIMITED ENROLLMENT FOR EXTRA CASH BENEFITS!
EXPIRES MIDNIGHT, APRIL 27, 1969

Leave the hospital with "EXTRA CASH" in your pocket!

New health plan pays extra cash direct to you–in addition to any other insurance –individual, group or Medicare– tax-free extra cash to use as you please!

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do–but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, April 27, 1969!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate... they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs.The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen or investigators are used. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"!

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity, and reputation of Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company" since 1902. For years, it specialized in health insurance for physicians, surgeons, and dentists exclusively, and its Board of Directors is still composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental, and insurance professions. Headquartered in Omaha, Nebraska, where it is incorporated and licensed, Physicians Mutual today serves hundreds of thousands of Americans in all walks of life throughout the United States direct by mail. You may judge the high calibre of the company from the fact that Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)."

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your form. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. When you need your benefits, you can be sure that your claim will be handled promptly.

Protect Your Family — Enroll Now. If Not Satisfied Your $1 Will Be Refunded

Take a moment now to fill out your Enrollment Form and mail it with only $1.00 for your first month.

When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is honest and easy to understand. But if for any reason whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$75.00 a week when your wife is hospitalized
$50.00 a week for each eligible child hospitalized
$350.00 a week double cash benefits — when you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized.

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$75.00 a week when your wife is hospitalized
$350.00 a week double cash benefits — when you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized.

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized
$50.00 a week for each eligible child hospitalized

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$100.00 a week when you are hospitalized

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

PLUS INCREASED EXTRA CASH FOR CANCER, HEART ATTACK OR STROKE

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally, The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental derangement, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or V.A. facilities.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS . . . if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount —$350 A WEEK!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan	$2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan	3.50
Male on any Plan	3.50

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00.

19 Important Questions Answered
ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) extra cash income for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife.

Under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) for you.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Veterans Administration facilities.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war, military service, mental derangement, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen s Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account"!

16. Will my claims be handled promptly?

Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesmen are used. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only these low monthly rates: only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

"LOOK AT our beautiful butterflies," says Mary Monardo. She is holding a multi-colored mosaic in her right hand and looking over the psychedelic patterns on the other butterflies, all of which will decorate Peacock Gap Country Club Wednesday for the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary luncheon and fashion show.

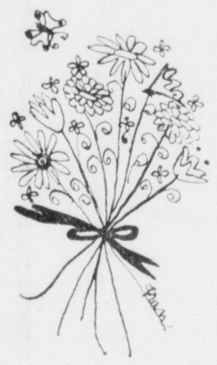
Girls Design Vivid Butterflies

By JOAN LISETOR

Gaily colored butterflies made of papier mache will decorate Peacock Gap Country Club Wednesday for the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary fashion show and luncheon.



The butterflies are being made as an art project by Girl Scout Troop 63, who meet at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley. The 32 girls range in age from nine to 12 years old.

MRS. GEORGE de URIOSTE, leader of the troop, is pleased by this and the other community service projects the girls have done.

"The girls enjoy making the butterflies, especially knowing they are helping the children at the Sunny Hills Home," she said. "They have also stuffed envelopes for the Marin Tuberculosis Association and are making clay bowls to be used as tray favors on Easter at Ross Hospital."

Diligent workers, the girls begin their butterflies with eight sheets of newspaper. With a pencil they draw freehand the outline of a butterfly. They then cut the butterfly shape out, saving the scraps of newspaper they have cut off.

Next they paint four of the sheets of butterfly shaped newspaper with liquid starch, one at a time, carefully placing one on top of the other, smoothing all of the bubbles out.

"JUST LIKE putting up wallpaper," commented one of the girls.

The process is then repeated with the remaining four sheets of newspaper. Then the scraps are bunched up, dabbed with a little bit of starch and sandwiched in between the two layers. (The second four sheets of newspaper serving as the "top of the sandwich.")

The edges of the butterfly are fastened together with paper clips and allowed to dry over night.

The final touches are put on the butterflies after they are dried. Each girl chooses her own design and sketches it in pencil.

Satisfied with the design they go to work with acrylic paints and the results are extremely imaginative. Many of the designs are psychedelic; another creative mind developed a multi-colored mosaic pattern, and one questionable finished product strongly resembled a turtle.

BUT AFTER two sequins for eyes and two black pipe cleaners for feelers were placed on the butterflies, they appeared authentic enough for flight.

And fly they will when they are strung with fishing line and hung as mobiles along the run way for the fashion show highlighting a spring theme.

"We get them back after the luncheon, and we get to keep them," said one of the Girl Scouts.

"I can't wait to put it up in my room," another said excitedly.

Marin Women

MARTHA BONER has painted her newspaper sheets with starch and put the scraps in place. She is lining up the top portion, also painted with starch, and will clip the two pieces in place and allow to dry over night.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Richard Kiiskis Wed, Michigan To Be Home

Harriet Linare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul De Moss of Mill Valley, became the bride of Richard Kiiski, son of Jalmar Kiiski of San Francisco, on March 14 in a ceremony at St. Aidan's Episcopal Church in San Francisco.

HARRIET LINARE

Matron of honor was Mrs. Karen L. Sweeney, and best man was John F. Glair, both of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left afterward for Taylor, Mich., where the bridegroom will be a member of a professional canoe team until fall. At that time they will return to San Francisco, where he plans to do graduate work in journalism. He is a graduate of San Francisco State College.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and has been employed in a food brokerage office in San Francisco and attending night classes at San Francisco City College.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rose Lowe of San Francisco.

Jonathan Keppel Claims Bride

Marriage vows were exchanged by Denise Cancellier of Eureka and Jonathan B. Keppel of Tiburon at an 11 o'clock ceremony Saturday morning at Christ Episcopal Church in Eureka.

Jon is the son of Mrs. Bruce H. Keppel of Tiburon and the late Mr. Keppel. He is the grandson of Mrs. A. F. Laudermilk of Santa Rosa and of Mrs. C. J. Keppel of San Anselmo. The bridegroom is the brother of Victor Keppel of New Zealand, Mrs. Gregory Yuhaus of Saratoga, N.Y. and Charles and Nori Keppel of Tiburon.

Educated in Eureka schools, Denise is attending Humboldt State College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Redwood High School and Humboldt State College and is the manager of the El Borro Restaurant in Tiburon.

Jane Wofford of Eureka was maid of honor and Arlene Francis of San Jose, the bridesmaid.

Charles Keppel of Tiburon was his brother's best man, with Joseph Murphy and Ted Ballard of Tiburon, and James Cancellier, of Eureka, the bride's brother, the ushers.

The reception was held at the Eureka Inn. After a wedding trip on the Oregon Coast, the couple will make their first home in Mill Valley.

Brides Spend

An average bride will generate an estimated $3900 in retail sales in a year according to a forecast by Brides Showcase.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Sole Surviving Sons Exempt Under Specific Conditions

DEAR HELEN:

My sister has one child, a son, who is about to become draft age. Her husband was in World War II but was not injured.

She tells me that she doesn't worry about her son going into the Service, as he won't be sent to Vietnam, this because only sons aren't allowed to risk their lives in combat zones. Will he stay stateside? — AUNT

DEAR AUNT:

Don't count on it. Being an only son is not enough to keep your nephew out of a combat zone. A sole surviving son will be given non-combat duty (on request) only if at any time since September 16, 1940, another member of the family (father, son, daughter) has been killed, is missing, or was totally disabled while in service. — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

Before we were married, my husband told me all about his many infidelities to his first wife. They didn't get along, so I guessed he stepped out to get even. I wish he'd kept quiet!

Every time we have a fight, I remember those stories, and if he stomps out of the house, I'm just wild, imagining all the women he may be with. He swears his chasing days are over and that he loves me — even when we fight, which we don't very much so far, but it might get worse later on.

He's very attractive to women, which makes it worse. What do you think about this? — TRINA

DEAR TRINA:

I think your husband has a big mouth! You'd better counteract it with a short memory — and a mtural agreement not to stomp out on a fight. — HELEN.

DEAR READERS:

The following two letters came to me in the same envelope — seems there's a small difference of opinion in this household:

DEAR HELEN: I have serious doubts as to whether you really are a woman. You certainly have a man's point of view.

You said "Oh ye of little faith!!" (to the "Shocked Wives" who assume the worst when a husband is out until 2 a.m. at an office party.) I say if he has lipstick on his shirt, there has been hanky panky. A "wonderful, loving, faithful husband of 13 years" such as that wife described would get home at a decent time. I have seen many of these so-called faithful men at office parties, which are just excuses to lose their morals. With no reproaches at home, the man will find other excuses.

Bully for the wife, and fie upon you, Helen Bottel. She should have made him sleep in a hotel the rest of the night, and maybe for the next week! That would teach him not to let sneaky little secretaries join his "stag" party. — HAPPILY MARRIED.

(And the second letter, stapled to the first —)

DEAR HELEN: Regarding your reply to "Shocked Wives:" It is certainly refreshing to hear a female opinion that is not narrowminded and biased, but reasonable and considerate.

You are no doubt making some man a very good wife! — MISTRUSTED, MISUNDERSTOOD HUSBAND.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. WHOEVER YOU ARE:

Well, at least you agreed to disagree. Otherwise you would have used separate envelopes. Happy arguing! — HELEN.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

JUDITH COX

Engagement Is Announced

The engagement of Judith Ann Cox to William Travis Kelley Jr., both of San Francisco, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Louise Cox of Novato.

Judith was graduated from high school in South Plainfield, N. J. and attended Douglass College prior to her graduation from Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N. J. She is secretary to the managing director of McKinsey & Company in San Francisco. Randy Cox of Novato is Judith's brother.

The future bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William Travis Kelley of San Rafael and the brother of Pat, Sue, Debbie and Steve Kelley. He is a graduate of San Jose State College where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity. He is employed with Varian Associates in Palo Alto.

Today's Teens Want Work During Summer Vacations

So your youngster wants a summer job!

That makes him ambitious. But not unique.

In a survey some 1800 high school juniors and seniors throughout the country were asked about their summer plans.

The replies: About three-fourths of them said they intended to work during their long school vacations. Most of these youngsters weren't needy. In general, they came from middle income homes. (About a third of them reported family incomes of $10,000-a-year or more.)

The survey points up two things:

•Despite their critics, today's youngsters are more serious than you might expect — they're "work-oriented," in the jargon of the experts.

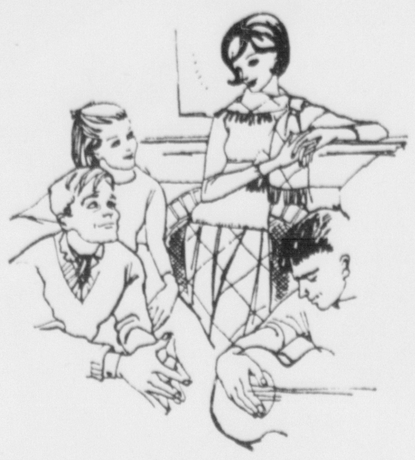
•There will be (as there has been over the past few years) plenty of competition for summer jobs.

So if your youngster wants a summer job he should line it up early, long before school lets out for the year. In other words. . . now.

Acutally, the value of a summer job experience may be far greater than the sum of a summer's paychecks for a youngster.

In fact, for many youngsters the paycheck may be very small — even non-existent.

This will be particularly true for teen-agers who opt for volunteer service programs. These opportunities — available through religious, service and civic organizations — can be educational, stimulating and satisfying.



In some areas — particularly in suburbs far from populous employment centers — volunteer jobs may be the only ones available. They can be very rewarding in intangible ways, including a measure of new self-cinfidence for the volunteers.

Whether a youngster works for pay or simply for the experience, summer jobs can be great opportunities. They teach responsibility toward one's self and toward others. This is true for a youngster working in a factory assembly line as well as for one doing fulltime work as a mother's helper.

Lots of young people use their summers to open up vistas for themselves. Some suburban youngsters in recent years have found rewarding jobs in volunteer programs in the slums of nearby cities. At the same time, some city teenagers have done the opposite: they've gone to work as farm hands.

Many youngsters will go to work in traditional seasonal occupations — car-hoping at drive-ins; serving as life guards; working as summer replacements in local offices and industries, and working with younger children at camps and playgrounds.

A lot depends on the teenager himself — his physical capability, his attitudes and his ambitions for the future. So ,although paying vacation jobs may be scarce, there's no reason why a teenager should spend a boring, idle summer.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"This serves you right!. . . You told me to trim off the bones and fat and now there's nothing left for you!"

Mrs. Romines To Head Novato Hostess Club

A professional singer, Pat Romines has been a soloist with the Stockton Symphony and is a past member of the San Francisco Opera Chorus and Giannini's Concert Chorale. She studied voice at the University of the Pacific, Los Angeles City College and was graduated from San Francisco State College. At present, she is a substitute teacher with the Novato Unified School District.

The new president and her husband, a buyer for the Emporium, have two children, Clifford, 9, and Pamela, 2 years old. They have lived in Novato four years.

The club is a social and service organization with its primary interest getting parks for Novato. Any woman interested in working for the betterment of the community is eligible to join the club.

Serving with Mrs. Romines are Mmes. Larry Hammond, vice president; Fred Burns, recording secretary; Ed Gardner, corresponding secretary; and Bob Schall, treasurer.

Change Tune Says Organist

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Paul Friess, a church organist in St. Louis for 46 years, wishes he could persuade brides to choose something besides "Here Comes the Bride" for a wedding march.

Friess, 73, has been the organist at five Protestant churches and one Jewish synagogue in his career and wishes that he had been keeping a tally of the weddings for which he has played. At one church, which keeps its own records, he has played for about 2,000 weddings. His record for one day is 8 weddings, and he says that 5 in one day are not uncommon.

"Now and then I can get a bride to switch the wedding march," he said. "But by and large they still want "Here Comes the Bride."

His And Hers Hairdos Shown In New York

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Hairdressers from around the country joined in presenting a "unisex" hair style show — matching his and her hairdos and costumes. Women worried about being eclipsed by their peacock-like mates can take some consolation from the fact that most of the hairdressers admitted they designed the girl's choiffure first, then tried to adapt it for the male model.

There were three basic silhouettes for women this spring:

The "Coco Chanel," reminicient of the 1930's, featuring soft, full curls around the face, medium length hair and a smooth crown. Variations included center parts, a wave over one eye or all-over curls.

The chignon, shown for both day and evening, with the bun low on the back of the head. For evening, it was dressed up with tendril curls around the face or narrow, false braids attached to the bun.

The long, loose look with hair cascading to the shoulders and below. This style frequently was made more bouffant with the addition of a fall.

Among the matching styles:

The "page boy" with hair cut to just below the ears and turned under loosely. The male and female model each displayed this look wearing bangs almost to the eyes.

The "curly head" with curls scattered all over the scalp. The girl's style featured soft, ringlet-like curls. The boy's had tighter curls, styled with a curling iron.

The "French Bowl" look with the hair brought forward over the forehead almost to the eyes. The female model looked like Sir Galahad; the male like a shaggy dog.

The matched hairstyles did provide some problems.

Bright Spring Fashions Are Set For Sunny Hills Juniors' Show

A spring garden decor with a gazebo, daffodils and butterflies will be used by the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary for its annual luncheon and fashion, to be held Wednesday at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

Models from the Juniors will be Mmes. James Collins, Robert Conway, Donald Cottle, John Dakin, David Dooley, Paul Erickson, Donald Kelleher, James McKenney, David Peugh, Boyd Quinn, Thomas Reed, John Robinson, Robert Setrakian, Verle Sorgen and Rudy Tulipani. Children of members who will model are Bruce Ciampi, Molly Allen and Michelle Wilks.

The event will begin with a social hour at 11:30 a.m., and luncheon is set for 12:30 p.m., with the show to follow.

Mrs. Kenneth Fuller, chairman, said that proceeds from the yearly spring event will go to the Sunny Hills Home.

Other committee chairmen are Mmes. John Allen, reservations; Henry Cole, waitresses; James Collins, models; Richard Dakin, publicity; David Dooley, decorations; David Peugh, invitations; and Raymond Perkins, awards.

TONIGHT FROM 7:30 to 8:30 Mills College alumnae in Marin will be among those telephoned in a national telethon to raise funds for scholarships for the Oakland college.

Telethon committee participants here are Mmes. Charles Winston, Marin branch president, R. E. Emhaus, Donald F. Found Letters Reveal Fillmore Friendships

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — The discovery of 10,000 to 12,000 letters to President Millard Fillmore, many of them from two women, has been disclosed by Prof. Charles M. Snyder of Oswego State University.

The women were Dorothea Dix, a crusader for reform of insane asylums and prisons, and Ann Ella Carroll, a ghost writer for Fillmore during his unsuccessful 1856 campaign to regain the presidency. He was president from 1850 to 1953.

Snyder said he found the papers late in 1967 in New Haven, N.Y., in an unoccupied mansion which had been bequeathed to the university.

Among the letters were more than 70 from Miss Dix expressing a 'deep personal interest in Fillmore during his years as a widower," Snyder said.

The first Mrs. Fillmore, Abigail Powers, died in 1853 after years of poor health. Their daughter died the next year. Five years later the little-remembered 13th president married Mrs. Caroline C. McIntosh, widow of an Albany merchant.

Fillmore "made an attractive figure . . . a real catch for anyone" the historian said, but calling the Dix correspondence love letters is "really jumping way ahead."

Snyder said the letters show here "deep personal interest and concern for his health. They were certainly very cordial, but beyond that the letters don't show an intimacy."

A second set of letters Snyder described as "intriguing" were from glamorous Miss Carroll, an editor and daughter of a Maryland governor.

She "was not a bit reluctant to try to influence Fillmore," Snyder said and she often arranged personal visits at campaign stops. But Fillmore avoided her and was discreet in answering her letters.

"She was very much annoyed at his failure to keep arrangements she was making to see him," Snyder said.

Miss Dix and Fillmore were "of a comparaable age—both past 50," Snyder said But during the time the bulk of the letters were written he was in Europe and she "just paused to write" while crusading across the country.

The cache of letters was found in a 40-room mansion that was willed to the college by the heirs of Charles S. Shephard, a Buffalo businessman who died in 1934. The discovery was first revealed in a copyright story in the Syracuse Herald-American.

Fillmore's son, who first inherited the papers, died in 1889 leaving a will which ordered his executors to "destroy all correspondence or letters to or from my father, mother, sister or me."

Young Fillmore's executor, Charles Marshall—member of a prominent Buffalo family and related by marriage to the Shephards—ignored the will and had the papers transferred to the attic of his Buffalo home.

Dress Shop Reports Theft Of $1,000 Ring

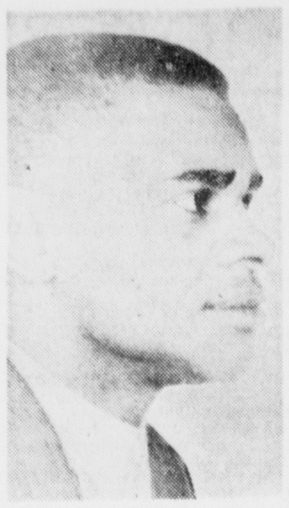
They said Constance LaSalle, operator of Modiste and Antiques at Blackfield Drive and Tiburon Boulevard, told them one man apparently took the ring from a ringholder in the shop's fitting room while his partner diverted her attention.



MOST WANTED — Armed robber George Edward Blue, 40, of Indianapolis, has made the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." Blue, a laborer, weight lifter and health food faddist, is about six feet tall, weighs 180 pounds, has black hair and brown eyes.

Women Fliers Sought For WASP Reunion

Marin veterans of the Women's Airforce Service Pilots of World War II are being sought for a 25th anniversary celebration April 11-13 at the Jacqueline Cochran Ranch in Indio, Riverside County.

Marin women who served in the WASP may obtain information about the event by writing Mrs. Coleman Sellers at 229 Mount Shasta Drive, San Rafael, or the Order of Fifinella, Box 2912, Fort Wayne, Ind. 46809.

Doctor Reports Progress In Fight Against Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Maryland physician has outlined a new treatment which may eventually lead to the cure of Hodgkin's disease, the most common type of cancer affecting persons in the 25-to-35 age group.

Dr. Vincent T. DeVita Jr., of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., described the treatment yesterday at the opening session of the American Association for Cancer Research.

He said Hodgkin's disease, a cancer of the glands, strikes about 15,000 new victims in the United States each year.

DeVita said a new drug combination has greatly lengthened the period of temporary disappearance of the disease achieved in earlier single drug treatments.

"Freeing our patients of the disease for a long period is the best we can offer right now," the physician said. "We think we can cure cancer with some form of drugs, but we're in a new field and it will take some time to find out."

DeVita and two other Bethesda doctors, Arthur Serpick and Paul Carbone, found that their four-drug combination produced an average disease-free period of more than 20 months. Single-drug treatments gave patients reprises averaging only two months.

The Maryland physicians treated 43 persons with advanced Hodgkin's disease, and 35 of them achieved complete remissions for periods ranging from 2 to 42 months. DeVita said it would take several more years to determine the actual median disease-free time.

He said one of the most important features of the combination-drug treatment is that patients do not develop resistance to it, as they do in the single-drug treatment.

Hodgkin's disease so far has been pronounced curable only in its very early stages, when it can be treated with radiotherapy.

"We're optimistic that we'll be able to develop a cure for it and the other forms of cancer one of these days," DeVita said.

Terra Linda Co-Ed Wins Speech Contest

Catherine Madden, a Terra Linda High School senior, has won the Zone 1 student speakers' contest of the Marin County Lions Club, making her eligible to go on to district competition against winners of the other two Lions Club zones of Marin.

Miss Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Madden, 1748 Las Gallinas, San Rafael, won the contest held Tuesday at the San Geronimo Country Club.

Mary Ellen Wilkins: A Gal In A Man's World

LEADFOOT LADY—Go ahead, take a good gander at that picture above. Would you believe that some kids call her Granny and that she rides to work on a bike?

True. Another unusual thing about pretty Mary Ellen Wilkins of Oakland is that she's a pip of a sports car racing competitor, a talent she will display next weekend during the Sports Car Club of America's national points races at Sears Point International Raceway.

Mary Ellen is the reigning San Francisco regional champion in Class A Sedan competition with her trusty Mustang.

And, yes, Mary Ellen is a stepgranny. She has five children and two grandchildren, her husband John's by a previous marriage.

'Always Was A Tomboy'

How did this 27-year-old lass get into the predominantly male sport of motor racing? "Well, I always was a tomboy," she smiled prettily during a recent gabfest with Sears Point officials. "I wasn't the type for sewing and stuff like that. I could take a bike apart and put it together again. Things like that. I enjoy the challenge of competing against men."

Does her attractive femininity win favors from her masculine contemporaries? "No, I don't get any special breaks. When I first started there were some snide remarks from the men about women drivers, but they disappeared when I proved I wasn't an emotional, silly thing just out for a lark. Now we're all friends."

One Of Three Women Drivers

Actually, Mary Ellen is one of three cupcakes competing in the SCCA's sedan Class A sports car division in Northern California along with Judy Kondratieff of Orinda in a Mini Cooper and Alena Erwin of Placerville in a Porsche.

What does hubby think of Mary Ellen's racing? "There aren't many husbands as wonderful as mine in regards to my racing," she nodded toward John Wilkings, an Oakland businessman who is an elder in the Morman church.

The shapely redhead is so keenly competitive that she is thinking about turning to professional racing. "I'd be making the jump to the pros because of the keener competition," she said. "The only difference on the surface is that you're racing for money."

'Never Without Perfume'

A tomboy she ain't. "I'm never without my perfume," she admitted when asked if it were difficult to stay feminine in the exciting sport.

Mary Ellen had one minor problem when she started racing. She didn't fit too well in men's racing outfits what with . . . er . . . um . . . curves and all that. "I make my own now," she explained.

If you're at Sears Point this weekend when Mary Ellen embarks on her quest for national championship points, you may have trouble identifying her behind those goggles, helmet and togs, speeding around the hilly curves.

1,000 Rooters Greet Bruins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The cheers of nearly 1,000 UCLA supporters greeted the Bruin basketball team yesterday as it arrived from Louisville with its third straight national collegiate title.

Lew Alcindor, who spearheaded all three Bruins teams to NCAA victories, wasn't on the plane. He took a flight home to New York after Saturday's final game—a 92-72 rout of Purdue for the title.

Coach John Wooden, after winning his fifth national title in six years, said he felt next year's team would play a different brand of ball but would be very strong, even without the 7-foot-1½ Alcindor.

But, said Wooden, the Pacific-8 conference would probably be the strongest conference in the country.

Mathis Favored To Whip Quarry

NEW YORK (UPI)—Buster Mathis is an 11-5 favorite to beat Jerry Quarry in a 12-round bout tonight in Madison Square Garden and move closer to another heavyweight title shot.

The only defeat Mathis has suffered in 30 pro bouts was last March when he was stopped by Joe Frazier in a bout for the vacant five-state heavyweight title. Quarry has a 30-2-4 record, including a loss to Jimmy Ellis last year in a bout billed for the World Boxing Association heavyweight crown.

Golf's Pattern: New Winner Each Week

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Golf's gold-prospecting gypsies moved today toward the $200,000 National Airlines Open at Miami—but most of them had their minds on another kind of green.

They are thinking about the traditional green coat of the Masters champion.

"I finished fifth last year at Augusta and I hope I can do better this time," said 210-pound Ray Floyd, after beating Gardner Dickinson in a sudden death playoff for $20,000 first prize yesterday in the $100,000 Jacksonville Open.

The tournament followed the champion every week. There now have been 12 tour tournaments and 12 different winners.

The word is that golf never again will be dominated by a single man, such as Ben Hogan and Sam Snead in their days, Byron Nelson and later Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Bill Casper.

There are too many good players and they're all greedy and tough.

The Masters, April 10-13, traditionally has been an exception. Since 1958, Palmer has won it four times and Nicklaus three. Bob Goalby is defending champion.

Now Palmer has a bad hip. Nicklaus says he just hasn't got in the groove. Casper admits he's trying to sneak up on the tournament he has never won.

All played creditably in the tournament here this weekend, but at the tournament's end it was a duel between Ray Floyd, the 26-year-old, curly-haired bachelor, and the 130-pound 41-year-old Dickinson. Playing in gusty winds over the 7,221-yard, par 72 Deerwood course, they finished in a tie at 278, 10 under par, and then Floyd clinched it by knocking in a birdie on the first extra hole, a dog-leg par 5. He put his third shot two feet from the pin.

Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, tied with South Africa's Gary Player, who had a final 71, and young Dewitt Weaver, who closed with a 72.

Palmer, saying his hip didn't bother him much, finished at 281 where he tied 20-year-old Bobby Cole of South Africa, who finished with a record-tying 65 that included two eagles. Casper, closing with a 69, was at 282 with Bob Charles, Bob Murphy and Jim Colbert.

"I'll play at Miami and then take off until the Masters," Palmer said. Nicklaus plans to get lost in the Bahamas after Miami. Casper will play at Miami and Greensboro prior to the Masters.

Thurmond, Mullins Limping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, fresh from a 117-90 drubbing at the hands of the New York Knicks, head for Los Angeles and the NBA Western Division playoffs this week.

The Knicks were in control all the way as they continued their mastery over San Francisco, whom they have beaten in five of six games this year.

Both players are expected to be ready when the Warriors open a best-of-seven series against the Lakers, Western Dvision winners, Wednesday.

The second game of the series will be Friday in Los Angeles. The teams then move to San Francisco for games March 31 and April 2.

New York's Dick Barnett was the high scorer Saturday with 35 points. Reserve guard Jim King was high for the Warriors, with 19.

Seal Rookie Ferguson Sets Record

By DAVID DIETZ

That's what Norm Ferguson of the Oakland Seals did last night as his 20-foot shot beat the Los Angeles Kings, 5-4, and set a new rookie scoring record in the National Hockey League.

The victory clinched second place in the Western Division for the Seals, while the Kings tumbled into fourth. Oakland, with back-to-back wins over Los Angeles during the weekend, brought a swift end to a battle for the second spot between the teams. Ferguson's goal, his second of the night, gave him 33 for the season, one more the Danny Grant of the Minnesota Stars, another rookie. Earlier, both players had smashed the old rookie record of 30 goals set in 1954-55 by Bernie Geoffrion.

In a race fanned by sportswriters, Grant and Ferguson are vying for the Calder Cup and $1,500 cash as the NHL's best rookie. Grant, who broke Geoffrion's record first and retains a total point advantage over Ferguson, had been getting most of the attention, but the spotlight is now on the Seals' scrappy wing with his 33 goals.

CHEERS

The tally that beat the Kings came with less than three minutes to play and brought most of the 4,219 fans to their feet for an ovation. Goalie Wayne Rutledge was helpless as Feruson and teammate Joe Szure broke around a Los Angeles defenseman.

"I just rared back and let it go," Ferguson said later. "You try for the best spots and hope they hit."

Los Angeles tied the score, 4-4, with about five minutes to lay on a tip-in by Real Lemiuex as the Seals squandered a 4-1 lead. After Howie Menard put Los Angeles ahead, 1-0, in the first period, the Seals retaliated with four goals in the second period by Earl Ingarfield, Bert Marshall, Ferguson and Gerry Ehman.

UNASSISTED

Lemieux's first goal of the night and an unassisted tally by Jimmy Peters, who stole a poor pass, then narrowed Oakland's lead to 4-3 before Lemieux's tying goal.

Oakland coach Fred Glover balmed the Kings' comeback on a breakdown in Seals' checking. He said his players probably got cocky after their fourth straight goal sent starting goalie Gerry Desjardins, another candidate for the Calder Cup, to the bench.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL

Deron Johnson Hoping To Return To '65 Form

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Deron Johnson is looking forward eagerly to the 1969 baseball season because he once again seems to be the slugger of 1965.

The 30-year old native of San Diego, led the National League in slugging and runs batted in with Cincinnati that season and many experts thought he would become the league's brightest star. Now, three disappointing seasons later, Johnson is trying a comeback with the Philadelphia Phillies.

At this stage of spring training it appears certain that Johnson's heavy slugging has won him a berth on the Phillies' infield at either first or third base. Manager Bob Skinner says he is undecided over which position Johnson should play but that he wants his bat in the lineup.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 210-pounder, who had a broken bone removed from his right hand after the Phillies acquired him last winter from the Atlanta Braves, drove in four runs with two homers and a double yesterday to lead the Phillies to a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. He has hit four homers and driven in 10 runs in the Phillies' last five games.

SORE SHOULDER

Jim Lonborg, 22-game-winning hero of Boston's 1967 American League pennant triumph, left yesterday's 7-3 loss to the New York Mets with a sore right shoulder and the seriousness of the ailment is unknown. Ken Boswell and Bobby Heise drove in two runs each for the Mets, who raised their spring record to 8-6.

On other fronts: Bob Robertson's three-run homer led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-4 triumph over the Minnesota Twins despite a homer by Ted Uhlaender and two hits by rookie Chuck Manuel . . . Dave May's two-run single, followed by Paul Blair's run-scoring single, enabled the Baltimore Orioles to score three runs in the seventh inning and beat the Braves 4-3. Dave McNally, Gene Brabender and Eddie Watt held the Braves to five hits.

HOWARD HOMERS

Gary Holman's homer, a two-run double by Del Unser and a two-run single by Frank Howard sparked a six-run, eighth-inning rally which lifted the Washington Senators to a 10-6 win over the Houston Astros. It was the Senators' third win in 16 games under Manager Ted Williams . . . Homers by Alex Johnson, Lee May and Johnny Bench led the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-3 decision over the New York Yankees.

Don Pavletich's two-run single climaxed a four-run eighth inning as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City Royals 4-2 . . . Two errors by shortstop John Kennedy and a wild pitch by Bob Richmond enabled the Chicago Cubs to beat the Seattle Pilots 7-6 after a 5-4 11-inning loss in a rare exhibition doubleheader.

WINNER

Dave Campbell, trapped in a rundown, scored the winning run on an interference call against catcher Jim Hutto as the Detroit Tigers edged the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6. Lou Brock hit a two-run homer for the Cardinals and Al Kaline hit a two-run homer off Bob Gibson for the Tigers.

Tars Win Baseball Game, 7-4

College of Marin's baseball team exploded for five runs in the eighth inning to take a 7-4 Camino Norte Conference win over Solano at Vallejo's Wilson Park Saturday.

The Tars are now 3-1 in conference play.

College of Marin got six of its seven hits in the eighth inning, with the big one coming on a two-run pinch single by Dave Obrantz.

Mike Terry was rocked for a four-run Solano inning in the fourth as the losers mixed two hits with two Tar errors to hold a 4-2 lead until the fatal eighth inning.

Golf Teams Tie In Tournament

The Marin Country Club's mixed best ball foursome tournament resulted in a two-way tie for first yesterday at the Marin Country Club golf course.

The foursome of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Altermatt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McConnell and Mrs. W. R. Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Antoine had scores of 59 to finish in a tie for first.

Four teams were tied for third with 61s.

4th Swimmer Qualifies For Nationals

Fourteen-year-old Denise Ham of the Marin Swim Club became the fourth Marin County teen swimmer to qualify for the National Senior Indoor Swimming Championships at Long Beach April 10-13 with a record-breaking performance at the Senior Development Meet in Palo Alto Saturday.

Denise swam the 200-yard butterfly in 2:17.6, breaking the national qualifying mark of 2:21.4. She joins Marin County national qualifiers Robin Bachrach, Vicki Bitgood and Leslie Bryans.

In the Stingray Swim Club's B meet at Rohnert Park Saturday and yesterday, Mitch Amundsmen in boys 9-10 and Lauren Beigel in girls eight and under made A times for the Marin Swim Club while Linda Placak in girls 9:10 and Debbie Ford in girls eight and under made A times for the San Rafael Swim Club.

San Domenico Girls Dominate Tennis

San Domenico School for Girls of Sleepy Hollow diminated the Holy Cross High School Invitational girls tennis meet at Mountain View Staurday and yesterday, taking both the singles and doubles titles.

Prep Baseballers Have A Fine Day

Marin County Athletic League baseball teams got in tune for the 1969 league race, which starts Friday, by taking seven out of eight games against non-league foes Saturday, sweeping three doubleheaders in the process.

MCAL favorite Novato whacked Santa Rosa twice, 5-0 and 7-2 in Santa Rosa. New league entry San Marin (5-2) mauled inept Healdsburg, 14-0 and 13-6 at Healdsburg and Redwood nicked Vanden tf Fairfield twice, 2-0 and 2-1, at Redwood. In single games, Tamalpais stopped Hogan of Vallejo, 4-2, at Tamalpais, and Soquel of Santa Cruz clipped Marin Catholic (3-5), 4-0, in Santa Cruz.

Russ Dillon gave up two hits and struck out 18 in the opener for Novato (5-0) while Glen Holsclaw, John Morrow and Steve McNally shared hurling duties in the nightcap.

Healdsburg committed 15 errors in the two games against San Marin while the Mustangs totaled up 23 hits and 27 runs. Jack Burnam went five for seven for the two games, getting on base with every at bat (three walks and two fielder's choice). Steve Francis struck out ten in winning the opener on a three-hitter.

Two-run homers by Mike LLocati and Ken Bolstad propelled Tamalpais (3-4) to its win over Hogan

Perry Hurls Exhibition Victory

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Gaylord Perry held the California Angeles to six hits yesterday as the San Francisco Giants smothered the Angeles 10-1

The Giants got their first five runs off loser southpaw George Brunet, scoring three in the second inning on two walks, a hit and an error, and two more in the third when another southpaw, Clyde Wright, came in to stop the rally.

The Angels got their lone run when Rich Reichardt doubled to lead off the sixth, and with two out, was singled home by catcher Tom Satriano.

56 Girls Compete In Gymnastics Meet

Fifty-six girl gymnasts representing 13 schools competed for top honors at the first Northern California Championship Elite girls gymnastics meet at San Rafael High School Saturday.

Leading the way for Marin competitors was Jenny Hammond of Tamalpais High School who was third in all-around beginners class with a fourth in the balanced beam, a fifth in the vaulting and a fifth in the uneven parallel bars.

Jenny Shipp of Tamalpais was fourth overall, taking a fourth in the uneven parallel bars. Kathy Quinlan of Tamalpais was first in the uneven parallel bars and Kathy Miers of Terra Linda was fifth in the same event.

College Park of Pleasant Hill captured the team title while individual honors went to Barbara Mason of College Park (outstanding senior) and Patty Young of Galileo of San Francisco (outstanding performer).

Athletics Top Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Oakland righthander Jim Nash hopes he'll be able to get the same kind of early hitting support he got yesterday during the regular season.

Nash was staked to a quick 5-1 lead on homers by Sal Bando, Danny Cater and Dick Green as the Athletics upped their Cactus League record to 6-7 with a 7-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Green later singled in two more runs to give him four for the game.

ICKX WINS SEBRING

Fragile Cars Battered

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Elimination of minimum weights for prototype sports cars in international racing this year has produced bodies super light and downright fragile.

They were so fragile that the rough Sebring course and a seemingly increased supply of those traffic cones that police everywhere use to mark lanes during rush hours combinned to literally pound the exotic machines into submission.

In part, that is the story of the victory by Jackie Ickx of Belgium and Jack Oliver of England in the 12-hour Sebring Endurance Race Saturday.

The rest of the story is the charmed life of the Ford GT40 cars, which have been racing five years and are still gracing victory lanes more often than any other machine.

When the Ford drivers first pitted their sturdy machines against the brand new, featherweight Ferraris and Porsches as qualifying began Thursday, they found their best was five seconds a lap slower than Ferrai.

"Competition becomes quite difficult when you are that much slower," Ickx said, "even though the Ford is still quite a good car."

"I drove behind the Porches through the 'esses' several times," said veteran Bob Grossman of West Nyack, N.Y. "They bounded from side to side every time and I woundered if their suspension was going to survive that pounding."

It didn't. Two Porsches went out of action and the others had long pit stops for repairs.

Oakland Bout Slated Friday

OAKLAND (AP) — California light heavyweight champ Terry Lee of Concord, recently recovered from the flu, will take on heavyweight Marty Franklin Friday in a 10-rounder at the Oakland Auditorium.

Franklin is billed as the heavyweight champion of Ohio but has been fighting in the Bay Area.

Lee, whose sickness forced postponement of their earlier scheduled bout, is expected to weigh 180, about 15 pounds less than Franklin.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Lew Alcindor may rule again but not as a dictator.

The giant 7-foot-1½ inch center from UCLA completed his reign as king of college basketball Saturday by leading UCLA to an unprecedented third consecutive NCAA crown and climaxed the greatest three-year era in collegiate basketball history.

Alcindor's reign produced 88 victories in 90 games for the Bruins, and he was complete dictator. He forced opposing teams into different tactics than they would normally employ and almost always controlled the game.

IT'S OVER

But, that's all over now. Alcindor's next big challenge will come from professional basketball, and it will be interesting to see how he meets it.

"I saw Bill Russell dominate college basketball for three straight years, so I had no doubt it could be done," said coach John Wooden Saturday after his team had defeated Purdue 92-72 for its fifth NCAA crown in six years.

"I think Lewis will be like the player he was in college in the pros, although it's very difficult to dominate the pro game. "I don't think he's reached his physical peak yet," said the Bruins' coach.

"There is no question that Alcindor will be a fine pro," said King, after big Lew had personally destroyed the Boilermakers with 37 points and 20 rebounds in his collegiate finale. "I've never seen a big guy with that much agility and mobility."

Alcindor naturally wants to play pro basketball, but he is undecided as to which league he prefers. The New York Nets of the American Basketball Association and the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association both own draft rights to Alcindor and he reportedly will sign for at least $1 million.

"I don't have a lawyer yet, so it will be a while before I decide," said Alcindor. "Right now I'm thinking about getting out of school. The situation is really up in the air, and I'm not leaning any way. I can play in New York (his home town) for the ABA, but the NBA has better players. There are a whole lot of things involved."

CONTACT SPORT

The contact of pro basketball is one thing that makes some people skeptical of Alcindor's chances to succeed. He often complained of the rough treatment he received under the boards in college, and he is sure to be pushed under continually by the pros.

"That's part of the game in the pros. I'll just have to adjust," he says.

And, what about his attitude? It sometimes appeared he didn't care for basketball that much—that it was his obligation rather than his love.

"Sometimes it turns into a job," Lew admitted. "But I don't think I could do anything with as much feeling. The main rub I had in my three years at UCLA was that sometimes, the news media tried to put me in a bad light. Not the New York papers, they've been good to me.

"But in Los Angeles it's happened. A recent article tried to put me in the worst light possible. I'm willing to take all the knocks for what I am—but not for what I'm not. This to me has been the worst thing about my three years."

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

MAR. 24, 1933

SLAPSIE MAXIE ROSENBLOOM, DEFENDING HIS TITLE FOR THE THIRD TIME IN 30 DAYS, KAYOED FLORIDA'S BOB GOODWIN IN FOUR ROUNDS AT NEW YORK AND ESTABLISHED HIMSELF AS THE UNDISPUTED LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING CHAMPION.

Temple Wins NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Neal Walk, Simmie Hill, Bobby Smith, Butch Beard. Those were the college basketball stars who were to light up the 1969 National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

But by last Saturday's final, all the glitter belonged to a hockey buff who only took up basketball after he outgrew his skates, and a former business school student who never played basketball in high school.

TO FINALS

Terry Driscoll of Boston College and John Baum of Temple were the pair who took their teams to the final. Baum and the Owls completed their surprising surge to the top by beating the Eagles 89-76 for their first NIT title since 1938, the year of the first NIT.

Driscoll, a 6-foot-7 senior pivot man who watched plenty of hockey games in Boston but never a college basketball game until he was a senior in high school, came into the tournament with little national recognition.

All he had was a 24-point average for the 16th-ranked team in the country which assumed the favorite role from the start, and the praise of retiring coach Bob Cousy.

"He's certain to be a first-round pick in the pro draft," Cousy has maintained. "He starts the fast break better than any forward in the National Basketball Association today.

PRE-MED STUDENT

Driscoll, a good-looking pre-med student who was a defenseman in hockey until his feet grew to a size 14 in high school, led the NIT in scoring with 96 points, 18 in the final, and in rebounding with 59.

Driscoll's performance was enough to win him the Most Valuable Player award by one vote over Baum, who must have been the most overlooked team ace when the tourney began. After all, he played for Temple, the forgotten team from Philadelphia, where the Owls only ranked third best.

LEAPER

Baum, a 6-5 senior who leaps like a pogo stick, came into the tourney with a 19-point average and went out with 84 points and 54 rebounds in four games.

He scored 30 points in the final, including 20 in the last half when the Owls made up a 67-62 deficit and then pulled away from a 75-73 lead with nine straight points.

Coach Eddie Crowder of Colorado called Mike Schnitker "the best defensive end in the country" for 1968. He was drafted by the Denver Broncos.

FOOTBALL REALIGNMENT

Big Issue Can Wait

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — American Football League owners weren't about to stage a sit-in or even a swim-in at this desert resort at the foot of the San Jacinto Mountains last week. But they went home a much more unified and militant band of millionaires than ever before.

Their new militancy is reflected in the new realignment committee they named at the end of their week-long winter meetings with the National Football League.

Oakland's Al Davis, who as league commissioner spearheaded the signing war that culminated in the 1966 merger, is the chairman of the four-man group that replaces the trio of owners who, with their NFL counterparts on the joint study committee, had unanimously recommended retention of the present setup for 1970.

OTHERS

The other three members of the new committee are Paul Brown of Cincinnati, Lamar Hunt of Kansas City and Gene Klein of San Diego. Hunt was retained from the original group, but Buffalo's Ralph Wilson and Boston's Billy Sullivan were not.

Brown's is the most interesting name among the quartet. In the league for only one year, the former NFL owner-coach has emerged as one of the AFL's strongmen.

He did it by going to the meetings determined to gain realignment for 1970 and convincing some of his more moderate colleagues that they should not buy what the NFL was selling—the two leagues as they are now plus some inter-league games.

He, and those who thought as he did, particularly Gerald Phipps of Denver, wound up turning the meetings around and sending all 26 owners home with the knowledge that there has to be some form of realignment.

ETERNITY

Actually, the AFL owners, according to one of them, were prepared to "stay for eternity" to reach an agreement rather than recessing until sometime next month.

"We were ready to stay for as long as necessary," said the owner, who declined use of his name. "But the commissioner came to us Friday night and advised us that he thought it best to recess."

Before they recessed, though, the AFL owners made it clear to the NFL what their goals are in a realignment. They listed them as follows:

1. Retain identities. 2. Set up a good television package. 3. Home-and-home competition between teams in the same division to determine a true champion. 4. Small numerical groupings. 5. Preseason interleague games. 6. Traditional rivalries.

DIDN'T CARE

The AFL at first did not necessarily care about small groupings, but has shifted its attitude in acquiescence to the NFL.

The plan that would best fit these points is the one that would transfer three NFL teams to the AFL, resulting in two 13-team conferences of two divisions of four teams and one of five.

That's the plan the NFL study committee reportedly has before it now.

USC Dominates Easter Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jim Ryun and the University of Kansas track team clash in an intersectional duel meet Saturday with UCLA at the Bruins track stadium in the highlight meet of the week.

At the same time the powerful University of Southern California track team takes on Occidental College at the Coliseum in their traditional dual meet.

Southern California dominated last Saturday's 31st annual Santa Barbara Easter Relays by capturing 10 of 15 events in the university division, including victories in four relay events.

82 POINTS

The Trojans scored 82 points while runnerup California had 38 and Stanford scored 30. Arizona was fourth with 24 and UCLA which entered only eight men had 19.

In the college division, host University of California at Santa Barbara scored 37 1-2 points to 30 for Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo, NCAA college division champions.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Dennis Savage of Westmont in the college division who captured the open mile in 4:06.5 and anchored the winning two-mile relay team. He was named athlete of the meet.

FIRST LOSS

In the university division, the shot 61-9 3-4 to hand teammate Steve Marcus his first intercollegiate loss since 1967. Marcus was second at 59-10 1-2.

Lennox Miller of USC captured the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds after winning a heat in 9.4 and he anchored both the 440 and 880 relay wins for the Trojans.

Other top performances included the victory by Mike Wagenbach of Los Angeles Valley College in the two-mile in 9:08.2 to highlight junior college competition.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

If it is necessary for you to wait a moment before starting your delivery, relax during this time. You can have your feet in the proper starting position and even have your fingers in the holes of the ball, but still be at ease. If you remain tense while waiting you will probably be too keyed-up to attain the easy rhythm necessary for good scores.

Oaks In Final Trip On Road

DALLAS (AP)—The Oakland Oaks are in Texas on their final road trip of the American Basketball Association season.

The Oaks have long since clinched the Western Division title but can improve on their 54-17 record before entering the playoffs.

They meet fourth-place Dallas of the Western Division tonight and play last-place Houston Wednesday night.

On Saturday night, the Oaks smashed Houston 147-115.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1603 England and Scotland were joined under James XI of Scotland.

In 1882 German professor Robert Koch announced discovery of the pathogenic germs of tuberculosis.

In 1934 the United States granted the Philippines independence, effective July 4, 1946.

A thought for the day: Arthur Schopenhauer said, "The most general survey shows us that the two foes of human happiness are pain and boredom."

Two Substances Could Aid Addicts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two substances which may help narcotics addicts overcome their habit have been discovered by a professor of pharmacology and toxicology at the University of California Medical Center.

Dr. E. Leong Way reported discovery of the substances, which prevent mice from becoming addicted to morphine. He said the discovery may have application to human drug addicts.

Opening lead — ♣ 4

West had opened the four of clubs, and South thought before playing from the dummy. Meanwhile, the Old Kibitzer mentally played the ace of clubs and was mentally playing the next three tricks. Finally, South played the low club from dummy at the first trick. This was the "senseless" play that incensed the old gentleman and drove him home to his television set.

East took the first trick with the queen of clubs and returned a club to dummy's ace. Declarer returned a diamond from dummy, and East took the ace of diamonds and got out safely with a low diamond.

South ruffed the diamond in the dummy, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the king of diamonds and led a spade to try a finesse with the dummy's ten.

NO SAFE RETURN

East won with the queen of spades but could not make a safe return. If East returned a spade, dummy would get a free finesse; and if East returned anything else, dummy would ruff while South discarded a spade. South made his contract, losing only one club, one diamond and one spade.

MISSES POINT

The Old Kibitzer missed the point of the first play, which gave the club trick to East. If declarer took the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs, West would later win a club trick with the jack. West would then lead a spade, rescuing his partner from the end play. East would get two spade tricks, and the contract would go up in smoke.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The hand is just a shade too light for an opening bid. Change the jack of diamonds to the queen, and you would open the hand with one heart.

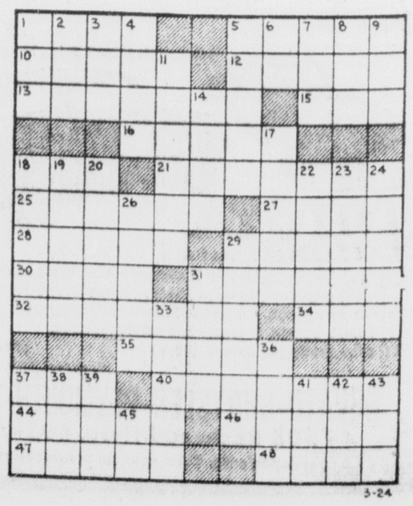
Saturday's Answer



The Mississippi Is Class Project

The department of biological sciences has acquired a floating laboratory known as the "G.C. Researcher." Samples of the river's water are taken and studied.

"The Mississippi River is big and complicated," said Rev. John Ostdick, who is in charge of the project. "It's going to take a lot of study."

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Some Moving Expenses Are Deductible In Job Changing

Wikel

Did you move at your employers' request or because you have a new employer? If so, you may be able to deduct the cost of moving.

Your new job location must be at least 20 miles further from your old home than the old job was.

You must be employed full time for at least 39 weeks during the 12-month period immediately after the move. You do not have to work for one employer for the 39 weeks, nor must the weeks be consecutive. It is necessary only that you be employed full-time and live within the general commuting area of such place of employment.

DEDUCTION CLAIM

If you move and pay the expenses in the last part of the year and it looks as though you will be employed for 39 weeks out of the 12 months following your move, you can go ahead and claim the deduction. However, if you don't work for the full 39 weeks, you must include whatever you deducted last year in your next year's income.

If your employer pays your moving expenses, you can deduct them up to the amount your employer pays, even if you are not working full time. If your moving expenses are more than your employer paid, you may deduct the excess only if you can meet the 20 mile test and are employed full time.

REASONABLE COST

Deductible moving expenses are the reasonable costs of moving yourself, your family and your household goods and personal effects from your old home to your new home. Costs of meals and lodging for you and your family while enroute from your old to your new home are part of your moving expense. Living expenses prior to the move or following the arrival in the area of the new residence are not deductible.

The cost of moving household goods and personal effects includes the actual transportation, packing and crating and in-transit storage.

Expenses in excess of a reasonable amount, under the circumstances of the particular move, may not be deducted.

Moving expenses are deductible from gross income in computing adjusted gross income, so you can deduct your moving expenses regardless of whether you elect to itemize or not.

Secure Form 3903 from the IRS and complete it fully. Attach this form to your tax return to explain the deduction you make on form 1040 on page 2, part 3, line 2.

Withdraws Offer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investors Funding Corp. said Congressional Life Insurance Co. has abandoned a plan to be acquired by Investors Funding. Investors Funding, accordingly, has withdrawn a proposed tender offer.

Air Force Pacts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — North American Rockwell Corp. has obtained two Air Force contracts totaling $4.5 million for research work on advanced aircraft designs and on liquid fuel rocket engines.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Tobacco Firms Now Reshaping Images

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. What are your thoughts on the future of tobacco stocks? — M. C.

A. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. soon will adopt a new name which will not include the word tobacco. This will complete a cycle begun last year by Liggett and Myers, followed by American Tobacco soon to be called American Brands. Although the deletion may result in an improved public image, it will not alter the basic nature of these companies.

Among the four tobacco companies that now remain as corporate entities, nontobacco products accounted for only between 12 and 28 per cent of 1968 sales figures. Total cigarette consumption in the United States dropped fractionally in the year ended last July but is expected to remain stable in the current fiscal year.

With at least three federal agencies solidly behind a ban on TV and radio cigarette advertising when the federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act expires in June, the tobacco lobby may be in for a real battle. However, the possible imposition of an advertising ban would eliminate the free time given to antismoking messages.

And certainly some of the $225 million now spent annually on radio and TV advertising would be released for diversification and improvement of financial positions. If money now spent on these forms of advertising were to flow directly to earnings, some estimates show net as much as 50 per cent higher than reported results.

If the stock market continues to deteriorate — and most indicators point in this direction — there will be some very tempting bargains among the tobacco stocks.

Antitrust News Blamed For Poor Day On Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market finished on the losing side for the second consecutive session today, but the margin was skimpy as it was on Friday.

The UPI stock market indicator was off 0.12 per cent on 1,521 issues traded. Of these, there were 677 declines, 604 advances.

A major discouragement for traders was the Justice Department's announced intention to break Ling-Temco's 63 per cent hold on Jones and Laughlin, a major steel firm, in an antitrust suit, presumably the start of a drive to cut conglomerates down to size.

A depressant also was Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy's statement that the 7 per cent investment tax credit may be too high.

Electronics, weak for the first half of the session, picked up somewhat later. A feature of the group was Collins Radio. Electronic Data Systems announced it planned an exchange offer to stockholders of Collins Radio. The latter, which had a delayed opening, was firm.

Motors also were firm and most steels were in the plus column.

Chemicals softened, led by Allied Chemical. Dow was among the few gainers in the group.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

College Of Marin To Offer Seminar On Theft Prevention

Business owners, executives and credit managers will find valuable information in a seminar starting at College of Marin next month on "Preventing Theft in Your Business."

The course is being sponsored by the college in connection with the U.S. Small Business Administration. Discussions will be led by experts in various fields of fraud and theft who have daily contact with "white collar crimes." It will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. from April 8 through May 13 at Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus.

Fee of $10 will include all materials and a "graduation" dinner on May 13 at Loch Lomond Yacht Club.

Speakers include Dr. Eugene A. Farrar of College of Marin; Tom Frazier of National Cash Register Co.; G. R. Matheis, United Pacific Insurance Group; Steven Leonesio, San Rafael manager of Macy's; Michel Felsenstein of California Locksmiths Association; author Norman F. Dacey; Bud Semrau of Albertson's, Inc.; G. E. Higgins, Fairchild Semiconductor; Inspector Jerry Souza, San Rafael Police Department; W. F. Fritsche, Bank of America; and Marin County District Attorney Bruce B. Bales.

AN UNDERWATER FILM which recently had its premiere in Santa Monica at the International Underwater Film Festival has been produced by The Film Works — recently formed division of Patterson and Hall, a San Francisco graphic design company.

The Film Works has among its four principals three Marin residents: Tom Hall of San Rafael, Chester (Chet) Patterson of Greenbrae and photographer Gordon Emberly of Larkspur.

The production, "The Privileged World," was photographed in color in the Caribbean. It was co-produced and directed by Hall.

TWO MARIN MEN have received new appointments at Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies.

Jack S. Hupp, now living in Novato, has been named assistant regional sales manager in San Francisco. He joined the organization at Seattle in 1954. His most recent assignment was the company since 1948.

Nevins

Todd

commercial lines manager in the Denver branch.

Reed E. Griffin of Mill Valley has been advanced to director

BRUCE S. NEVINS of Sausalito has been promoted to assistant to the general manager of Levi Strauss International. Before joining the organization last August he was an account executive with Benton and Bowles Advertising in New York.

Kenneth W. Todd of Novato has joined the personnel department of Levi Strauss and Co. in the new position of corporate employment manager. He had been personnel director for Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies.

CORRECTION. The John J. Adams, general manager of Cecil Whitebone, Inc., San Francisco, mentioned in our column of March 18, lives in San Rafael —not Fairfax.

PAUL E. POLING of Novato has been elected vice president of marketing for Moore Manufacturing Co., a producer of garden hoess. He has been with the company since 1959, and has served in the production department, as shipping manager, salesman and national sales manager. He will be headquartered at Moore's plant in Brisbane.

FLOYD H. WINES of San Anselmo, assistant general freight agent for Santa Fe Railway at San Francisco, will attend a six-week seminar at the University of Southern California in June for an Institute of Business Economics course. He has been with the company since 1948.

Legislature Toils To Get Its Recess

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A heavy week of work faced California legislators today before they embark on a nine-day Easter recess.

The legislators planned their first Friday meeting of the year before taking the brief vacation. Up to now, the two houses have met Monday through Thursday, taking a three-day weekend.

Clerks in the two houses will spend the time bracing themselves for the usual avalanche of proposed bills that are introduced on the final day allowing unrestricted introductions, April 6.

So far, as the session began its 1th week, some 1,144 bills and constitutional amendments have been introduced in the Assembly, and 707 in the Senate.

The assembly is scheduled to vote sometime during the week on a bill to raise the sales tax in the three San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District counties by one-half cent, to solve the system's financial woes.

It also has another transportation tax hike on file — this one to raise the state gasoline tax by one cent from April 1 through Sept. 30. The money would be used to repair state and local roads damaged in the recent storms.

Sale Set To Aid Students' Exchange

Redwood High School's International Student Exchange will hold its annual rummage sale and silent auction from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. April 11 and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 12.

Proceeds from the sale are to help pay the way for Redwood students to study abroad.

Bay Lawmaker Seeks Open Lands Preserves

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An assemblyman proposed stronger efforts today to preserve California's open lands, citing recent flood and slide damge to homes as an example of local governmental bungling of the problem.

If local government still doesn't take the initiative, he said, then "every possible avenue must be explored, including more extensive use of the police power. Effective action in the preservation of open space is mandatory, and to the extent necessary should be assumed by the state."

He noted that the recent program enacted by the legislature of allowing local government to give tax breaks to owners of open spaces, especially farmers, was "to preserve California's prime farmland as well as to contain and guide the growth of urban areas."

But, he noted, "the fact that only about 10 per cent of the land under the Land Conservation Act is either prime farm land or situated within three miles of any city seems to indicate that the present program is falling short of its mark."

Knox added, "if such failures continue to prevail, this program has little chance of long-range sucess."

Cities and counties have failed to use the power that lawmakers gave them to preserve open land, the assemblyman declared, and cited recent storm damage as a result.

"Many local governments ahve passed up the opportunity of preserving flood plains and steeply sloping areas as open-spaces, and by doing so have often permitted construction upon areas actually unsafe for residential building," Knox declared. he added:

"Not only does the community thus lose the advantages of open space, but each year homeowners pay the price of having built or purchased a home in an area where it never should have been permitted."

Only 23 of the 58 counties have used the land conservation program, Knox reported, and said another 10 might join the program this year.

He said the legislature was partly at fault for not providing enough money to help carry out the program, and for not making it clear what it wanted done.

Under the law, county supervisors may allow their tax assessor to put a lower taxable value on open land if it qualifies for the program. In the case of farmers, they must agree to keep the land for agricultural use for at least 10 years.

Miniature Countries Travelogue Slated

The Explorers Club of San Francisco will present a two-hour color travel film on "Europe's Miniature Countries" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

The movie, featuring tours of Andorra, Lichtenstein, San Marino, Monaco and the military order of Malta in Rome, will be narrated in person by its two photographers, former actresses Lisa Chickering and Jeanne Porterfield.

Oratorio Choir Will Perform

The oratorio choir of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley will present a free public performance of John Stainer's "The Crucifixion" at 8 p.m. April 24 in Broadus Hall Chapel on the Strawberry Point campus.

Dr. Carlyle Bennett, professor of church music at the seminary, will direct the presentation, and Mrs. Orine Suffern, instructor of church music in the same division, will play the organ.

Michael England, a first year master of divinity student from Mill Valley, will be bass soloist. Jerald Reeves, a second year master of religious education student from Oklahoma City, Okla., and An Tjoen Thio, a first year master of religious education student from Djakarta, Indonesia, will be tenor soloists.

Minimum Wage Hike To Be Asked

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Major reform in California's labor law, which could result in establishing a minimum wage per hour in the state of $2.12, and require automatic annual cost of living increases to that minimum wage, will be proposed in the State Assembly today by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills.

Sieroty's proposals also would extend the minimum wage protections to male employees not covered under the federal minimum wage law; require at least two women to serve on the five member Industrial Welfare Commission; require a review every three years by the commission on wages, hours, and working conditions of all California employees; redefine "minor" to mean any person under 18 years of age rather than 21; and require that minors be paid the same rate as adults when their production is comparable, but at no time would they receive less than 75 per cent of the minimum wage of adults.

The assemblyman said the proposals would increase the level of earnings of "those people at the bottom of the economic scale."

To obtain the $2.12 per hours, Sieroty calls for a change in the standard by which the Industrial Welfare Commission determines the minimum wage by giving consideration to the basic minimum needed to provide a proper living in light of the prevailing standard of living, and by establishing a minimum wage floor not less than 60 per cent of the current average hourly earnings of blue collar workers.

Another part of the package calls for the Industrial Welfare Commission to provide automatic annual cost of living increases in the minimum wage.

Car Stereo Theft

Fred Lloyd Quirin of 684 Blackberry Lane, Marinwood, reported to San Rafael police Friday that his car stereo set was taken between 7:45 a.m. and 5:40 p.m. while the auto was parked at Terra Linda High School.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Columnist Calls For Federal Action On Tobacco-Cancer Link

VAN DELLEN

There is overwhelming evidence that the danger of lung cancer increases in direct proportion to how long cigarets have been used and the amount of smoke inhaled. Tobacco manufacturers and their advisers are not ready to accept these reports.

While the controversy continues, each year 50,000 smokers die of cancer of the bronchi and neighboring tissues.

WE RECEIVE MANY letters about our government's casual approach to the problem. On one hand, rigid regulations are passed against the use of drugs with side reactions. They forbid the sale of foods containing additives that have never hurt humans but cause skin cancers when rubbed on mice.

Yet these groups refuse to take a stand on cigarettes even though there is incriminating evidence against tobacco. They say it is not a food or drug.

But the federal government has reasons for its stand. Health department officials may be against the habit, but the agriculture and internal revenue services are all for it.

THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY is not a group to lock horns with. It is a powerful economic structure. For example, the six major manufacturers employ 36,000 persons in three states. Annually, the industry spends approximately $160 million in advertising.

But this is not all. Tobacco is grown on 600,000 farms located mainly in 10 states. Currently this unique crop yields an average of 2,000 pounds per acre for most varieties.

TOBACCO SELLS for 65 cents a pound with a return per acre of $1,300 (before expenses). It is the highest-value crop, per acre, grown in the United States.

Tobacco farmers and their families also are part of our citizenry. As a result, the United States department of agriculture is under obligation to subsidize and teach these individuals how to grow better tobacco.

Yes, embarrassing as this is, the left hand does know what the right hand is up to.

MANIA FOR OIL

R. M. writes: This concerns my father, who has a gall bladder ailment. He has a mania for oil and is drinking olive oil like it was going out of style. Vomiting and belching are causing constant distress. Do you think his remedy for gall bladder should be continued?

REPLY

Not if the treatment is worse than the disease. Furthermore, oil stimulates the organ. If there is definite X-ray evidence of a diseased gall bladder, surgery may solve your father's problem.

BLOOD AND ARTHRITIS

A reader writes: Does arthritis make the blood count go down?

REPLY

Anemia occurs in rheumatoid arthritis, but not in the other types. This blood condition is difficult to treat because it stems from the toxic effects of the basic disease and usually corrects itself when the joint manifestations subside.

ADULT HAS NIGHTMARES

REPLY

Nightmares reflect the daytime activities and therapy is directed toward what goes on while the person is awake. The easiest to cure are those that occur when the person eats before retiring or takes sleeping pills. There is some consolation in knowing that even though all your dreams won't come true, neither will your nightmares.

BUNION REPAIR AND AGE

N. T. C writes: When is a person too old for bunion surgery?

REPLY

Age is not so important as the individual's health and the condition of the circulation in the lower extremities.

NEEDS BIFOCALS

G. R. writes: Is it injurious to the eyes to use reading glasses that fuzz up all but near objects?

REPLY

No, but why torture yourself? Be fitted for bifocals and, in this way, you can have your cake and eat it.

DENTURES AND YAWNING

Mrs. J. writes: Ever since my husband was fitted with new dentures, he yawns all day long. The dentist said the new teeth had nothing to do with it. Do you agree?

REPLY

EAR NOISES

R. E. writes: Does ringing of the ears eventually lead to deafness?

REPLY

No. These noises may precede or accompany deafness but they do not cause hearing loss. Among the causes of ear ringing are obstruction of the eustachian tube or taking too much quinine.

CONTROLLING GOUT

Mr. E. writes: Can gout be cured?

REPLY

Gout is remediable, but not curable. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on gout.

VEIN STRIPPING

B. D. writes: I would like to know if varicose veins can be removed from the leg through an operation?

REPLY

Yes, and surgery is the best remedy. There is a procedure that is done under anesthesia in which the veins are stripped out from two small incisions.

Truck Hits Ditch; Driver Is Injured

Arthur Langley, 25, of 71 Longwood Drive, San Rafael, suffered cuts on the scalp and left knee Friday morning when he swerved his truck into a ditch near 2145 Centro East to avoid an oncoming car, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Langley was driving westbound when he moved toward the shoulder to avoid the other car on the narrow road, officers said. His right front wheel dipped into a ditch, which was hidden by high weeds, and struck a driveway abutment, police reported. The accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. Langley was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Boy, 13, Wins Eighth-Grade Speech Trophy

Richard Katerndahl, a 13-year-old eighth grader at St. Raphael's School, San Rafael, won the countywide speech competition for eighth graders Friday at St. Raphael's School auditorium.

Riachard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Katerndahl of 31 Roberts Avenue, San Rafael, received a trophy in the contest sponsored by the Men's Club of St. Raphael's Parish.

Judges were Anita G. Strom, former member of the San Rafael Board of Education; Rev. Angus Dunn, president of the Marin County Council of Churches, and Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Old School Is Topic

Possible uses for an old three-room building at Lagunitas School will be discussed when the Lagunitas School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the school. The building has been abandoned for class use because it does not meet earthquake-resistance standards.

Murphy Asks End To Limit On Acreage

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Legislation to abandon "unrealistic, uneconomic, unjust and obsolete" provisions of the Reclamation Law of 1902 that require that beneficiaries of federal irrigation projects limit their land holdings to 160 acres, was introduced today by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

His bill would increase the limit to 640 acres, and provide for further increases in the limitation every 10 years.

Farmers whose holdings are within the limit qualify for interest-free financing for irrigation.

Murphy said his bill was prepared by Gov. Ronald Reagan's task force that studied the limitation last year.

Things have changed dramatically in agriculture since the 1902 "concept of the dawn-to-dusk farmer and his one and only horse," Murphy said in a statement prepared for delivery on the Senate floor. "Nostalgia must not blind us to reality," he declared, adding that the change would benefit consumers through reduced prices for agricultural products.

Officials Ask Oil Well Curb

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Officials of 24 coastal cities and counties have called on the state Legislature to establish more local controls over the granting of permits for oil exploration.

The informal agreement came following a Saturday night meeting of some 45 local officials at Santa Barbara, site of an offshore oil well blowout that coated miles of Southern California beaches with crude oil last month.

The informal agreement called for legislation to set up federal sanctuaries against drilling to extend from where state sanctuaries now exist, for more local controls on granting permits for oil exploration through public hearings, for a greater local share in state oil royalties for cities particularly susceptible to spill problems and for state administration and inspection of facilities on federal submerged lands.
